

JUDGE ANNOUNCES COMING TUESDAY FOR BALLOT TRIAL

Official notice was received yesterday by county officials and attorneys for both sides that Circuit Judge George F. Skipworth of Lane county, assigned to this district, would be here Tuesday, June 6, to hear motions and pleas in the Jackson county ballot theft case.

The preliminary motions and arguments are expected to take the better part of three days, after which the court will set the dates of trials.

The state has reported that it is ready for trial and a number of the defendants have announced their desire for a speedy trial—some requesting that their cases be heard before the Banks murder case.

While no definite announcement has been made, it is not expected that a change of venue will be sought, or affidavits of prejudice filed. One defendant has hinted he might follow this course.

The defendants have a right, under Oregon law, to demand a separate trial, though jointly indicted and it is anticipated this course will be followed.

During the motion and argument period the state will file its order of trial and which defendant will be tried first.

Twenty-three men, including six John Does, were involved for the ballot thefts, which occurred during and after a "Good Government Congress" meeting held on the night of February 20. Recount of the ballots in the contest between Suspended Sheriff Schermerhorn and former Sheriff Ralph G. Jennings had been ordered by the circuit court.

The next morning when attorneys and others went to the court house basement vault, on court orders to fit keys and take the ballots to the court room, it was discovered 46 of the ballot containers had been stolen. The recount was automatically halted.

In the investigation that followed it was discovered that some of the ballots had been burned in the court house furnace and others burned and hidden in the area between Rogue River and Rich. The first arrests in the case were started the following Saturday night.

Later the grand jury, of which Theodore J. Bell, Jr., of Talent is the foreman, returned indictments against County Judge E. H. Fehli; Suspended Sheriff Schermerhorn; Walter Jones, mayor of Rogue River; John Glenn, former county jailer; Arthur LaDieu, former Banks business manager, and others, "Good Government Congress" members, "Banks" guards or "court house loafers."

A hint of one angle of the probable defense to be used was given by Jones in his testimony at the Banks murder trial. Jones testified that he was at the court house on the night of the ballot thefts, acting as an outside guard. He said he had heard a report that the "congress" meeting was to be broken up and protective steps were taken.

Attorney A. C. Hough of Grants Pass; H. Von Schmals of Burns, Ore., and Thomas J. Enright appear as counsel of record for County Judge Fehli and several of the other defendants.

Attorneys E. E. Kelly and Frank DeSouza were named by the court to defend the eight men who entered pleas of guilty.

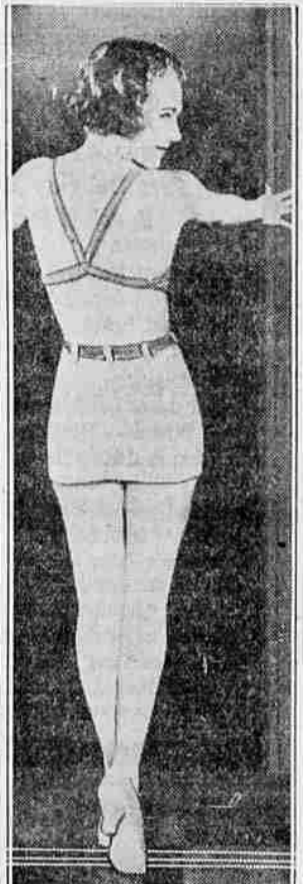

Attorney Frank J. Newman, a friend of many years, appears as counsel for Suspended Sheriff Gordon L. Schermerhorn.

The state will be represented by Assistant Attorney General Ralph E. Moody, District Attorney George A. Coddling and Deputy District Attorney George W. Nelson.

Answering The Call Of The Beaches

Surf And Sand Invite—So Shoreward Rush The Season's Newest Costumes

Beaches are beginning to call, and here's one answer, a backless bathing suit designed to find its place in the sun quite easily—if there's the least bit of sun. Ruby Keeler is wearing it.

