

$4,273,540 GIVEN OREGON FOR USE ON PARKS, ROADS

1, in accordance with President Roosevelt's expressed wish.
A "vast number" of additional projects are yet pending before the public works board which he heads, he said, adding that only the non-controversial had been acted upon first.
The biggest single amount in the items announced today was the $30,000,000 for the great Boulder Canyon power and irrigation project on the Colorado river. Besides this, the bureau of reclamation got $1,000,000 for the Coyote irrigation project and $1,600,000 to finish the Vale project, both in Oregon.
The international boundary commissions were allowed $1,028,000, chiefly for straightening the Rio Grande and controlling its flow, under a treaty with Mexico. This was contingent upon Mexico's furnishing part of the funds.
Announcements Wait
In most other cases, the federal funds were allotted by bureaus and departments. Individual projects in this class cannot be announced until governmental agencies receive their programs in accordance with cuts made by President Roosevelt and the cabinet board in charge of the program.
To the agriculture department was given $2,060,154; to the commerce department, $6,074,551, of which $5,355,551 is for the 1931 house service, $130,000 for the bureau of fisheries and $443,000 for the bureau of aeronautics; to interior, $53,042,319, mostly for the reclamation bureau, but including $2,620,000 for Indian schools and hospitals and $1,250,000 for improvements to national parks; to labor, $1,344,480 for improving immigration stations.
In the case of the Boulder dam, Dr. Edward Mead, reclamation commissioner, said the $38,000,000 allotment would be used in place of the $30,000,000 carried in the annual appropriation bill and that the latter sum will go back into the treasury.
Big Work Program
The public works administration announced the $64,000,000 federal program would provide 238,200 man-months of labor, or give a year's work to 21,517 men in every state in the union, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.
In allocating the $50,000,000 to roads, the cabinet board merely followed the injunction of the law under which it is operating, setting aside:
Forest highways, $15,000,000; forest roads, trails, etc., $10,000,000; national park roads, $16,000,000; roads in Indian reservations, $4,000,000; roads on the public domain, $5,000,000.
Immediate distribution of this money is contemplated.
The allotment to cities is tentative, to agreement on legal and financial details.
The law provides that such advances may be 30 per cent outright grants and 70 per cent loans, but the board did not announce whether that would be the basis.

NEGRO FORESTERS STAGE NEAR RIOT

ALBANY, Ore., July 14.—(P)—Seven negro members of the Quartzville camp, Civilian Conservation Corps, in the Willamette National forest near Lebanon, were in jail here today as the result, police said, of a disturbance at the camp. Walter Watkins, one of the workers, was charged with assault and the other six were held on charges of disorderly conduct.
Police said the disturbance started last night during a safety demonstration at the camp by representatives of a power company. Watkins, the officers said, threatened to break up the meeting and tried to strike the camp physician.
Sheriff's deputies on guard at the camp prevented what they said threatened to be a riot. Seventeen negro workers were taken to the jail at Lebanon, where state troopers helped keep the men in custody.
To Convention—Cal C. Wells, deputy United States marshal left last evening for Roseburg, where he will attend the state convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars. He plans to return to Medford to take a number of federal prisoners to Portland Sunday.
