SISKIYOU DISTRICT PLANT COLLECTION FEATURE OF SHOW

From the Windy Peak range in the Blue Ledge-Siskiyou Summit district, came one of the most interesting displays at the Medford Garden club flower show, which closed last night at the completion of two successful days.

In the miniature rock garden were growing Lewisia cotyledon, sedum radicum (stone crop) and cotyledon pyramidalis (saxifrage).

Others, collecting flowers for the exhibit, were Miss Helen Bullis and Mrs. Ethel Willis. Regions represented were Mt. Wagner, Elk Creek at Perlet, Blue Ledge, Butte Falls and the Jacksonville and Griffin Creek hills.

Members of the club were busy this morning at the high school gymnasium, moving the flowers from their temporary garden and attending to final arrangements, marking the close of the show.

Prize winners in the iris and peony divisions, not announced yesterday, were reported as follows:

- Class II—Iris.
Division I—Rhizomatous:
(a) Single spike: First, Miss Livingston; second, Mrs. L. E. Williams; third, Mrs. Sadie Nichol.
(b) Three spikes: First, Miss Jane Smedicor; second, Jean Woodford; third, Mrs. R. E. Carley.
(c) Twelve spikes: First, Mrs. Gilbert Stuart; second, Mrs. Fred Cummings; third, Mrs. Irvin Daley.
Division II—Bulbous:
(a) Single spike: First, Miss M. Carlton; second, Mrs. Alfred Carpenter; third, C. D. Thompson.
(b) Three spikes: First, Miss M. Carlton; second, Mrs. Alfred Carpenter; third, C. D. Thompson.
(c) Twelve spikes: First, Miss M. Carlton; second, Mrs. O. Arnsperger; third, Mrs. Fred Cummings.
Division III—Other Iris:
(a) Single spike: First, Miss M.

MORGAN'S POWER DICTATED POLICY OF MANY FIRMS

There was the remotest shadow of doubt. George Whitney was correct in stating that the Morgans had no direct interest in Commonwealth & Southern other than the 5 percent of the company's stock held by United Corporation. Yet Commonwealth is legitimately called a Morgan company. No one has asked yet what the Bonbright interest in Commonwealth was and the Morgan and Bonbright firms were closer than brothers in utility matters.

There are many tricks to the trade of issuing securities. One of the neatest was the method of handling issues whose public reception was in

Exhibition Tour To Mop Up Coin Is Plan For Baer

NEW YORK, June 9.—(AP)—No STRAS is going to grow under Max Baer's feet if Jack Dempsey can help it.

With the Californian's name a sports headliner, Dempsey plans a whirlwind exhibition tour, coast to coast, starting within the next ten days. Max Baer will box and Dempsey will referee. The combination of the "new Dempsey" and the old one is expected to draw large — and profitable — crowds across the country.

Plans are only tentative, but Dempsey indicated today the tour might start at Buffalo, swing thru the middle west and finish on the west coast. Dempsey plans to seek a match for Baer in September with the winner of the coming Sharkey-Carnera fight.

In that case the stunt was to cut down early applications to perhaps one-tenth the amount asked for and if possible to refuse entirely the application of someone who could be counted on to spread the news. Those tactics usually created all the demand a sponsoring house could wish. There was always a gentleman's agreement with the friends who were cut in under the public market that they would not take their profit immediately. Anyone who violated this agreement was likely to be blacklisted. This was necessary to protect a budding young security from having to withstand the pressure of early sales. There is no record of any Morgan client ever taking such a chance of getting in wrong.

SLAYER RIDDLED BY LYNCH PARTY

HUNTSVILLE, Tenn., June 9.—(AP)—Several armed men forced their way into the Scott county jail last night and carried away Jerome Boyett and Harvey Winchester, both held on murder charges.

Winchester's body, riddled with bullets, was found today at the side of a road. Boyett has not been found. Boyett was charged with slaying Sheriff O. F. Winingham and his son, Floyd Winingham, a deputy, both of Pickett county, three weeks ago. Winchester was charged with the murder of Namon Perry and Zakie Thompson of Winfield.
