

FARMERS BLAMED BY PROHI LEADER FOR IOWA REPEAL

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—(UP)—The farmers of Iowa were not aroused enough to stop plowing for a half day to vote, therefore the adoption by Iowa of the 21st amendment, repealing the prohibition amendment, was no surprise to Dr. Clarence True Wilson, executive secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, according to a statement given to the United Press.

"I expected the state to go wet," Dr. Wilson said.

"There was no surprise in the other two states. Connecticut solidly wet and New Hampshire was totally indifferent. They had just legalized race track gambling; the legislature had taken off all Sabbath law restrictions.

"The state of Iowa has been in a moral slump; the Anti-Saloon League has been practically without a head, and prohibition is so disorganized that the only activity in the state was through the president of the W. C. T. U., who did what she could to save the situation.

"Wait until you hear from Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho and Minnesota. Count them up and see whether the constitution is to be changed by the clamor of the wets."

ELKS ALL SET FOR BEER AND SPORTS AT ANNUAL PICNIC

A big old fashioned beer bust, free lunch, kiltball game and fight card await members of the Elks lodge and friends at the river tonight, where they will assemble from 5 o'clock on, at the picnic grounds of the lodge.

Final preparations for the big event were completed this afternoon by the crew, which began setting up ring and booths yesterday. Stanley Ganten Sherwood and Sam Colton also have their kiltball teams ready for combat and Sherwood is forecasting an easy victory for his men, in spite of the fact that Colton has announced he will trim the Englishman's aggregation in the third inning.

The main event on the evening's fight card will feature Paul Thill, "Young Schmeling of Klamath Falls" and Spider Fields of Medford, who are evenly matched, according to the ring loudmouth and ready to throw any interference into the river. In the semi-windup Perry Houston will meet Jack Willis and there are two good preliminaries also scheduled for the evening.

The entertainment for the annual bust is expected to hold Elks on the banks of the Rogue until the midnight hour at least and a steady caravan of cars, heading that way, is anticipated for 3 o'clock.

MEDFORD CHOSEN FOR P. E. O. CONVENTION

Large Party Feted Mrs. George Andrews

Friends of Mrs. George Andrews came from Medford and Ashland yesterday afternoon to wish her a pleasant trip east and happiness in New York, soon to be her home. About 100 called during the hours for tea at the reception sponsored by the Greater Medford club. An abundance of summer flowers and the vivid sport frocks worn by girls assisting about the rooms added a colorful note to the afternoon's festivities.

Receiving were Mrs. G. R. Satchwell, president of the club, Mrs. M. J. Norris and Mrs. Andrews.

A program of music, arranged by Mrs. E. E. Goss was enjoyed by the guests and included: a piano solo, "Air Ballet" by Chaminade, played by Marian Moore; violin solos "Waltz" by Brahms and "Tango" by Albeniz, played by Beulah Gore with Dorothy Gore at the piano; vocal solos, "Without a Song," "Trees" and "That's Why Darkies Were Born" by George Edward Andrews.

Chester Woods of Ashland, the guest artist for the afternoon, entertained with three very delightful cello numbers, "A Dream" by Bartlett, opening the group and "Last Rose of Summer" closing it.

Assisting at the beautifully decorated tea table were Mrs. Rose Schiefel and Mrs. Alice Coppin. Girls helping about the rooms were: Misses Bethel Slagle, Ruth Demorest, Leah Miller, Winifred Warner, Audrey Loftland, Marian Moore and Mrs. Gordon Warner.

The guests were seated at small tables, attractively arranged about the club room for refreshments, adding to the pleasing informality of the afternoon.

Mrs. Andrews, who has contributed much to the musical life of southern Oregon for many years, is going to New York to enable her son, George Edward to continue with his study of voice. They will make their home in the eastern city with her sister.

The hope that they will at some future time return again to their Medford home was expressed by Mrs. Andrews' many friends yesterday afternoon.

Kenlys Return from Ojai, Cal.

Miss Green Bride of Mr. Miksche Tuesday

At a quiet ceremony yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Father Francis W. Black, Miss Fae Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Green, and Robert Miksche, son of Mrs. Anna Miksche were married. Father Black reading the wedding service.

The bride was lovely in an afternoon dress of rose with white accessories and corsage of white sweet-peas. Her only attendant, Miss Rosalie Root, wore a summer suit of white. Glenn Pruitt was best man for the groom.

Attending the wedding service were Mrs. E. E. Goss and other relatives and friends of the couple, numbering 20, including from out of town, Miss Bertie Miksche and Mrs. Thomas Bickstaff of California.

Immediately after the service luncheon was enjoyed by the wedding party and Mr. and Mrs. Miksche left for a wedding trip south, which will include a short stay in San Francisco as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mather.

They will return in two weeks to make their home in Medford, where Mr. Miksche is in business with his brother.

Reunion of Friends Enjoyed at Fish Home

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Fish last evening three friends of many years ago in Nova Scotia met and recalled many interesting childhood experiences which had not returned to memory for 50 or 60 years. They were Mrs. J. C. Archibald and her brother, A. B. Creelman of Oakland, Cal., here on a visit, and Mrs. Margaret Lydiard of Table Rock.

The Creelmans and the Dunlups were neighbors many years ago in Nova Scotia. Mrs. Lydiard, the former Margaret Dunlap, and Mr. Creelman and his sister had not met since that time until last evening at the home of Mrs. Archibald's daughter, Mrs. Fletcher Fish.

The three were brought together through a conversation between Mr. Fish and Wm. H. Lydiard, son of Mrs. Margaret Lydiard. While here, Mrs. Archibald and Mr. Creelman will also visit Mrs. Lydiard's brother, Charles Dunlap and Mrs. Dunlap of Central Point, for Mr. Creelman and Mr. Dunlap haunted the old swimming hole together in Nova Scotia 60 years ago, the former recalled last evening.
