

Local and Personal

Wallace Calls Here—J. T. Wallace, representative of the C. & N. W. railway, arrived on the train from the north today to transact business.

Miss Hall Vacations—Miss Wilda Hall of Central Point, salutably at the Band Box is vacationing at the beach this week.

Baylis of Medford—Sam Baylis of Medford was in Grants Pass Tuesday attending to business matters.—Grants Pass Courier.

From Medford—Miss Edna Richard of Medford was in Grants Pass Tuesday afternoon visiting friends.—Grants Pass Courier.

Copco Official Here—J. D. Ross of Medford accompanied by Harry Lewis were business visitors to this city Monday. Both men are of the Copco office in Medford.

Florey Returns South—Nelson Florey, son of Mrs. E. G. Riddell, who spent the past 10 days here as guest of his mother, has returned to Long Beach, Cal., where he is stationed.

Has Tonils Out—Little Gail Codding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Codding underwent an operation for removal of her tonsils at the Sacred Heart hospital, this morning.

Hanna Goes Home—Byron Hanna, whose father is postmaster in Yreka, returned to that city from the Sacred Heart hospital, where he recently underwent a minor operation.

Lumsden, Caller—Trevé Lumsden of Medford, deputy state bank superintendent in charge of the liquidation of the defunct Citizens Bank of Ashland, is in Ashland today.—Ashland Tidings.

Miss Whitman Improved—Miss Etta (Babe) Whitman, who recently underwent a major operation at the Community hospital, is expected to return to her home tomorrow, her condition being much improved.

Miss Wilson Ill—Friends of Miss Elow Mae Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wilson, are sorry to learn that she is still ill at her home, where she had been treated for the past two weeks.

Annual Picnic Slated—The fourth annual state wide reunion of ex-Missourians will be held at the Salem City Auto park, June 25. The program will include a basket dinner, with free coffee, ex-Missourians, their families and relatives are asked to attend. J. L. Cutler of Salem is president, and Holt Stockton of Sheridan, Ore., secretary-treasurer.

Undergoes Operation—Alma Boshear of Grape street underwent a major operation at the Community hospital this morning.

Leaves Soon for Europe—Miss Eunice Davis, who arrived in Grants Pass Tuesday morning to spend a short time with her sister, Mrs. Myrl Watson, will leave the latter part of this month for a trip to Europe.—Grants Pass Courier.

Bennette Go North—Mrs. Roger S. Bennett and son from Palm Springs, California, passed through Ashland this morning enroute to Salem to visit Mr. Bennett who is in the office of Charles M. Thomas, corporation commissioner.—Ashland Tidings.

Guests of Campbells—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carr of Cleveland, Ohio, are guests in this city of Mr. Carr's mother, Mrs. William Campbell and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young and daughter, Maxine, are also here from Oakland, Cal., as guests of the Campbells.

Ranch Tools Stolen—Several tools were stolen last night from the Vorhies ranch, south of the city, according to report at the city police station. Included were one brace and bit, one ratchet screw driver, one set of sockets, Hinsdale make in three cornered tire box; one 14-inch steel plane.

Montana Picnic Cancelled—The annual Montana picnic, which is held in southern Oregon each year, has been cancelled this year because of insufficient funds in the club treasury. Members today expressed the hope that times will be improved next year that that a picnic will be possible.

Attend Grange Meet—Among guests at the meeting of the Oregon State Grange at Pendleton this week are the following from Jackson county: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sims of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Patterson of Central Point; Mrs. O. T. Wilson, daughter, Frances, and Mrs. Frank of Sams Valley.

Mother Shangle Dead—Mrs. F. M. Shangle, mother of J. Verne Shangle of this city, died late Monday night in the Portland hospital, where she recently underwent an operation, according to news received here yesterday. Mr. Shangle, who had just returned Sunday from being with his mother, left again yesterday for the northern city, where he will remain for several days. Mrs. Shangle was a woman of advanced years, and failed to recover from the operation. Her condition was thought improved Sunday, but a relapse followed Monday.

Annual Picnic Slated—The fourth annual state wide reunion of ex-Missourians will be held at the Salem City Auto park, June 25. The program will include a basket dinner, with free coffee, ex-Missourians, their families and relatives are asked to attend. J. L. Cutler of Salem is president, and Holt Stockton of Sheridan, Ore., secretary-treasurer.

