JURY COMPLETE IN GLENN TRIAL

Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

"WHAT will happen," a thoughtful citizen said to this writer yesterday, "when people who have been without work and therefore without money begin to earn money again?"

"Will they SPEND their money, thus putting it back into the channels of trade and so making business better, or will they be inclined to spend as little as possible and SAVE AS MUCH as possible, so as to be ready for another rainy day if it should come?"

THE only truthful answer to that question is this: "Nobody knows." But if the past is any indication of the future, people will begin to spend again when they begin to earn again.

WERE you ever badly frightened? If you ever were, you know that the shock was pretty severe at the time. But you know also that it wore off pretty quickly. And as soon as the shock of fright wore off you went back to your old way of doing. People's natural way of doing is to spend what they earn for what they want. It is a safe assumption that that is what they will do again.

IT is spending that creates business. We all know that. In a community of misers, business would be persistently bad. But it is saving that creates credit, and without credit business can go forward. Credit involves lending, and unless people save up money there will be no money to lend. The thing that will make business good is the right combination of wise spending and wise saving. So when you begin to earn again, the thing to do is to save as well as spend.

EVERY severe depression has been followed by a wave of prosperity greater than any ever known before. That will be true in this case, as it has been true in the past. Most of us believe that the upswing that will carry us into this new wave of prosperity has started already. But, whether it has started already or not, it WILL start. And when this new era of prosperity arrives, we shall find that it is greater than any ever known before.

FOLLOWING the depression of the '30's, the nation entered upon a period of vast railroad building that made possible the settlement of the West. Out of this tremendous development arose the prosperity that followed the depression of the '70's.

AFTER the hard times of the '90's came the invention and perfection of the automobile, the moving picture, etc. The rise of these new industries, along with others, brought on another wave of prosperity greater than anything ever known before.

The prosperity that followed the setback of 1921 was based largely on getting the things we had been wanting during the war, but had had to do without.

SO much for the past. Now what of the future? It is the future we are interested in.

What is the foundation upon which the next period of prosperity, the period that is COMING, will be built?

HERE is an answer to that question, which is offered merely as this writer's own personal opinion, without any weight of authority.

The next period of prosperity, the period upon which we are entering, will be based upon putting a smaller share of the profits of industry and business into a few BIG pockets and a larger share into MANY LITTLE POCKETS, so that common, ordinary people, who make up the vast bulk of our population, will have the money to buy a fair share of the things they want.

If common, ordinary people, who make up the vast bulk of our population, have the money with which to buy a fair share of the things they want, there will be such a demand for the products of industry and agriculture that we can't help having prosperity.

SIX WOMEN AND SIX MEN NAMED HEAR TESTIMONY

Opening Statements This Afternoon—First Witness Called Thursday Morning For Beginning Evidence.

Six men and six women will decide the fate of John Glenn of Ashland, pensioned veteran of the Spanish-American war, charged with ballot-theft, and the third of 22 defendants to go on trial. The jury was completed and accepted by both sides at 10:50 this morning.

Opening statements by both sides will be made this afternoon, and the first witness for the state called in the morning. Besides the regular panel two alternate jurors were also picked.

The jury is as follows:
 Claude H. Long, Ashland, rancher.
 Elva Adams, Central Point, housekeeper.
 A. I. Brooks, Kanes Creek, farmer.
 Robert Newman, Applegate, miner.
 Sylvia L. Kellogg, Hillcrest Road, housewife.
 Doris Gerber, Central Point, housewife.
 Clyde R. Richmond, Central Point, miner.
 George B. Hammersley, Gold Hill, miner.
 Mary Spencer, Ashland, housewife.
 Charles E. Blass, Trail, farmer.
 Saddle L. Frinke, Beagle, housewife.
 Mary F. Glenn, Valley View, housewife.
 Alternates
 Roan Green, Medford, lumberman.
 Mrs. Fannie Thompson, Medford, housewife.

