NEW YORK, June 19.—(AP)—Financial markets were borne upward today on a new wave of inflationary psychology. As the dollar declined sharply in foreign exchange markets, following reports the Washington administration disapproved of currency stabilization at present rates, stocks soared 2 to 7 or more points. The close was strong. Approximately 6,000,000 shares changed hands.

A rush of buyers at the opening sent prices spurring to levels where they regained substantial portions of their last week's losses. All groups participated in the recovery. While there were intermittent pauses to absorb profit taking, the movement was forward throughout. Grains were up from 2 to 3 cents a bushel, around New Year's high, bar silver rallied and bonds were strong.
