

JUDGE ON TRIAL BEFORE SENATE

Federal Judge Harold Louderback (center) of San Francisco, first defendant in impeachment proceedings to face the senate in a score of years, flanked by his attorneys, Walter H. Linforth (left) and James M. Hanley in the office of the sergeant of arms for a summons to the chamber. (Associated Press Photo)

SHERIFF'S OFFICERS TRAIL CLUES IN UNIVERSITY CAMPUS DEATH

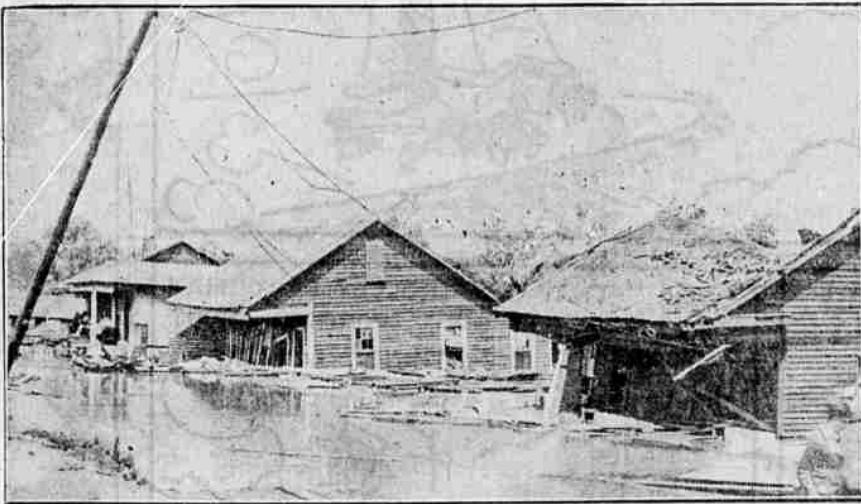

Clues were run down by Santa Clara county officers while they detained David A. Lamson following the death of his wife in their home on the Stanford university campus. She was found in the bathtub with crushed head. At the left officers are examining blood-stained clothing said to belong to the young sales manager and at the right Lamson's parents are shown leaving the jail at San Jose after visiting their son. With them is his 26-month-old daughter, Allene Genevieve. The officers are (left to right) Deputy Sheriff Johnny Moore, Under-sheriff Earle Hamilton and Deputy Sheriff Howard Buffington. (Associated Press Photos)

PECORA AND GLASS SHAKE HANDS

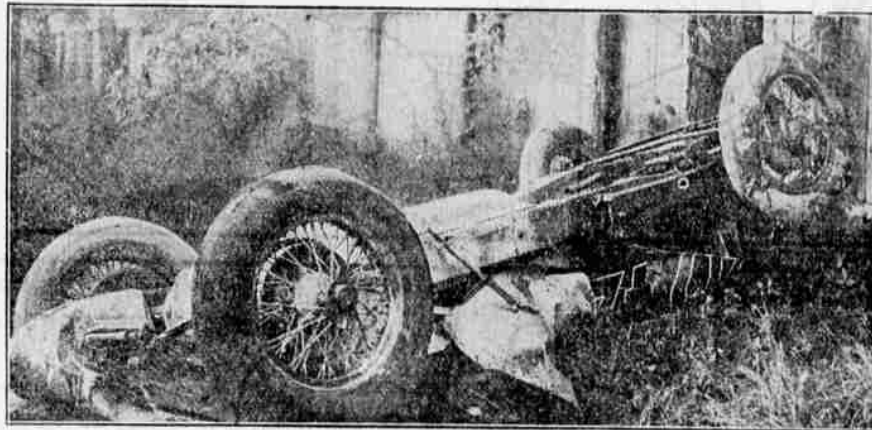

Senator Carter Glass (left) of Virginia and Ferdinand Pecora shook hands after Pecora had complied with Glass' demand to say definitely what he expected to bring out in the senate banking committee's investigation of the J. P. Morgan banking house. (Associated Press Photo)