Two excused
 The state at this morning's session excused two prospective jurors, who under examination revealed that they entertained suspicions, "that law and order had broken down in Jackson county," as often charged by L. A. Banks, former local agitator, and convicted slayer.

Clayton Ellis, Butte Falls woodsman, called this morning, was excused by preemptory challenge. After the court had denied two requests from the state. Ellis held he would be a fair and impartial juror. Under questioning he said that he had discussed the case, but little, and had read few accounts of the ballot-theft and the Ladd and Jones trials, resulting in conviction. Miller was examined Tuesday. He admitted he had signed the Norton recall petition, and had slightly respected that "law and order had broken down."

Hammett Excused
 Harry Hammett, farmer, Medford.

SOUTHERN OREGON DELEGATION URGES MORE ROAD WORK

PORTLAND, June 28.—(AP)—Bids considerably in excess of the estimates of the state highway engineer, reflecting the recent increase in prices, were received by the state highway commission here today.

On the Canby-Aurora section and north end Aurora-Brooks stretch, bid on as a unit, the low proposal was $176,560, submitted by the Contract company of Portland. The low bid on the other unit, comprising the south end of the Aurora-Brooks section, was $162,967, submitted by Parker Schram company of Portland.

Aphalitic concrete was specified for paving the distance of 15.95 miles.

C. J. Montag of Portland placed the low bid of $34,229 for construction of a bridge over the south fork of the Santiam river on the Albany-Lyons secondary highway.

For the bridge over Mill creek on The Dalles-Coast secondary road, O. N. Pierce of Portland was low at $8,185.

The commission was asked by a delegation from southern Oregon to continue its "good work" in modernizing the Pacific highway. The group represented the Pacific Highway association of southern Oregon, and pressed for immediate reconstruction of the Siskiyou section. Those who appeared were C. H. Demaray of Grants Pass, W. C. Harding of Roseburg, S. S. Smith of Medford, G. M. Green of Ashland and Howard Merriam of Coos Bay.

A great deal of the morning session was devoted to arguments over location of the Klamath Falls-Weed highway. The routes have been surveyed, one known as the east side route entrance into Klamath Falls, and the other, the west side highway. The survey indicated the latter would be about one mile shorter and would cost $775,000 while the east route would cost $884,000.

A protest against any change in location of the Pacific highway between Junction City and Goshen was voiced by a delegation from Lane county, led by C. P. Giey. A petition signed by 800 residents of the district between Eugene and Crescent was filed. They argued that instead of moving the highway to eliminate the danger of flooding by high water, the Willamette river should be diked. The commission said there was no immediate prospect of a change, although a survey and further study will be made.

W. Virginia and California Vote Repeal

OTTO KAHN PAID NO INCOME TAX ASSERTS PECORA

Will Submit Evidence That Banking Partners Made Negligible Returns For Three Years, He Claims.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(AP)—Ferdinand Pecora, counsel of the senate banking committee, said today his evidence showed Otto H. Kahn, senior partner of the firm, Loeb & Co., paid no income tax in 1930, 1931 or 1932.

Pecora told newspapermen he also expected to submit evidence that the total income tax payments of the firm's other partners in those years was "negligible."

The disclosures were expected by investigators to give further impetus to the drive for changes in the tax laws.

Evidence recently was received that partners of J. P. Morgan & Co. paid no income taxes in 1931 or 1932 and only $48,000 in 1930.

SENATE TO INVESTIGATE KUHN, LOEB AND COMPANY

Continuing its investigation into the field of private banking, the senate banking subcommittee will inquire into the activities of Kuhn, Loeb and company of New York starting June 27. Ferdinand Pecora (left), committee counsel who conducted the Morgan inquiry, will direct the hearings. Otto H. Kahn (right), senior partner in the firm, will be the principal witness. Two other partners, Benjamin J. Buttenwieser (center, above) and George W. Bovenizer (center, below) also have been subpoenaed by the committee. (Associated Press Photos)

DRY HOPE DASHED BY HUGE MARGIN FAVORING CHANGE

Score Stands 16 To 0 For Repeal As Two States Added To Wet Lineup—20 More Needed By Wets.

