

MILLION DOLLAR BUILDING PLANS FOR EDUCATION

gymnasium for Oregon Normal school at Monmouth.

May Use More Funds
It is possible, the directors said, that the program may be augmented by construction of a $525,000 library building on the University of Oregon campus. Other projects, too, may be added, but further study must be given these questions.

Chairman C. L. Starr pointed out that the university infirmary now has a $50,000 state legislative appropriation to its credit, although this will not be available for a year or two, and $10,000 in private subscriptions has accumulated. If $30,000 of federal money is available, the rest of the cost could be met out of student fees, liquidating the debt by 1937.

Library Desirable
The board members agreed that the university library is most desirable, but the board finance committee was unable to discover at first inspection how it might be classified as self-liquidating. A promise of further study was made after F. E. Callister suggested that $7,500 from the annual student fees would insure proper repayment of the loan after a part grant had been deducted.

The apparent lack of self-liquidating characteristics obliged the board to postpone action on four other university suggestions, including a $500,000 gymnasium, $175,000 swimming pool and spectators' stadium, a $150,000 field house and a $30,000 activity house. The same difficulty was found in three proposals for the state college—a $375,000 chemistry building, a $345,000 biological science building, and a $310,000 animal industries building.

FIND RARE SUGAR IN ROGUE PEARS

Among the important findings in the investigational work conducted through the medium of the pear bureau and to be reported on Wednesday night at 7:45 at the court house, is one that could mean a great deal to the Rose grower.

This is the discovery of large amounts of a very rare sugar in the Rose, which at present sells for $25 a pound.

While at lunch in Portland the trustees were passed this new product and were unanimous in remarking the fine flavor and sweetness of this new sugar in honey form.

Further details of this find will be brought out at Wednesday's meeting. In addition there will be good news for Nellis growers. There will be explained the new wrap which should do much for the Anjou grower.

All in all it will be an important meeting for pear growers to hear.

GILBERT FRIDEGAR RITES HELD TODAY

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Conger funeral parlors for Gilbert Fridegar, local youth, who died suddenly Saturday afternoon. Rev. L. F. Belknap was in charge, with interment at the Skak-you Memorial park.

Honorary pallbearers were the Misses Claudina Tolle, Lila Young, Lela Young, Mildred Reynolds, Gracia Fay and Lela Bedford. Active pallbearers were Wendell Tolle, Woodrow Welch, Farrell Wood, Merritt Probstfield, Albert Samuels and Allen Smith.

Duncan Funeral Held In Portland

Funeral services for Roy R. Duncan, 39, of Medford, were held this morning at 10 o'clock at Finley's Green-room chapel in Portland, with American Legion post No. 1 of that city in charge, according to announcement in the Morning Oregonian. Mr. Duncan is survived by his wife, Maurine McClure Duncan of this city. Commitment will be made at the Lincoln Memorial park crematorium.

Mrs. Andrews Feted By Oak Grove Friends

Mrs. George Andrews, who leaves with her son George on the Shasta this evening for Los Angeles, and will then continue to New York to reside, was the inspiration for a delightful garden party at the M. C. Wright home in the Oak Grove district yesterday afternoon.

Friends and neighbors, and Oak Grove school directors as well as patrons of the school joined in the farewell to Mrs. Andrews, who has always taken an active part in the school affairs and aided in presenting programs and plays there.

The immense lawn and trees at the Wright home made a delightful setting for the affair, which was a handkerchief shower for the honor guest. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

An interesting program was given, with Mrs. E. C. Corn presenting a vocal trio, members of which were Misses Luella Corn, Florence Neuman and Joyce Banish. The group played its own accompaniment on ukuleles.

The guests then went in the house and Miss Dorothy Gore entertained with a violin solo, "La Cenerentola" by Wieniawski. The accompaniment, in the nature of an independent piano solo of its own, was played in a characteristic and inspirational style by Mrs. Andrews.

R. N. A. Picnic In Ashland Park

All Royal Neighbors of America are invited to bring basket lunches to the picnic of the Mistletoe club in Lithia park at Ashland tomorrow afternoon. The local club will be joined by Ashland neighbors. A short business meeting is to be held early in the afternoon at the park entrance, after which luncheon will be served at the picnic grounds.