Nor is Lons Andre to be outdone in this matter of up-to-date wear for the fashionable resorts. Quite effective is the diagonal use of the striped material for the upper part of the suit, with trunks of navy blue.

Resort styles have in mind the swimmers who really swim and those who loil the hours away on the sand. For instance, there's the honey-colored, turban-like cap that Jean Parker is wearing. Helen Vincent wears a Turkish toweling costume in red and white with a jaunty cap, and Frances Dee displays a wrap-around skirt with a suit of yellow, navy and green stripes and blue trunks. Navy slacks are included.

VALLEY SCHOOL CLOSES SEASON WITH PROGRAM

Marking completion of another year's progress toward accomplishment of an education, aimed to prepare its followers to live life more nearly to its full, class day was held at the Valley school this morning.

The annual observations opened with a program, attended by a capacity crowd of patrons and friends of the school, and closed with a delightful luncheon served on the sunny terrace.

Four students, who have completed the seven years course offered by the school, were presented with books by Alfred S. V. Carpenter, who made the closing address.

In the graduating group were: Emily Scherer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Scherer; Nancy Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clark; Alicia Ruhl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ruhl; W. Ruhl, and Spencer Willis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. S. Willis.

A clever little play, smacking of Mother Goose rhymes, and entitled, "The Shop in Pudding Lane" formed an inviting beginning for the program, tempting audience as well as children to journey down the lane with Master Goody.

In the cast were: First Customer.....Patsy GoBauer Second Customer.....Billy Patzon Third Customer.....Harriet Hart Fourth Customer.....Donny Brown Master Goody.....Alicia Ruhl Audience.....Ruth Johnson The Muffin Man.....Spencer Willis Price Plumbing.....Jeanne Salade Bo-Beep.....Barbara Schuler Dame Sprat.....Deborah Tummy Master Sprat.....Nancy Day Miss Muffett.....Susan Vilas Sonny Sprat.....Paul Johnson Tom, the Piper's Son.....Charity Hart The Queen of Hearts.....Nancy Clark Humpty Dumpty.....Billy Salade

Each play was presented with a surprising ease and self reliance, the children entering the characterizations with enthusiasm, unhampered in the second by the foreign language adopted for expression.

A charming musical contribution to the program was a French song, "Chanson de Florian," sung by Jeanne Salade. Charity Hart entertained with a chalk talk, displaying her knowledge of geography and civics as well as ability with the pencil.

Three original poems were read by Emily Scherer, whose pen had jumped with apparent ease from a very serious vein to a catchy bit of humor.

"Ske Boat Song," sung by the girls' chorus, was another pleasing number, taking full advantage of the opportunities offered in the blending of sweet young voices.

BIG DOLLY VARDEN SWALLOWS SNAKE

BEND, Ore., June 2.—(AP)—From Paxton ripples on the lower Deschutes river, near Meena, today came one of the strangest fish stories of the 1933 season. It recounted as a fact that a nine-pound Dolly Varden trout captured and ate a rattlesnake and then topped off the meal with a 10-inch water dog.

The rattler and the water dog were found in the interior of the huge trout when the fish was dressed by Warm Springs Indians. The snake bore two rattles and a button.

Corroborating witnesses: Harry Keller and J. Parker, both of Bend.

Home Mortgage Moratorium Aim

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt advised Representative Hartley (R., N. J.), today he would call for a moratorium on home mortgage foreclosures as soon as the home loan mortgage bill is approved by congress.

Nervous, Pains in Side

Junction City, Oregon.—A few years ago I became very nervous, also suffered from headaches and pains in my back, side and limbs. I was in bed about one month. The doctor gave me very little help," said Mrs. John Wright of Greenwood St. "I started taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and noticed a big change after using the second bottle and when I had finished the sixth bottle I can truthfully say my nerves were normal. I slept fine at night, felt strong and well again and the pains and aches had left me." Sold by all druggists.
