Berry Festival Enjoyed, Church

The largest crowd of the year gathered Tuesday afternoon for the regular meeting of the Bible class in the Presbyterian church parlors. It was Mrs. Field's annual strawberry festival and over seventy women enjoyed her hospitality.

Mrs. O. B. Morrow opened the meeting by reading the 143d Psalm, a psalm of David. After a short business meeting, presided over by the new president, Mrs. Chaney, a piano solo was given by Jeanette Field. Following this she gave a short musical reading.

Mrs. Goodnight led an informal discussion concerning budgeting vacation time. The program was concluded with two pleasing local numbers by Mrs. Edith Garrett.

During the social hour that followed each guest was served a generous helping of strawberry shortcake as well as other cakes and coffee.

Mrs. Field was assisted by Mesdames Harvey Field, DeWitt, Albert, Cleaves, Woods and Phillips in entertaining.

Dinner Party Enjoyed Thursday

Mrs. H. F. Nordwick, Mrs. Guy Esterlee and Miss Myrna Barrett were hostesses for a dinner Thursday evening at the First M. E. church for the Alpha Sigma class. Sprays of yellow flowers and orchid candles decorated the tables for the pleasant occasion.

W. R. C. to Have Covered Dish Luncheon

The Women's Relief Corps will entertain with a covered dish luncheon Tuesday noon at the Presbyterian church for members of the corps and their families. All comrades of the Civil War have been invited as special guests, also all corps members visiting here. Members are asked to bring their own service.

Washington Graduates Honored at Party

The Sixth A class of the Washington school was entertained Friday at a party arranged by the members Mrs. Thomas Freed as chairman.

Mrs. George Canode, teacher in the Washington school for many years, was presented with a beautiful book for her room. Principal Tucker was given a check to be spent on whatever is needed for the school, and Miss Lynch was also presented a gift. Seventeen members of the graduating class who will enter junior high school next week, started school with Mrs. Canode as teacher.

Short talks were given by Mrs. Canode and Mr. Tucker. Louise Kee-see voiced the farewell of the class to the school.

Goodrich Brings Story of Music's History to Club

One of the most interesting and informative lectures of the year was brought to Medford Post-Delphians Tuesday afternoon when the annual musical program was held at the home of Mrs. E. A. Moore, with Frederick Goodrich, president of the Oregon Music Teachers' association and organist of St. Mary's cathedral of Portland, as guest speaker.

The history of music was told by Mr. Goodrich, who lamented his own belief that the opera, oratorio and symphony are now fighting for their lives in a mechanical age, which fails to appreciate their value.

Mr. Goodrich divided his lecture into three periods of musical history: the Gregorian chant, the renaissance and the reformation. The first period was characterized by church music, almost exclusively. During the renaissance the opera, oratorio and symphony developed, the oratorio at that time always accompanied by appropriate settings and costumes. During the reformation the church divisions, developing, had their effect upon music and the interpretation of melody gained precedence over the word emphasis of preceding periods.

Music, as all other learning has during history, been subject to rise and fall. Mr. Goodrich explained, advancing during one period, retarding during another, the present era, he described as a standstill.

Explaining the struggle which the opera, symphony and oratorio are now facing, Mr. Goodrich stated that the "prima donna complex" has been responsible for much of opera's failure. In the orchestra classification, the laid failure to the lack of American conductors, showing that a certain antipathy for the abundance of foreign leaders, has brought a decline in orchestra patronage. Just one orchestra, that in Rochester, now boasts an American conductor. Absence of scenery and costumes, which brought the oratorio into first prominence, the Portland artist blamed for

Benson Pupils In Recital Saturday

Eva Benson will present her pupils in a dance recital Saturday, June 3, for which pupils have been preparing for many weeks to assure the public a splendid evening's entertainment. Music for the occasion will be played by Sebastian Apollo, well known local artist, and Miss Margaret Osenbruge. The program will be presented on the Craterian theater stage.

Following are the numbers: "Springtime in Japan," a most colorful group dance of 20 dancers. "Two Tickets for Georgia," a clever tap number with pantomime. "Acrobatic," by a group of seven youngsters who excel in balancing, tumbling, walking on their hands and some aerial work. The first locally staged. "Tulip Time," a quaint Dutch number. An unusual song and rhythm tap dance. A jockey number by four of the cutest little artists. "Hungarian Czardas," a most attractive group number by five dancers. "Variety Taps," rhythm buck solo. "Jig Time," by three peppy young misses. "Duet Tap," by a clever girl and boy. "The Dying Swan," one of the most beautiful toe numbers ever rendered by a local dancer. This number was the incomparable Pavlova's favorite and taught to Eva Benson personally by Michel Fokine at Chicago, who originated it. "Drum Corps Taps," by five soldiers. "Dainty Misses," a graceful number by four little colonial girls. "Ballet des Fleures," a beautiful group number with an unusually artistic setting.

A clever solo tap dance by a boy, followed by two tiny girls and a tiny boy.

A musical comedy lineup of six high school girls and two boys.

Brings Women Message

"The Little Things in Life" are mighty important things when they are centered in the kitchen," says Miss Hester Heath, well-known culinary artist who will conduct The Mail Tribune's cooking school at Hunt's Craterian May 31, June 1 and 2.