By The Associated Press

One third of the 48 states have now voted to strike the 18th amendment from the constitution.

West Virginia and California made the score 16 to 8 in favor of repeal when their voters returned majorities yesterday for the 21st amendment, which aims to delete the 18th.

In West Virginia, a border state which has been dry for 20 years, the margin of the repeal victory was about 79,000 with approximately three-quarters of the ballots counted. California, which had wiped its own prohibition law from the books last year, was giving repeal a lead of about 3 to 1 as tabulations poured in today.

Repealists must win 20 more states to delete prohibition from the constitution.

The states which have voted to ratify besides West Virginia and California are: New York, New Hampshire, Indiana, Connecticut, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Wyoming, New Jersey, Delaware, Nevada, Illinois and Massachusetts.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—(AP)—California swept into the ranks of states favoring repeal of the eighteenth amendment today on a wet tide that surged even over the former dry strongholds of the south.

Only Orange and Riverside counties, the two which refused to join in the ballot avalanche which discarded the state prohibition law in November, appeared to retain signs of aridity. They were both in danger of being submerged.

The other 56 counties piled up overwhelming repeal majorities, which in San Francisco reached the dripping wet proportion of 15 to 1. Southern California generally voted almost 3 to 1 for removal of the eighteenth amendment.

The voters also favored a proposal to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse races.

HARTMAN ARRIVES FOR FRUIT TALK

Professor Henry Hartman arrived in Medford this morning and will address pear growers of the Rogue River valley tonight at the county-wide meeting called at the courthouse auditorium by members of the Northwest Pear Council under auspices of the Fruitgrowers league.

The meeting will open at 7:45 o'clock and growers throughout the district are urged by David Rosenberg to be in attendance with promise of much valuable information regarding the care and sale of this year's pear crop.

MAN IN LEATHER COAT STEALS CAR

State and city police were looking today for a young man, wearing a black leather coat, and in need of a shave—at least he was last night when he stole a 1932 Chevrolet, bearing California license, No. 328944.

The car, belonging to John Stokoe, was filled with gas at an Ashland station at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The young man, ordering the seven gallons, which he did not pay for, was wearing the black coat, described, no hat, and was needing a shave. The case was reported by Ashland police.

Klamath Deluged By Cloudburst

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., June 28.—(UP)—A record-breaking cloudburst struck Klamath Falls suddenly yesterday afternoon, sending torrents of water down the city streets too big for storm sewers to carry off. Sidewalks and doorways were washed and foot traffic halted in some sections of the business district.

TWO GET PRISON SENTENCES FOR REPEATED CRIME

Past records of Clifford Mansfield, 25, who plead guilty to entering "The Toggery" last November and stealing $1500 worth of clothing, and Roy Gregor, 20, of Portland, netted them state prison sentences when they appeared before Circuit Judge George F. Skippworth this morning.

Mansfield was sentenced to serve three years in state prison, and Gregor a year.

Gregor was paroled from a year sentence in Multnomah county on a charge of robbing a man of his auto on the streets of Portland in 1930. Later he was arrested in Klamath Falls as a gasoline thief. He was sentenced on a charge of robbing the storage warehouse of the state highway bureau on the Green Springs mountain while endeavoring to return from Klamath Falls where with another youth, he had gone seeking work. His companion as a first offender, was granted a parole.

The court followed the recommendation of District Attorney Coding for a minimum sentence.

He has to send a young fellow to prison, but what else can the court do," Judge Skippworth said, when passing sentence.

Attorney Frank J. Newman, named by the court to defend Gregor, made a plea in his behalf.

Mansfield admitted the "Toggery" robbery, and had nothing to say. The state police records show he served terms in the Washington state prison and the Washington reformatory, and was jailed in Chico, Calif., for petty thieving.

BUDDING GANDHIS NOT SO KEEN FOR INDUSTRY RELIEF

Copyrighted by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By JAMES McLELLIN.

