

ROOSEVELT PLANS FAST MOVES FOR AID OF INDUSTRY

Peace Time Record Set in Appropriation Over Three and Half Billion Dollars for Public Works Program

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Orders are out from the White House that the government's most ambitious attempt to bring industrial recovery shall be set in motion within thirty days.

Without even waiting to get the industrial control-public works bill in hand for signature, President Roosevelt summoned cabinet advisers around him, had General Hugh Johnson the designated director of the act explain in detail all plans he has made, and then gave the word to push everything.

The bill was finally passed by congress and the accompanying record peace-time appropriation of more than three and a half billion dollars, to formally approve outlay of the money which bond issues will raise for a public construction program on a hitherto unheard-of scale.

Employer-Million Men Not only is this construction, designed to employ a million men, to get going within a month, but also the vast new governmental enterprise of supervising business so that it shall master overproduction by agreement, hold up price levels, boost wages and curtail the working time of labor.

Many industries already have submitted programs for such codes. All are being inspected carefully to make sure they live up to the administration's expectations. To make them possible the new law has reversed temporarily a generation's governmental attitude towards business, suspending the anti-trust laws which had sought to protect the "little man" against destruction from big business, but which generally resulted in perpetuating cut-throat destructive competition in which the little fellow often came out last.

Cabinet to Assist The president assigned four of his cabinet to keep an eye on and assist the giant enterprise: Roper of commerce, Ickes of the interior, Wallace of agriculture, and Perkins of labor, all will assist Johnson in his work.

The latter has worked so fast in the weeks since the president detailed him to the job, that he has millions of dollars worth of public projects picked out for immediate calling of bids, and also has chosen an advisory board for fully balancing industry and labor to scrutinize and approve the industrial code and general direction of the recovery plan.

The construction to be undertaken goes in every direction: besides the usual federal buildings, highways, river and harbor improvements, room has been made for state, local and public benefiting private expenditures ranging to alum eradication and similar developments. On top of that there is to be work for shipyards through construction of 32 additional vessels for the navy, and more airplane building for the army.

PAINTER OUSTED IN DISPUTE OVER ROCKEFELLER CENTER ART

Diego Rivera (left), foremost Mexican artist, was dismissed as one of the painters whose huge murals were to decorate the great hall of the new 70-story building of Rockefeller center in New York. He was called from his scaffold and given a check for $14,000 in full payment of his contract. The principal objection to his work was a likeness of Lenin which appeared in one of the panels. He had refused a request by Nelson Rockefeller, (inset below), son of John D. Rockefeller, jr., that the face of an unknown man be substituted for that of Lenin. ## EAGLE POINT CIVIC CLUB HOME-COMING MEETING FEATURED

EAGLE POINT, June 15.—(Sp.)—Home-coming meeting of the Eagle Point Civic club was one of unusual interest, with 54 members, past-members and visitors present. After a short business session, minutes of the charter meeting, October 18, 1916, were read and also the list of charter members, numbering 23. A synopsis of the club's accomplishments was given by Mr. Mattie Brown.

With the exception of the years during the war, when the club met as a Red Cross, the club has met continuously for 17 years. Some of the accomplishments were building and maintaining sidewalks in the town; buying and converting into a park a waste strip of land along the river front; shrubbery planting about the high school building and more recently, the planting and maintenance of a lawn; planting trees along the parking of the principal streets; cooperating with the Grange in painting the church; putting in street electric lights. Besides these the club has been active in caring for distressed people of the community, aiding in the maintenance of the church and, during the war, active in general Red Cross work.

Past presidents present who gave short talks were Mrs. Cora Morgan, of Phoenix, Mrs. Francis Campbell, Mrs. Mattie Brown, Mrs. Hazel Stoner, president, and Mrs. Amy Brown as secretary. The Hustler's club of Butte Falls attended in a body, from whom the club received an invitation through the club president, Mrs. John Mori, to a joint meeting of the clubs to be held at the hatchery grounds at Butte Falls.