TORNADO FOLLOWS FLOODS IN SOUTHLAND

Many southern areas already damaged by spring floods suffered still greater loss from a series of tornadoes which killed more than 50 persons. This picture shows tornado-battered homes in Yazoo, Miss., in a section where floods had not abated. (Associated Press Photo)

TWO KILLED IN WRECK AT AUTO SPEEDWAY

This picture shows the wreckage of the racing car which crashed over a retaining wall at the Indianapolis Speedway two days before the Memorial day race. Both the driver, William Denver of Audubon, Pa., and the mechanic, Bob Hurst of Indianapolis, died of injuries received in the accident, which occurred as Denver was attempting to qualify for the race. (Associated Press Photo)

HYPERION WINS ENGLISH DERBY

Lord Derby's Hyperion won the 150th running of the English Derby at Epsom Downs before a crowd of 250,000. The winning horse is shown with Jockey Tommy Weston up. (Associated Press Photo)

WASHINGTON SENDS CAKE TO FAIR

After this 800-pound fruit cake is displayed at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago it will be sent to President Roosevelt as a gift from cities and towns of southwest Washington state. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fulton of Chehalis are shown with the cake which took them nearly two months to bake and decorate. (Associated Press Photo)

Cleared In Shooting

Loretta Schmitz, 17-year-old farm girl near Elgin, Ill., said she was forced to kill Oliver Day, a hired man, after Day had shot and killed her father, John Schmitz. She was cleared of all blame by a coroner's jury. (Associated Press Photo)

Calls Beer Illegal

District Judge Claude G. Coffin (above) of Greeley, Colo., in a decision declared state and federal 32 per cent beer laws were unconstitutional and "clearly invalid." (Associated Press Photo)

LOOKING OVER NEW MORGAN LIST

George Whitney (left), a partner in the house of Morgan, and John W. Davis (right), counsel for J. P. Morgan, look over another list of persons who bought stock from the Morgan firm at preferred prices. They are shown at the senate banking committee quiz. (Associated Press Photo)

THEY'RE BOOSTING CARD HOPES

It's quite a job to get anything by these two boys. At the left is Leo Durocher, former Yankee, who has taken over the shortstop assignment with the St. Louis Cardinals following a sensational trade with the Cincinnati Reds. At right is Pepper Martin, former series hero, whose work at third has proven a revelation. (Associated Press Photo)

HULL GREETS HERRIOT IN CAPITAL

Eduard Herriot (left), former premier of France and that nation's spokesman in the economic conferences with President Roosevelt, is shown as he was welcomed in Washington by Secretary Hull of the state department. (Associated Press Photo)

Banker Weds Actress

Minna Gombell, who plays humorous roles in motion pictures, and Joseph Sefton, Jr., San Diego, Cal., banker, are shown on their return to Hollywood after slipping away to Yuma, Ariz., to be married. (Associated Press Photo)

May Get Her Wish

Mrs. Pattie Willis South, 80, of Nicholasville, Ky., who always has wanted to dine at the White House, may have her wish fulfilled. She expects to visit Washington soon—and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has written her saying she would be glad to invite Mrs. South to a meal if she herself is in Washington at the time. (Associated Press Photo)

HONORS FOR HEAD PLAY'S JOCKEY

Mrs. Silas B. Mason, who bought the horse Head Play only a few hours before he became a close second in the Kentucky Derby, is shown congratulating Jockey Charles Kurtzinger after he had ridden Head Play to an easy victory in the Preakness at Pimlico, Md. (Associated Press Photo)

Economic Delegates Rely On Her Files!

Miss Celeste Jedel will be in the thick of things at the world economic conference in London—for she's the archivist of the United States delegation, in charge of documents, record and other papers. (Associated Press Photo)

Dawes In Chair Ride

Gen. Charles Gates Dawes elected to view the Chicago world's fair from this type of wheel chair, used to escort visitors through miles of exhibits. (Associated Press Photo)