GOOD PROGRESS MADE IN CHOICE LA DIEU JURORS

Frank W. Houston, Phoenix storekeeper, was the first juror examined. He admitted he signed a "Good Government Congress" membership card and had attended, "but one meeting, the last one held in the armory. Houston said he was a member of the Phoenix election board and "was how it came out." Houston said he had not discussed the ballot thefts, except in ordinary conversation, when the crime was made known. The state passed him for cause.

Wayne Holdridge of Talent, a fruit-grower and worker, said he had lived in this county for 25 years, had a slight acquaintance with C. Jean Conners, one of the defendants who had entered a plea of guilty, had fruit season of 1932, and read all the fruit season of 1933, and read all the papers. Holdridge said he had no interest in the outcome of the case.

George F. Putnam of the Eagle Point district, general farmer, said he had been a resident of the county for eight years, coming here from northeastern Missouri. Last November he moved from the Phoenix section to the Eagle Point district. Putnam said he knew none of the defendants, and Judge Pehl by sight only. He declared he had no opinions.

She was certain that neither did her husband belong to either organization. Mrs. Bellinger said she had lived here for forty years.

Glen Salmarsh, farmer of the Applegate, said he had read of the ballot stealing as reported in the press, had formed no opinions, knew none of the defendants, and had but casually discussed the crime with neighbors, and had no fixed opinions. Salmarsh said he had lived in this county all his life.

Milroy Charley of Climax, said he lived with his mother, in the Climax district. In response to rather extensive questioning of the state, Charley denied he was a member of the "Good Government Congress." That his brother was, or that he had attended the "Congress" picnic at Lake Creek last Sunday, Charley declared he had not "talked about the ballot theft cases for four months. He also denied

HUNGRY BURGLAR ENTERS MARKET

Someone was apparently hungry last night, according to a report filed by the proprietor of the Ivy street market with the city police this morning.

The report shows that besides two pies apparently eaten in the store, there were 15 pounds of coffee, six cans of pork and beans, candy and three cartons of cigarettes removed some time during the night.

Potatoes were emptied from a sack so the intruders would have something to carry their loot in, it was reported. The sliding doors were pried open, investigation revealed.

STERLING MINE CABIN ROBBERY IS REPORTED

The cabin belonging to Clyde G. Wilson and Alva Zumwalt, which is located about a half-mile southwest of Jacksonville on the Sterling mine road, was robbed some time Wednesday, according to state police who last evening were called there to investigate the case.

The majority of items reported taken were personal belongings of the two men, officers said, and included a five-bar silver Victory medal, discharge papers, a silver star medal and bonus papers for payment of $1532, belonging to one of the men.

THE INTRUDER IS BAFFLING MYSTERY

Surprise follows surprise with startling suddenness in "The Intruder," now playing at the Roxy theater. Anything may happen, and most of it does in this shipwreck mystery. Monte Blue has the leading role.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Nixon of Rogue River, a daughter, at the Community hospital Wednesday.

Under criminal law, the defense has six challenges, and the state three. Preliminary examination of the jury will be completed this afternoon, when the exercising of challenges will be commenced.

The defense is represented by Attorney A. C. Hough of Grants Pass, H. V. Schmalk of Burns, and Tom J. Enright of this city.

The state is represented by Assistant Attorney General Ralph E. Moody, and Deputy District Attorney George W. Neilson.

Judge Skipworth invoked his rule of limiting attendance in court to the seating capacity. A guard was placed at the door, and at the first sign of overcrowding it was closed. A number of people were disappointed.

There was no tenseness or excitement, such as featured many of the court hearings the past six months, but two loiterers in the courthouse corridors.

Most of those in attendance were women. Holdridge said he had no interest in the outcome of the case.

the case when he came to town Wednesday.

Everett B. Olds of Ashland, said he had been a resident of the county 12 years, read "very little about the case," discussed it only casually with acquaintances, knew none of the defendants, and had no fixed opinions.

C. O. Pressall, in response to questions, said he had been a resident of Ashland for three years, working at the carpenter trade. He said he had heard Earl Pehl make a speech a year ago, but knew none of the defendants, had no opinions, and read news papers, but was not influenced by "headlines or stories."

THESE TIRES COST THE SAME ... BUT THIS ONE IS 3 TIMES SAFER!

BANG! A blow-out. The wheel hits the road. And a terrible drag sets in. Like some unseen monster, pulling your car off the highway. Has this ever happened to you?

Investigation shows that the chances are better than even you'll have a blow-out some day—perhaps when you least expect it.

What Causes Blow-Outs? Blow-outs are caused by heat inside the tire. When the speedometer reads 40, 50, 60 and 70, this heat becomes terrific. Rubber and fabric begin to separate. A blister starts to form and gets bigger and bigger. Then suddenly it happens. A blow-out! Going fast, you simply can't hold your car on the road.

To protect you from blow-outs, every new Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tire has the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This new invention resists terrific heat. Fabric and rubber don't separate. This blisters don't form inside the tire. Blow-outs are prevented before they start.