All members are cordially invited to attend. Those wishing to go will meet in front of the Brown's hall at 1:30 p. m. June 22. Fifteen out of town guests were present.

FORESTRY OFFICERS RESCUE BULL FROM EVANS CREEK WELL

Under the caption "Ding dong, bell, the bull fell in the well," the following article appears in the last issue of The Forest Log, monthly publication of the Oregon state board of forestry:

Dorris Coy and Lloyd Morris, two of the patrolmen of the Jackson county unit, have been occupied during the past week or so in repairing the telephone line that runs out of the town of Rogue River up Evans creek.

Recently, they were working near an abandoned ranch when they heard some peculiar muffled rumblings coming from near the ranch buildings. The noise was so unusual that they decided to investigate, but a brief search failed to reveal the source.

They stood around, puzzled, when suddenly a distinct bellow came out of the ground. The mystery was solved. The boys ran to an old well and there at the bottom was a 1600-pound bull. How to get the bull out was the problem, but they succeeded and without any outside help. First, they managed to get props around the animal and then taking their shovels they changed the course of a nearby stream so that it ran into the well. Slowly the well filled, the bull swimming around with the boys aiding him with the props. At last the water reached the top and the animal scrambled out.

Friends of the two patrolmen have started agitation for a cowhide medal for each of the gallant rescuers, but Coy and Morris claim to be amply rewarded with a suspicion of bovine gratitude.

BOLD PROGRAM TO CURTAIL CROPS IS ROOSEVELT'S IDEA

Will Raise $250,000,000 by Process Tax On Wheat and Cotton to Reimburse Farmers Cutting Acreage

By ROY F. HENDRICKSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) (Copyright, 1933, by the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—The administration intends to raise $250,000,000 by processing taxes on wheat and cotton which it will levy at their maximum size in a bold program aimed to better long-range farm prices by cutting down production.

The government's plans provide that most of the sum will be used to reward farmers who agree to reduce their output in concert with the federal drive to halt the piling up of surpluses, long a price-depressing problem for growers of the two chief cash crops of the United States.

President Roosevelt has approved a program, devised under powers provided by the new farm act, which Secretary Wallace will make public tomorrow. A comprehensive acreage curtailment program will be launched immediately for cotton, to take out as much as 10,000,000 acres of the crop now growing.

No effort will be made to cut production of the wheat now nearing harvest. Winter-kill and bad weather have cut the prospects for this crop down to approximate domestic needs for the first time this century, although there is expected to be a carry over of about 300,000,000 bushels on July 1, beginning of the new marketing year. The wheat program, however, is to be put into effect on fall planting.

Plan Near Complete Wallace has completed details of both programs except for a few elements still open. One, subject to change, is the exact time the taxes will go into effect. He is authorized by the farm act to levy them at the beginning of the crop year for each commodity. That would be July 1 in the case of wheat and August 1 in the case of cotton. Both may be delayed until August.

The tax on cotton is expected to be four cents a pound. That on wheat, 25 to 30 cents a bushel. If the price of either drop before collection of the tax begins, the rate could be boosted, while if prices rose as a result of the prospect of a smaller future supply, the tax could be smaller, since Wallace's power authorizes him to levy a tax which, at its maximum represents the difference between the current price and the "parity" price which is based on pre-war average levels.

Parity essentially is the price which bears the same relationship to the price level of things farmers buy as farm prices bore to the cost of consumption goods during the period 1909 to 1914.

The tax is to be collected on all cotton and wheat at the first point of processing, but is to be refunded on processed commodities which are exported.

Partly cloudy tonight and Friday, with fog on the coast and afternoon thunderstorms in mountains of east portion; not much change in temperature; gentle changeable winds, moderate northwesterly offshore.

Now, don't misunderstand me. I probably don't know just how the "Toasting" process works...but I certainly know enough about the good it does. To me my cigarette is personal, so when I light a Lucky and taste its fine, pure tobacco fragrance...when I smoke Luckies in any number and still find them cool and mild...do I have to know how "Toasting" works? Frankly, I don't care much...just so long as I can keep on saying —and mean it—"Luckies Please!"
