FISH ARE FRANTIC IF HANDS WASHED IN LADDER WATER

Visitors to the fishways at the Ray Gold dam can behold a queer phenomena of fish life, by the simple process of washing their hands, in the churned waters as they tumble over the power dam. The result is something for wonderment, and to cause Ripley to draw a "Believe It or Not" picture.

The exhibition was staged yesterday by Ralph Cowgill, engineer for the state game commission, while a thousand or more salmon were endeavoring to make their way up the ladder. They were milling around in rapids and pools within an area of 100 feet, intent on gaining the calm waters above the dam.

Cowgill ordered a Mail Tribune reporter to wash his hands in the fishway, and himself did the same. In about a minute, the scores of salmon started to act crazily, leap in the water, rush into pools and wash the water into foam, and decamp for the other side of Rogue River in great haste. In two minutes, where before there had been hundreds of fish, not a fin nor a tail was in sight. Cowgill said he did not know what made the salmon act the way they did, thought it might be instinct, and said it was a job for scientists. It was all very strange and interesting.

Cowgill declared that "if the washing of hands causes such a commotion, what happens when a poacher enters the fishway with boots and pants." He said this was one reason why the fish of late, had been away from the fishways.

A special state police guard is being maintained at the Ray Gold dam to prevent poaching.

Recently three men—E. Hogue of Medford, W. H. Penninger of Central Point, and J. H. Sawyer of Medford were arrested by Officer Walker for poaching at the Ray Gold dam and fined $100 by justice of the Peace W. R. Coleman.

It was also reported that another poacher last week slipped while in the fishway and nearly drowned before hauled ashore by his companions.

Home from Portland—Mrs. B. R. Elliott, returning from Portland this morning, kept spent the past few days in the northern city.

URGE TRUCKMEN DISREGARD LAW

SALEM, Ore. June 8.—(AP)—Truck owners will be urged by President A. C. Anderson of the truck owners' and farmers' protective association to refrain from making applications and payments under provisions of the state bus and truck act which becomes effective July 1.

The action was voted at an executive meeting of the association held here last night. Anderson is to ask the truck men to disregard the coming law "until the association has had opportunity to take legal steps to protect them."

The association "holds the law liable to work a hardship on a large number of truck owners, laborers, and business enterprises connected with trucks and trucking." It was declared. Plea for a special session of the legislature to revise the truck act was intimated last night at the meeting.

GEORGIA TEDRICK CALLED TO REST

Georgia F. Tedrick, wife of George Tedrick and a resident of Medford, practically all her life, passed away at a local hospital Wednesday evening.

Georgia Spies was born in Medford, August 11, 1908, where she attended grade schools and later high school, and leaves a host of friends who will be deeply grieved because of her going.

Mr. and Mrs. Tedrick resided at 616 South Ivy street. She leaves besides her husband two children, Freddie Lee and Patricia Joan, aged 4 and 3, respectively. Also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Spies, formerly of Medford but now of Los Molinos, Cal.; and two brothers, William Spies Jr., Donald and Billie Spies, and Mrs. Everett Hamlin, all residing in California. Funeral services will be held at the Conger chapel at 2:30 Saturday.

PROOF THAT NEW FACE POWDER WON'T MAKE BLOTCHES

Many face powders are made out of cosmetics which darken when the oil in the preparation strikes them.

Perfume comes out through the openings of your pores and the oil along with it. Every pore which is giving out oil is darkening the powder around the opening of the pore. Thus you have dark spots around the pores and white spots between them, making an ugly, blotchy face of blotches, especially on the nose.

The new Mello-glo Face Powder contains none of these inferior cosmetics which are so easily darkened by the oil in your perspiration. Prove it for yourself. Powder one side of your nose with another powder. Powder the other side with the new Mello-glo. In five minutes, let your mirror give you the answer. We challenge the world to produce a finer and more luxurious face powder than the new Mello-glo. The new Mello-glo formula is the formula used by the most exclusive cosmeticians in New York and Paris. You don't buy face powder to make your face look blotchy and blotchy. Therefore, do not waste your money on powders that you are not sure of. Ask for Mello-glo Face Powder by name. Look for the name Mello-glo Face Powder on the gold box. Refuse the unfair offer of "something just as good" which may blanch your face. Ask for Mello-glo by name and get it. 50¢ and $1. Tax free. Jarmin & Woods Drug Store.

Advice of a Nurse

Springfield, Ore.—"Before the birth of my son every part of my body seemed to be out of sorts. I had no appetite, backache, no energy, felt dizzy and faint, my hands and feet would puff, and I thought I would never be strong again," said Mrs. M. J. Webber of 259 A St. "Mother had me take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it was remarkable how quickly I picked up. I had no more weakness and gave birth to a very healthy baby."