Miss Moore Presented In Piano Recital

Miss Marion Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rawley Moore, was presented in a delightful piano recital at the Baldwin recital hall last evening by her instructor, Harvey Amoss Moore. Miss Moore was assisted in the program by Catherine Wendt, soloist.

The stage was attractively arranged with baskets of cut flowers, and rose and green lights added a touch of loveliness to the setting. The Baldwin concert grand was used by Miss Moore in her program, which was presented entirely from memory.

Mr. Moore announced the numbers on the program, and Miss Moore's presentations were greeted with great favor by her many friends, and music lovers who filled the concert hall. Mrs. Wendt's soprano solos were also well received. She is a former student of Mrs. J. C. Collins.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served, and Mr. Moore announced that the social was also in honor of his and Mrs. Moore's twentieth wedding anniversary. Assisting with serving were Misses Peggy Peter, Constance Moore, Dorothy Gore and Kathleen Dillard, and Mesdames F. C. Dillard, Charles Wing and Harry Olsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams Return to Canada

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. G. Adams of Toronto, Canada, who were much feted in local society while here on their honeymoon at the A. P. Johnson ranch, left yesterday afternoon by plane for Seattle. From that city they will continue by boat to Vancouver, B. C., then take the train to Calgary, where Mr. Adams is located in business.

To bid them farewell a number of Medford folk gathered at the Johnson home yesterday afternoon and accompanied the newlyweds to the airport. Mr. Adams is Mrs. A. P. Johnson's son and Mrs. Adams the former Jean Robertson of Toronto, where their wedding was a social event of early summer.

Honor Bennetts Before Departure

With arrangements being made by the Ladies Aid of the First Methodist Episcopal church, a covered dish dinner will be given in the church parlors tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock, in honor of Reverend and Mrs. Alexander G. Bennett, who will be leaving soon for their new home at Forest Grove.

Everyone in the church is invited to the dinner, and is asked to bring a covered dish and his own table service. An interesting program has been arranged for the evening, and it is expected a large number of church folk will be in attendance.

Reverend Bennett has been appointed to the pastorate of the Methodist church in Forest Grove, and will soon take up his duties there. He will be accompanied north by his family.

St. Ann's Party On Wednesday

One of the card parties of the season schedule, announced by the St. Ann's Altar society, is that of tomorrow evening at the Parish hall, when all local people interested in cards are invited to attend. Playing will start at eight o'clock.

The committee working on the plans for the party are Mesdames Frank Gritsch, Paul Greiner, Dilda, J. C. Hayes, C. M. Hartley, M. Herbert, Hoffbeck and Misses Martha Hanley, Hageman and Billie Hammett.

Miss Hill To Visit Here

Miss Ellen Hill of Ross, Calif., arrived in Medford this forenoon by train, to be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. F. Corning Kenly.

At Vacation At Rogue's Roost

Master Peter Thieriot of Burlington, accompanied by his governess, Miss Cunningham, arrived here on the Shasta this morning to vacation for two or three weeks at the Niou Tucker summer lodge "Rogue's Roost" on the river. Master Peter was met at the station by his cousin, Miss Nan Tucker.

Reports at Meet Of P. E. O.'s

Reports from the state P. E. O. convention will be given at the Wednesday meeting of chapter AA, P. E. O., which is to be held at the home of Mrs. T. W. Miles. Assisting the hostesses will be Mrs. L. E. Williams.

Mrs. Warner's Daughter Is Guest

Mrs. Charles G. Pugh and two sons, Charles and Robert, of Laramie, Wyo., are the guests in Medford of Mrs. Pugh's mother, Mrs. E. N. Warner of 643 Palm street. Mrs. Pugh plans to

CHICKENS CHANGE SEX SOMETIMES

IOWA CITY, Ia., June 27.—(UP)—If you raise chickens and find some morning that one of your roosters has laid an egg, it's really nothing to get excited about, Dr. Emil Witschi declared today at the University of Iowa.

Witschi said that in his experiments on sex reversal at the university he has discovered that egg-laying roosters have been known for many centuries.

"In mediaeval times," he said, "peasants believed that such roosters were possessed with devils and that their eggs would hatch dragons, but actually the change from hen to rooster was accomplished by stopping the flow of female sex hormones, usually by a disease or tumor."

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, with fogs on the coast and local thunderstorms in mountains of east portion; little change in temperature; moderate northwest winds offshore.