Engaged To Baer? Broadway hears rumors that June Knight, New York musical comedy actress, and Max Baer, contender for the heavyweight championship, are engaged. (Associated Press Photo)

BARGAIN DANCE DREAMLAND TONIGHT Dinty Moore's Little Giants

ROXY 15c TONITE—Sally Eilers in "HAT CHECK GIRL" Wed.—Leo Carrillo in "DECEPTION"

ADMISSION 10c Playing Over KMED 6:15 Tonight

Al Stewart and His Music

Something new in THRILLS! A Microscopic Close-up of a Murderer's Brain Also a Different Kind of Comedy "TWO LIPS AND JULEPS" Travel Talk Hearst Metrophone News

DANCE TONIGHT Oriental Gardens 10c

ADMISSION 10c

ADMISSION 10c

ADMISSION 10c

ADMISSION 10c

ADMISSION 10c

ADMISSION 10c

ADMISSION 10c

DOCTORS DISCUSS OWN PROFESSION AT ROTARY MEET

In line with the series of Rotary programs on various professions, the local club was addressed yesterday noon by Doctors Thos. Sweeney and Wm. Holt on the subject of the medical profession. Dr. Sweeney was the first speaker, tracing the history of medical science which is one of the oldest professions in the world. He told many interesting things about the average physician and the work he does for mankind, quoting opinions from learned authorities to substantiate his remarks. The Hippocratic Oath written by Hippocrates in 400 B. C., was read by the speaker who stated this oath was still accepted by the medical profession as their code of ethics.

Dr. Holt gave an interesting talk on the vast amount of research carried on by the medical profession to improve health conditions and telling why physicians were slow to adopt new and untried ideas. The history of vaccination which was instituted in 1796 by Jenner and the work in bacteriology by Pasteur were given as examples of exhaustive research. Dr. Holt also told of the effective work of the Reed commission in controlling malaria and Yellow Fever which made possible the completion of the Panama canal after it seemed doomed to failure. Next week an open forum on medical science will be conducted by Doctors Sweeney and Holt and all Rotarians are urged to be present.

Visiting Rotarians at yesterday's luncheon were Wm. Whitfield of Portland and Lew Hansen of Ashland. Guests included Lee Bishop of Radio station KMED and John R. Sargent, resident engineer of Crater National park.

NOTED MEN DEBATE AFTERMATH TONIGHT

Tonight at the First Christian church Judge Summers, formerly public prosecutor and founder of the court of general sessions at St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. Hall, another brilliant speaker, will debate the question "The Aftermath," it was announced today. An invitation is extended the public to hear the two speakers, who are described as dramatic and colorful figures.

BASEBALL

National.	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	7	11	0
Cincinnati	0	3	1

Batteries: Root and Hartnett; Johnson, Kolp and Hemsley.

Brooklyn	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	6	11	0
Batteries: Bengt and Lopez; Elliott, Collins, Liska and Davis.	3	8	3

American.	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	14	15	0
Chicago	1	4	5

Batteries: Hadley and Shea; Gregory, Heving, Miller, Kinsay and Grube.

Cleveland	R.	H.	E.
Detroit	2	8	2
Batteries: Brown, Hudlin, Bean and Pytlak; Myatt; Marberry and Hayworth.	13	14	1

MOTION PICTURES AT THURSDAY FORUM MEET

An interesting program of motion pictures by S. P. Larsen of Seattle, district manager of Hubbard & Co., will be the principal feature at tomorrow noon's meeting of the Copco employees club. The meeting will be held in the basement dining room of the Hotel Medford and a large attendance of Copco Forum members and guests is anticipated.

Pierce's Hot House tomatoes at your grocer's. The quality is fine and the price is right.

Studio - 15c TODAY and THURSDAY CHARLES LAUGHTON

Maureen O'Sullivan, Neil Hamilton Dorothy Peterson in PAYMENT DEFERRED Something new in THRILLS!

A Microscopic Close-up of a Murderer's Brain Also a Different Kind of Comedy "TWO LIPS AND JULEPS" Travel Talk Hearst Metrophone News

DANCE TONIGHT Oriental Gardens 10c

ADMISSION 10c

ADMISSION 10c

Famous Comedy Team at Craterian

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are starred in "Diplomaniacs" which opened today at the Craterian theater, and is said to be their greatest musical comedy since "Rio Rita."

