

629,000 RETURN TO WORK DURING APRIL IS SHOWN

American Federation of Labor Sees No Evidence of Business Recovery Despite Cheerful Figures

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor says that 629,000 persons went back to work in April and a smaller—but as yet undetermined number—in May.

In its monthly survey of business for May, however, it added: "Cheerful as this news sounds, there is no evidence yet that it marks the start of recovery."

Depends on Purchases
Any further progress, the federation said, must depend upon the extent to which the purchasing power of the laborer is increased.

In April, unemployment was said to have decreased from 13,350,000 to 12,750,000, or 4.5 per cent of those out of work regaining jobs.

Trade union reports for May show another gain, not so large. This is the most significant of all business gains reported this spring; it is the largest since depression began.

But unless employment gains more than this it will take nearly two years to get the unemployed back to work—and business cannot wait two years.

Recovery Act Is Hope
To provide the necessary purchasing power, the federation places most hope in the national recovery act, which it describes as "the most advanced and forward looking legislation for recovery yet proposed."

The federation summarizes the situation with these words:

"Administration measures have succeeded in priming the business machine. . . . The stimulus due to fear of inflation is playing out, deflation is still going on, the summer dull season is just ahead. Only one thing can keep business moving steadily forward on an even keel—increased buying power."

er type and over 400 of the lighter type, which is just about 100 per cent more than they should have. In addition to these two treaty violations the Germans have secretly constructed a new 75 mm. cannon which is closely patterned after the famous French seventy-five mm. field gun. Estimates as to the number of these guns in use vary between 35 and 50.

Other recent German armaments which are expressly forbidden by her treaty obligations consist of several dozen batteries of anti-aircraft artillery and particularly a number of arms which serve principally in case of attack. These include a number of motorcycle battalions, motorized artillery regiments and motorized technical troops.

About 50 heavy "anti-tank" cannons are the special pride of the German army.

Instead of the 1926 machine guns provided for by the treaties, Germany has in use over 4100.

Particular attention has been devoted to the development of the cavalry—in case of war that would really be a motor corps. Although the German cavalry is supposed to have only 56 heavy machine guns and no light guns, it is equipped today with at least 75 heavy and about 480 light machine guns.

The German munitions and armament industry has been completely reorganized under the direction of the reichswehr. Tanks and the heaviest artillery—the only two weapons which Germany does not possess in considerable numbers—can be produced on a large scale within three months from any given date.

EAGLE POINT GRANGE WILL HEAR GILL ON SALES TAX JUNE 26

Although Germany is supposed to have only 84,000 military rifles and 18,000 carbines, the total number of rifles exceeds 2,000,000. Most of these are not in the custody of the regular army but are held by members of the Nazi storm detachments and the Steel Helms League. Many thousands of rifles and millions of rounds of ammunition are still hidden on the large estates in East Prussia, Silesia and Bavaria.

All these arms do not include of course the private arsenal which the Nazis have imported from abroad during the last 20 months. A wholesale smuggling business in rifles, revolvers and ammunition—the smallest shipment was a truckload flourished under the eyes of German customs guards on the Dutch frontier.

Mrs. Millie Tingle, past matron of the Juvenile Grange, reported the growth of Juvenile Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Barrett, delegates to state grange, were present and gave a very interesting account of their trip.

The important question of balloting on motion to build a grange hall was carried by a two-thirds majority vote. After spending considerable time in discussion a motion to appoint a new building committee was accepted.

Evans Valley

EVANS CREEK, June 23.—(Spl.)—Fourteen new families have moved along Evans creek this spring, filling every available empty house. Some are farming, others making up wood for winter sale.

Called for jury duty this week are Mrs. Vivian Norman Barto and Frank Jackson.

Mrs. Frank Jackson visited in Los Angeles eight weeks, having been joined by Mr. Jackson for the last two weeks.

It will be recalled that E. W. Oliver, a son-in-law of the Jacksons, was for several years principal in the Rogue River schools. Mr. Oliver has taught in Los Angeles three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver have a daughter named "Dorothy Mae" after her grandmother who visited here.

WENATCHEE CHERRIES

WENATCHEE Wash., June 23. (AP)—Seventy-five Wenatchee valley cherry growers will not market a cherry at a loss this year, they agreed at a mass meeting last night called in an effort to see that an equitable price is paid. Five to seven cents a pound was the price mentioned for Royal Annes and six and eight cents for black cherries.

The possibility of barrelling the crop was discussed.

PROSECUTOR ADDICTED PITCHING HORSESHOES

SALEM, June 23.—(AP)—Petitions seeking recall of V. S. Howard as district attorney for Jefferson county were filed with the secretary of state late yesterday.

Howard spends the greater part of his time practicing optometry and pitching horseshoes, the petition filed by Lewis H. Irving of Madras stated.
