

KITCHEN EXPERT PROMISES MANY HELPFUL HINTS

When Miss Hester Heath, expert home economist, comes to Medford next Wednesday to conduct The Mail Tribune's big, free cooking school, she will bring with her a multitude of helpful suggestions and hints in her "Happy Kitchen" program.

This program will cover every phase of kitchen problems and The Mail Tribune is proud to be able to present to the housewives of this city such a recognized authority on cooking as Miss Heath.

Every housewife will want to hear this ingenious culinary artist in her four interesting sessions. This will be no exposition of showy party dishes—the kind that you serve to company only; but there will be actual demonstrations of the proper methods for cooking roasts, pies, steaks, cakes, the preparation of salads; new breakfast dishes; hints on entertaining; suggestions to help make cooking more fun so that every housewife may have a "Happy Kitchen."

"Salads for every day" and "salads for special occasions" will be two of the interesting subjects which Miss Heath will cover in her cooking school program. This recognized cooking expert says: "Salads play an ever-increasing part in the life of the kitchen. Grandmother used to serve her flock with potatoes and beef and bread and coffee and big pieces of pie.

"Daughter began varying the meals and making them a little smaller; salads took a place as a real member of the dietetic family. Nowadays, granddaughter has a salad with almost every meal, except breakfast.

"Some salads make up a whole luncheon, and many salads take the double role of salad and dessert, at dinner. At any rate, the salad is here in numbers, and the real home-maker must know how to use it! I like to label this knowledge "salad sense"—the ability to provide a number of salads for every occasion, and the knack of fixing a suitable dressing for every salad.

Today's hostess must know the correct salad for every meal and every occasion—and which dressing is appropriate. No one dressing should be used on all salads.

Miss Heath says that the knowledge of what salad to serve and what dressing to serve with it, is very easy to acquire. It is just as simple to prepare the correct salad and dressing, as it is to prepare the incorrect ones.

These are just a few of the ideas that housewives will find at The Mail Tribune's cooking school. Miss Heath has made an enviable reputation for herself and talks to tens of thousands of housewives annually in scores of Western towns. She will conduct four sessions, 2 to 4 o'clock each afternoon, in Hunt's Crater theater. Plan to be there every day!

Sardine Creek

SARDINE CREEK, May 26.—(Sp.)—Mrs. E. C. Tene was pleasantly surprised on her birthday recently, by her step-son, John Simpson and wife of Medford, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sig Ash also of Medford who drove down for the day. Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Wait were also dinner guests.

Alice Dusenberry and Jean Smith were among the sophomores of the Gold Hill high school who attended a banquet given at Jacksonville to the sophomores of that school and Gold Hill, by Mrs. Edith Fenwick Hewitt who was a teacher in the G. H. H. S. last year but now teaches in Jacksonville.

A number of Gold Hill high school girls chaperoned by their teacher, Miss Rhoda Cheney hiked to the house of mystery Saturday for a good time and also to make points in their physical education.

Mr. Reinking who has purchased the Bradbear place below Footh Creek has added more cows to his herd as is pictured on the Pierce place at the mouth of the creek. And is now milking about 30 head.

Ralph Dusenberry left Friday for Fresno, Calif., to drive a logging truck for Robert Grimmert, who has a contract for putting in several million feet of logs. He will run his trucks until snow falls. Ralph worked in the same camp two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith are having a fireplace built in their house which with a front porch added will complete their modern home.

Mrs. H. H. Elhart and son Billy drove down from Ashland May 19 to spend Mother's day with her mother, Mrs. Eva Newton.

Mrs. E. A. Dusenberry and son Arthur and Sylvia Croft, were Grants Pass visitors Thursday afternoon.

A social dance was given at the community hall here Saturday night. Music was furnished by a mixed orchestra, and an enjoyable time had by those attending.

Mrs. C. L. Dusenberry and son Donald of Gold Hill, spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. S. A. Dusenberry.

Miss Mary Adamson closed her second year of school here Friday with a picnic dinner at noon. Miss Adamson has other plans for next year and it is understood the school board hired Mrs. Cecil Johnson of Gold Hill to teach the ensuing year.

Many from here attended the graduation exercises at Gold Hill high school Wednesday. Two local girls, Edith Dusenberry and Madge Croft were among the class of eleven.

LEGIONNAIRES URGED TO ATTEND SERVICES

All Legionnaires are asked to attend Memorial services to be held at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Announcement was issued by L. C. Garlock, commander of the Medford post, this morning, urging a large attendance of local men.