Rialto Star

Bette Davis, who appears in her first starring picture "Ex-Lady," opens tonight at the Rialto Theater, and in the august new sound system that has been installed in that house.

"Ex-Lady" is a modern story of the problems which modern youth faces. It is a picturesque story of New York's Bohemia in which the young artist play fast and loose with the old time conventions of love and marriage.

The new sound system, a duplicate of the system recently installed in the Craterian, will bring all the voices of the actors in faithful reproduction to the audience.

STUDIO SHOWING FANTASTIC MYSTERY

Bizarre mystery, a fantastic trick of fate and sinister shadows of guilt figure in "Payment Deferred," which is now showing at the Studio theater. Charles Laughton, the celebrated English actor, plays the leading role.

Visit Ashland—Earle Davis and Lee Watson were business visitors in Ashland yesterday.

SCOTTISH RITE Stated lodge meeting 7:30 P. M., June 12th. L. E. WILLIAMS, Secretary.

IT STARTS TODAY

GRATERIAN

IT STARTS TODAY

THEY WON THE IGNOBLE PRIZE for establishing friendly relations with government blondes!

A TUNEFUL SXPEDITION OF HYSTERICAL IMPORTANCE

Two gibbering goofs at large amid superheated Mamas . . . A crew of comic conspirators . . . and as glamorous a galaxy of gauze-garbed gals that ever tempted a tired business man!

Wheeler and Woolsey break out of their padded cell and it results in their wildest musical comedy delirium since "Rio Rita"

The world hung on their words. The fumes hung on their necks. AND THERE IS HISTORY!

BERT WHEELER ROBT. WOOLSEY

with Marjorie White Phyllis Barry, Louis Calhern Edgar Kennedy

"Hollywood Premiere"—Colortone Musical Revue "Leningrad—Gateway to Russia"

DELIBERATIONS ON BALLOT STEALING OPEN AFTER NOON

(Continued from Page One.)

presence, as shown by the evidence, in the vicinity of the courthouse on the night of the crime.

The defense counsel also played the Sexton brothers, and District Attorney George A. Coddling, and said, "I too would be ashamed to come into court, and prosecute a case of trumped-up evidence."

Sound Effects Used At one stage of his talk, Enright endeavored to make a noise like a bull and compared it to Moody's brilliant opening address. He belted three times in imitation of a bull. He further declared La Dieu was being "framed because of his loyalty to Banks."

Enright praised Jack Connors, and referred to the defendants "as good citizens."

He closed with a plea for the jury to "remember the three children of La Dieu," and that "Fehl and Schermerhorn are elected, and they (the state) are trying to upset the will of the people."

Attorney Moody in reply said, "on the face of returns Fehl and Schermerhorn were elected, but the will of the people, as expressed through the court, to find out, was thwarted, by the ballot thefts."

"When Enright calls the state witnesses ex-convicts and jail-birds, as is near the truth, as he will ever get," Attorney Moody declared. He then read the names of 26 witnesses with the vote stealing, and asked, if "they were jail-birds."

How About Co. Officials "Defense counsel" has attacked the Sexton brothers for telling of their crime. How about the old men who put them up to it? How about the trusted county officials, who connived with them?" the state's attorney asked. "The defense does not seem to be satisfied with the state's witnesses, he added.

Attorney Moody then reviewed the state's evidence, and closed with the words: "This county was named after Andrew Jackson—'Old Hickory.'" It is the duty of this jury, to act as "Old Hickory" would have done, when law and order were in the balance, and restore the good name of Jackson county, to its rightful place in the eyes of the "state of Oregon."

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Compton states that he was not mistreated in any way after the brief struggle when he first arrived. He had carefully worked out leads for officers to follow, sending Douglas Winningham to the cigar store for cigars, which were purchased in the same number as usually ordered by the attorney. Bands and wrappers from the cigars were tossed out of the window at the home to aid officers in locating the place in event of a search. The attorney reports that he was given food, and was not mistreated in any way, and that he spent the six hours in the hands of the kidnapers by helping Miss Winningham with a fiction story she was writing.