Miss Heath does not recommend a lot of "fancy gardens," but she says that good work demands good tools and stresses the absolute importance of having the proper implements and equipment if one is to cook successfully.

"The Little Things in Life"—expressed in can-openers, egg beaters, paring knives, measuring spoons and corkscrews—are all so important for the success of a smooth-working kitchen and a happy housewife, according to Miss Heath.

"No matter how cheerful a woman may be when she enters her kitchen, no matter how her heart sings—by the time she has ruined her finger-nails with a treacherous "old-time" grater or struggled with a stubborn can-opener, you have one perfectly good disposition ruined; and the result is a cranky cook. The song files out the chimney—and there you are!"

Miss Heath has delved deeply into all the troubles—real and imagined—that confront every housewife and she will bring to the women of Medford many new ideas of the art of cookery and home management.

These are just a few of the clever ways the modern housewife can utilize her everyday appliances and tools and stresses the absolute importance of having the proper implements and equipment if one is to cook successfully.

Miss Heath has a world of fascinating hints and suggestions to tell Medford housewives. She has a very real insight into every-day problems of the kitchen and her modern and useful suggestions are meant to stay forever that dragon "drudgery" and to open the doors for sunshine and gaiety—to help each housewife create in her own home a "Happy Kitchen."

You will enjoy every one of Miss Heath's interesting lectures and actual demonstrations. The sessions will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock to 4 o'clock each afternoon.

Activities of Legion Auxiliary

By Mrs. Cole Holmes

The social evening given by the Auxiliary in honor of Mother's day and the thirteenth anniversary of Medford unit was a delightful affair. There were 30 mothers and four Gold Star mothers present. The program for the evening included:

A Skit—Girl Scout Troop No. 4. (This troop is sponsored by Medford unit).

Meaning and Origin of Mothers Day—Miss Jane Dixon.

Song—"That Wonderful Mother of Mine"—Miss Gladys Watson.

Dance, The Dance of the Paper Doll—Roberta Edwards.

Piano Selection—"The Swallows"—Roger Olmstead.

Duet—Corrine and Nola Harwood. Recitation—Beverly Leach.

Violin Selection, Minuet in G (by Beethoven)—Viola Cleven, accompanied by Janet Shreve.

Songs—Auxiliary Music Club.

After the program refreshments were served by the committee in charge of Mrs. Georgia Holloway, assisted by Mesdames Edwards, Parker and Bricker.

All Auxiliary members are reminded that Tuesday, May 30, is Memorial day, and all patriotic organizations are asked to march in the parade that is to start at the city park at 9:30 a. m. All members are asked to be on the corner of Ivy and West Main streets (city park) at 9:15 a. m.

The memorial committee, under Mrs. Ray Wright, waxed large poppies and made sprays to be put on the graves of all ex-service men and Auxiliary members of Jackson county. This committee tries to visit every grave on the list.

Mrs. Carol Parker would like the members to help fill the supply shelf again with jellies, jams and other foods. The Auxiliary has a few more families in need of supplies.

The Auxiliary wishes to thank the Medford Domestic Laundry and the radio station (KMBD) for the time donated to advertising the poppy sale on Tuesday and Thursday of the past week. We are grateful to the public for the support given us during the annual poppy sale.

The annual memorial service will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. Each and every member is asked to be present.

Grandmother Pays New Baby A Visit

She's the daughter of a former Jacksonville mining man and she has come to the Rogue River valley during a period of renewed interest in mining, but she isn't here in pursuit of gold. She came to welcome her new grand daughter. That's Mrs. Reba Wurts' story. She arrived a short time ago from Oakland, Cal. to be guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wurts, who are the parents of a very little daughter, Janet Elaine.

Mrs. Wurts never lived at Jacksonville, but her father did until he recovered a fortune in gold. He was also the first importer of white turkeys to this country from Holland. His name was Andrew Jackson Snyder.

New Baritone At Dr. Shockey's Home

Medford has a new songster. And his father will soon be making application for his entrance in the Medford Gleemen. "For he can sing" says his father, Dr. E. W. Shockey. The new songster's name is Phillip Nelson Shockey and he weighs just six pounds and five ounces. He arrived early yesterday morning at the Sacred Heart hospital, where he and his mother were reported getting along nicely last evening.

Don't extend credit to Mr. New Customer until you find out from the Southern Oregon Credit Bureau how he paid the other fellows.

SHIP YOUR PRODUCTS IN WOOD

The wood box manufacturers of Southern Oregon are making an intensive effort at this time to acquaint the shipper with the desirable features of the wooden container for the packing and shipment of a wide range of commodities. The wood box industry is intelligently entering into the problem of marketing potatoes, carrots and other vegetables in wooden crates. This industry is particularly important in Southern Oregon because the timber is largely pine, and pine is the most desirable for box woods. The box factory payroll is an important one in Southern Oregon, distributing large sums in wages. Every individual and every business, either directly or indirectly, benefits from this industry. If you would like to help the wood box industry, one way would be to lose no opportunity to express your appreciation of those products that are shipped in wood boxes.

Most of the wood box factories in Southern Oregon are using modern electrical machinery because of its efficiency and the low fire hazard. An interested visitor would be surprised at the number of large, up-to-date, wood box factories located in the Southern Oregon pine belt and the exceptional quality of the product they turn out. These wood boxes are superior in every way and the products shipped in them show a minimum of loss in shipping and storage.
