CRATERS GIVE CHIEFS OF FORESTRY CORPS BANQUET BURLESQUE

It was "Civilian Conservation Corps night" at the Craters yesterday evening and a large gathering of members of the Craters club and guests assembled to welcome Major Clarence H. Armstrong and Captain Edmund Nelson Hobert to southern Oregon. A rousing typically Crater reception was given the army heads of the reforestation activities in this section of Oregon following a banquet in the basement dining room of the Hotel Medford.

Earle Davis stepped into the role of the Major, delivering a stirring address of appreciation for the reception before Major Armstrong could gain the floor. His talk was followed, however, by brief and appropriate words from the major himself.

A clever skit, in the form of a take-off on the conservation corps activities, was a feature of the evening's entertainment with Earle Davis, Roy Shreve, Horace Bromley, Verne Shangle, Lee Bishop, Heinie Fluhrer and Roy Finch in the cast. Sebastian Apollo delighted the Craters and guests with piano selections while George Peckam offered two solos which were enthusiastically received. E. O. "Jerry" Jerome, Big Eruption of the Crater club, presided over the meeting.

the fulfillment of his duty, and voiced the hope that there be "no dimming of the fire in the hearts of such men when the welfare of the people requires it."

Proceeding then, unveiling the annual Memorial Day parade, honoring the nation's war dead proceeded down Main street to Bear creek bridge, where flowers were strewn upon the water. Ever-thinning ranks of the Civil War veterans was noticeable, with only four soldiers in the line of march. They were Judge Wm. L. Colvig, J. C. Woods, Polk Hull and Frank Mengo.

Patriots March
Only patriotic and fraternal organizations were in the procession, and no floats were entered.
Major Clarence H. Armstrong, commander of the C. C. forces here, led the parade, on horseback, and was followed by the Elks band, Company A, and Headquarters company of the National Guard were next in line, with the Civil War veterans and the Women's Relief corps following.

Daughters of Union Veterans were in the procession followed by the Spanish War Veterans and the auxiliary. Music was played by the high school band, which group was followed by the American Legion, and children of Legionnaires. A large flag was carried by the Legion auxiliary in the procession, and in one car in the parade were gold star mothers.

Marching were the Children of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Revolution, and the Boy Scouts.
William L. Colvig, past commander of the department of Oregon, G. A. R., was in charge of the regular Memorial day services conducted in the park following the unveiling and Rev. W. H. Eaton gave the invocation. Orders were read by Comrade J. C. Woods, and the Gettysburg address was given by Judge Colvig.

The main address of the service was presented by Rev. W. J. Howell of the Presbyterian church. Vicar chairs, in memory of the departed, were decorated by representatives of patriotic organizations.

Arrangements for today's program were in charge of Col W. H. Paine.

"Hell Below" Will Show at Craterian

"Hell Below," thriller of submarine warfare, with Robert Montgomery, Walter Huston, Madge Evans, Jimmy Durante, Eugene Pallette and Robert Young in the cast, opens Wednesday at the Craterian theatre as one of the most anticipated playoffs of the year. Based on Commander Edward Ellsberg's famous book, "Pigebacks," the picture unfolds a terrifically moving romance set amid thrills under the sea, on the water and in the air, in a vivid narrative of fighting in the Mediterranean off the coast of Italy.

Montgomery was given his most difficult acting assignment in this picture in which he plays a lieutenant on a United States submarine who is at constant odds with his commander. Walter Huston, who recently received critical huzzahs for his work in "Gabriel Over the White House," enacts the commander.

G. PASS EXHORTED TO FIGHT CUTOFF TILLER TO TRAIL

GRANTS PASS MAY 30.—(Sp.)—O. S. Blanchard, Grants Pass attorney, spoke to the members of the chamber of commerce at the Monday forum luncheon in opposition to the Tiller-Trail road extending from Douglas county to Jackson county, stating that the citizens of Grants Pass must fight this proposition and present their claims before the highway commission in an effort to defeat and overcome the idea of the road improvement.

This proposed stretch of 50 miles would cut off seven miles distance between Roseburg and southern Oregon and would be built at an expenditure of $2,000,000, Blanchard stated. A highway estimate for the Pacific highway between Grants Pass and Roseburg recently showed that an equal amount of mileage could be eliminated in curves and grades at a cost of only $500,000, the speaker emphasized.

If such a road were built, Grants Pass would be obliterated from southern travel on the Pacific highway together. The local chamber of commerce is now fighting the measure and recently word was received that the Roseburg chamber of commerce will stand behind those opposing the construction, stating that, although they would like a road through the Tiller-Trail region and expected to get one in future years, it is not deemed advisable to build one at this time.

With the Grants Pass chamber of commerce and its associates combining in an effort to divert attention to the present Pacific highway instead of a needless expenditure on a new road, every effort is to be made to defeat the proposition, Mr. Blanchard stated.

with Robt. Montgomery Walter Huston Madge Evans Jimmy Durante Robt. Young

W. D. Powell, prison storekeeper, gave an account of what happened within the walls. He said the prisoners were watching a baseball game in the yard when he noticed the physical director stand up with his hands in the air. He glanced around and saw two or three other prisoners put a wire around Warden Prather's neck and walk over toward one of the guard posts, near where Powell was standing.

Overpower Guards
Powell believed there were eight prisoners in the group. They drew revolvers, quickly overpowered the two nearest guards, and forced the warden to command a guard on one post to throw down his rifle. They then went to post No. 3, and forced the guard there to throw down his rifle and the keys to the stairway leading to the top of the wall. They then walked up, holding the officers behind them, lowered a ladder over the wall, and climbed down.