NEW YORK, June 28.—There are a lot more budding Gandhis in the ranks of American business than you might suspect.

A couple of months ago they thought industrial control was great stuff. They were running around waving distress signals and yelling for help. Now that help is at hand they don't like it so much. So they are going to try passive resistance. That means high-sounding codes with plenty of loopholes.

There are two inside reasons for this change of heart. One is the rapid pickup in business since April. The scent of fat profits is not again in starved nostrils. Many business men no longer feel the need to be rescued and they don't want the government to horn in on the hunt.

The other reason is the government's insistence that wages and employment rank ahead of earnings. New York old-timers were shocked at General Johnson's candor on the subject. It sounds like red heresy to them and more than a few will fight it privately to the limit.

The government is well aware of this underground shift. Two powerful weapons are being forged to blast it.

BLAZE DESTROYS SLAUGHTER HOUSE OF CITY MARKET

The slaughter house of the City Meat Market, owned by Con DeYore and valued at approximately $7000 was destroyed by fire of unknown origin last night, which also burned 1000 pounds of bacon and 150 freshly dressed hogs, stored in the building.

The fire was discovered about 11:15 o'clock by Albert Trash, workman at the house, and the chemical department of the Weather Bureau, which was driving by the building on Barneburg road. The fire department was summoned and sent the chemical truck to the scene. There was no water available with which to fight the flames and the chemical truck proved inadequate. The building and ice machine and all other equipment was destroyed, representing a complete loss.

The fire started on the roof of the building and no explanation of its origin had been determined today.

CENTRAL STATES ARE TORTURED BY RELENTLESS HEAT

Relentless heat continued today to torture central states farmers whose fields have been deteriorating steadily due to the scorching sun and lack of rainfall.

Scattered showers fell in some sections last night and good rains in a few, but crop specialists said general and heavy precipitation was needed. A Minnesota expert said scattered showers had done little beyond freshen the fields temporarily. Detrimental soil baking has followed, he said, as the temperature pushed upward again today. Readings in the 80s and 90s were general.

Andrew Boss, Minnesota state agronomist, said corn and potatoes on high ground were beginning to suffer, particularly the latter crop, which he said had been damaged in sections of Minnesota to the extent of 30 per cent. Small grains in many parts of western Minnesota were beyond help, he asserted, and were suffering elsewhere.

O. W. Roberts, federal meteorologist for North Dakota, said all crops in that state needed rain badly and that small grains and pastures had deteriorated greatly. Grass-hoppers were a serious menace in many sections, he added. The state had scattered showers last night but the heat continued today.

H. G. Kenney, president of the Nebraska Farmers' union, returning from a state tour, said small grain nearly everywhere was "mighty poor," and that there was no winter wheat in western areas. Omaha had 82 degrees this afternoon. Extreme southern Nebraska had good rains last night.

Some corn damage was reported in Iowa, by Charles D. Reed, federal meteorologist, particularly in fields on thin uplands and planted late.

Wisconsin tobacco was described as suffering greatly, with drought delaying transplanting, while small grains were heading short with some yellowing. Corn was making growth with some curling. Grass-hoppers have appeared.

An area roughly within 100 miles of Kansas City, embracing the adjoining corners of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska, escaped the extreme drought common in most sections. Rain during the 24 hours ending early today included 3.85 inches at Horton, Kansas, and 3.24 at St. Joseph, Mo., while several points reported more than an inch.

EGAN FAR AHEAD IN SECOND ROUND DURING SHOWERS

VICTORIA, B. C., June 28.—(AP)—Although two over par on the first 18 holes of the 36-hole second round of the Pacific Northwest Amateur Golf tournament at the Oak Bay course today, H. Chandler Egan, Medford, Ore., defending champion, gained a 12-hole lead over Desmond Barrett, Victoria.

Egan, five times winner of the Northwest title and the oldest veteran of the tournament, continued his steady play while Barrett was finding trouble with the wet course and greens in the intermittent showers.