Indians' New Boss

Walter Johnson, (above) "the big train" of baseball for many years and former manager of the Washington Senators, was named manager of the Cleveland Indians. He succeeds Roger Peckinpaugh. (Associated Press Photo)

use of the mast emblem for advertising. Not only has the swastika appeared on boys' caps and sweat suits, but Chancellor Hitler's portrait, or what passed for it, has figured on ash trays, paper napkins, beer glass stands, trays and lampshades.

Thousands of cheap metal or plaster busts of Hitler have been sold that aren't flattering to him. He has been modeled in lard and butter, with even more disastrous results.

Dove and quail are the principal game birds in Florida.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY SEE ROBERTS—720 W. 2nd. Tel. 1528-J for city, county properties and paying business opportunities.

FOR SALE—Piano, cheap, $19-R. WANTED—Stock to pasture. C. C. Hoover, 437-V.

USED CAR BARGAINS Trade in your school and county warrants, stocks and bonds as part or full payment.

Written Guarantee 1929—DeSoto sedan. 1929—Ford coupe. 1931—Ford coupe. 1929—Chrysler sedan. 1929—Plymouth sedan. 1930—DeSoto sedan. 1930—Chevy sedan. 1927—Studebaker Victoria. ARMSTRONG MOTORS, INC. 39 N. Riverside

Headquarters for Southern Oregon Chrysler - Plymouth Hudson - Essex

WANTED TO BUY—On terms furnished or unfurnished home, 3 rooms or more. Give details and price. Box 10971 Tribune.

FOUND—Child's sweater, owner may have same by identifying and pay for ad.

LOST—Metal disc with lock for holding spare tire. Reward. Leave at Mail Tribune.

GREEN peas 3c lb. lettuce cheap. First house south of Tiny Tavern, Talent.

BETTER make selection of that piano now for prices are going up and they will be higher after China's Big Sale ends Saturday. Come in to night, open until 9 p. m., and make selection for immediate or later delivery. Gline's, Main & Riverside, Sports Bldg., Medford.

CLOSE IN EAST SIDE HOME Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, bath and screen, porch, lovely yard. Located close in on pavement, east front. Real buy at $2250.00—$200 down, balance $18.00 per month and interest at 9%. ALSO SERVICE STATION AND GROCERY $1000 Good location, on corner, excellent building, reasonable rent, $1,000.00 takes pumps, tanks, air compressor, stock of groceries and confections. Charles A. Wing Agency, Inc., exclusive agent.

BERLIN (AP)—When sausage manufacturers started selling frankfurters in the shape of the swastika, the Hitler propaganda ministry decided that the time had come to halt

Rum and Bananas Offered As Cure Of Economic Ills

LONDON, June 14—(UP)—A unique proposal to cure the world's ills was offered in the bar at the world economic conference hall today by the Italian delegate, Constantin Mayard.

Mayard, a six and one half foot giant closely resembling Jack Johnson, once heavyweight champion of the world, said to all who would listen: "Drink more rum, eat more bananas—that's the way to cure the world's ailments."

Haiti produces both in considerable quantity.

Sausage Emblem Irritates Nazis

BERLIN (AP)—When sausage manufacturers started selling frankfurters in the shape of the swastika, the Hitler propaganda ministry decided that the time had come to halt

SAUSAGE EMBLEM IRRITATES NAZIS

BERLIN (AP)—When sausage manufacturers started selling frankfurters in the shape of the swastika, the Hitler propaganda ministry decided that the time had come to halt

SAUSAGE EMBLEM IRRITATES NAZIS

BERLIN (AP)—When sausage manufacturers started selling frankfurters in the shape of the swastika, the Hitler propaganda ministry decided that the time had come to halt

RIALTO

TONIGHT and TOMORROW

A Sensational New Star . . . Setting a New Fashion in Women! . . . Sensational New Sound System . . . Making Modern Miracles Come True!

EX-LADY

See a glorious New Star come into her own—heading a great Warner Bros. cast

BETTE DAVIS

and Gene Raymond • Claire Dodd Frank McHugh • Monroe Owsley

RADIO CITY COMES TO THE RIALTO! . . . The same sensational RCA High Fidelity-Wide Range reproduction system installed in the world's greatest theatres in Radio City, New York, now in the Rialto. Treat for your enjoyment!

SELECTED SHORT SUBJECTS