Albert "Scotty" Campbell, Seattle, was four up on Jimmie Todd, Victoria southpaw, at lunch time; Johnnie Shields, Seattle, was two holes in front of Ken Lawson, Victoria; Lee Steil, Seattle, went four ahead of C. W. Reid, Victoria; Dr. Cliff Baker, Kalama, took a five hole lead on Olean Taylor, Victoria.

Baker shot a scintillating 68, four under par.

SABOTAGE RUINS ROAD MACHINERY

ROSEBURG, Ore., June 28.—(UP)—Forty road workers will be out of work for a week as the result of a sabotage attempt against motor-driven equipment belonging to contractors on the Tillamook cut-off.

State and county officers today were trying to find men who poured emery dust into the motors of four trucks, a tractor and a motor-driven shovel. The latter implement was considerably damaged when put in operation, but this led to discovery of the "wreckers' activities on the other machines.

Disgruntled workmen are believed responsible for the damage.

BANKS HEALTH IS GOOD IN LOCKUP

EUGENE, June 28.—(AP)—Llewellyn A. Banks, convicted slayer of George J. Prescott, Medford constable declared he felt "fine and in excellent health" Wednesday after being brought back to jail Tuesday from a local hospital. He had been in the hospital since May 22, having undergone a major operation.

No one is allowed to see Banks at the jail. The jailers reported Wednesday that Banks walked about the jail in sprightly manner and seemed in very good spirits.

As yet no announcement has been made on the motion of Banks' attorneys for a new trial.

U. S. REJECTS NEW STABILIZING PLAN

LONDON, June 28.—(AP)—Fresh overtures to the United States to stabilize the dollar with the British pound and the French franc were understood authoritatively today to have been rejected.

Envoys of the gold standard countries, it was said, reopened the matter today with American financial experts connected with the world economic conference delegation.

The Americans were understood to have explained again Washington's position that stabilization is impossible for the present until the American price raising experiment has been tested.

MOTORISTS URGED SECURE LICENSE

An appeal to all motorists to order new license plates before Saturday, if possible, was issued today by the county sheriff's office. Licenses must be ordered before July 1 as there will be no extension and no moratorium this year.

It will be impossible to care for all in need of licenses Saturday, unless many who have not applied up to date do so today and tomorrow.

Licenses were being issued at the rate of 400 a day yesterday and with the Fourth of July holiday approaching, the sheriff's office expects an increase before the holiday and to avoid a long waiting line, which it will be impossible to care for in one day, motorists are asked to call for licenses, wherever possible, before Saturday.

ROTARY, KIWANIS LEADERS NAMED

BOSTON, June 28.—(AP)—John Nelson, at one time editor and publisher of several leading Canadian newspapers, was today unanimously elected president of Rotary International. Nelson, one of the founders of the Institute of Pacific Relations and an honorary secretary of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs served as third vice president for the years 1931-32.

LOS ANGELES, June 28.—(AP)—Joshua L. Johns, Appleton, Wis., lawyer, was today unanimously elected president of Kiwanis International.

EX-KLAN CHIEF DENIED LIBERTY

INDIANAPOLIS, June 28.—(AP)—D. C. Stephenson's last hope for aid from the Indiana supreme court in gaining freedom from state prison where he is serving a life term for murder was gone today.

Three petitions of the former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, once a political power in Indiana, were denied or dismissed by the court yesterday. Stephenson was convicted of second degree murder in 1925 for the death of Madge Oberholzer who took poison after she alleged she was attacked by the Klan leader.

WILL ROGERS says:

SANTA MONICA, Cal., June 27.—Did you read this fellow Hugh Johnson's statement in the papers? He is the dictator of the "recovery act." It sounds awful good and it made sense. Instead of letting a big concern take all the money they make and build a bigger factory, why just give the workers a little more and just keep the factory you have.

I have heard a lot of this fellow Johnson. Barney Baruch thinks he is one of our most able men. He must be on the right track. I see where some of the "big industrialists" are kicking on him already. Well the president couldn't have appointed a wet nurse for any more needy group of people than the "big ones."
