FEHL IS GRANTED VENUE CHANGE

Comment on the Day's News
By FRANK JENKINS.

TWO ESCAPED convicts hold up a bank in Kansas. Instead of giving up tamely and relying upon the insurance company to stand the loss, the banker starts shooting. When the smoke clears away, one bandit is dead and the other fatally wounded. Strong medicine. But if there were more of it, there would be fewer bank hold-ups.

THE world economic conference, hailed in advance as a tremendous event, ends in a fizzle and will recess indefinitely on July 27. Why it waits until July 27 is not at this moment clear. Perhaps the delegates had just expense money to last until then and didn't want to lose the benefit of any of it.

IN THIS country, no tears are being shed over the failure. So far as we are concerned, it WASN'T a failure. It gave us the opportunity to let it be known that in the future we are going to have our own way, at least a reasonable share of the time, or refuse to play.

IT ISN'T that we don't want to CO-OPERATE with Europe. We do. But there is a vast difference between co-operation and being used as a doormat, as we have in the past.

JOHN BARRIER, 17, slayer of State Policeman E. M. Baucom, on Sexton mountain, will blame his career of crime on his associate, Harry Bowles, aged 21, who, he says, led him into it.

"HEAT WAVE" hits Oregon. Setting New Seasonal Highs. So reads a headline of the other day. Most of us knew it, incidentally, without reading the headline.

THE spring pig crop in Oregon this year is about 21 per cent smaller than the crop of a year ago, according to the latest estimate of the department of agriculture.

THE spring pig crop in Oregon this year is about 21 per cent smaller than the crop of a year ago, according to the latest estimate of the department of agriculture.

NORMALLY, increased production in the country as a whole means lower prices in Oregon. In the case of pork, however, this is not necessarily true.

THE Pacific coast produces somewhat less hogs than it consumes, and so sets its own prices within the limits of transportation cost. So the market for hogs this fall will depend more on what has happened here on the Pacific Coast than on conditions in the United States as a whole.

JOSEPH B. EASTMAN, federal coordinator of transportation, says that railroad presidents' salaries are too high. Several of them now receive salaries in excess of $100,000 a year.

THOSE of us who receive a lot less than $100,000 a year will agree that he is talking common sense. We are nearly always ready to agree that the fellow who gets more than we do is getting too much.

BUT REMEMBER that the railroads have been in the red, and have been complaining about it rather bitterly. For a business that is in the red $100,000 a year is an exceedingly high salary to pay.

SALARIES of $100,000 a year or more are high at any time, and it seems highly probable at the present moment that fewer and fewer of them will be paid in the future.

KLAMATH COUNTY TENTATIVE CHOICE FOR BALLOT TRIAL

Selection of Jury in Jackson County Becoming Battle of Wits Says Judge in Granting Defense Plea

Circuit Judge George F. Skipworth this afternoon granted the motion of County Judge Earl H. Fehl, charged with ballot-theft, for a change of venue, and tentatively ordered that the trial be moved to Klamath county, to start next Monday, July 24.

The court said that the order would not be made definite until he had a chance to communicate with Judge William D. Duncan of Klamath county now holding court in Portland.

The court, on two previous pleas by the defense for a change of venue had denied them—the last one with the proviso that it could be reopened.

Jury Selection Hard
The court, in granting the motion commented, "that it is getting so it is a battle of wits to select a jury in this county," and that "for the interests of both sides, it is best that the venue change be granted."

The defense renewed its venue plea this morning, following the vacation of the order, and the discharge of the jury, drawn yesterday by the coroner.

Assistant Attorney General Moody, for the state rested the venue motion on the grounds that it would "upset all previous convictions in the ballot theft cases, and result in miscarriage of justice."

Others Join Plea
All the remaining defendants, Tom L. Brecheen, J. Croft, Claude Ward, and Oliver Martin joined with Fehl, in the venue motion.

The motion was accompanied by an affidavit signed by Attorney H. Von Schmiala, alleging that a fair and impartial trial could not be secured in this county.

The state opposed the defense suggestion that the trial be moved to Josephine county on the grounds that it was the home county of Attorney A. C. Hough, and that there was high interest in Josephine county in the ballot theft trials.

GRAND FINALE FOR ECONOMIC CONFAB WILL LEAVE HOPE

Statement From Roosevelt May Be Given out to Send Delegations Home With Good Taste in Mouths

(Copyright, 1933, by Paul Mallon.)
WASHINGTON, July 18.—Men at the top here are mulling over a little fireworks scheme for the final week of the London conference.

They may display it as a grand finale statement from President Roosevelt. Or it may be offered to public gaze in last-minute resolutions adopted in the conference.

The idea is to send the London delegates home with a good taste in their mouths. Promises may be offered on currency adjustments and tariffs. Great ado is expected.

If you will read between the lines, you will see the promises do not involve any change in American policy.

The problem is largely political. We cannot afford to let the world statesmen go home feeling as they do. We must give them a little soothing syrup. Future hopes must be held out.

At least that is the reasoning of those trying to push President Roosevelt into making the gesture.

The word was passed down the line in the choicest inner-circle because all sorts of reports were flying around Wall street. These reports suggested we might peg the dollar with the pound. Also that stabilization might be offered each country individually.

Such things are coming, but not until our domestic situation is on a stable basis. You can bank on that.

The way we are now starting tariff concession talks with certain foreign nations is a good example of the new inside strategy we are following internationally.

LIFE SENTENCE PRONOUNCED BY JUDGE AT ONCE

Earl Hanscom, 28, Eagle Point farmer boy, charged with the murder of Albert J. Tingleaf, his friend and neighbor, this afternoon entered a plea of guilty to murder in the second degree and was sentenced to life imprisonment in state prison, by Circuit Judge George F. Skipworth.

Hanscom wept bitterly at the fateful words. He will be taken to state prison in a day or so.

Hanscom pleaded guilty on a district attorney's information, and waived a grand jury hearing. The court named Attorney E. E. Kelly as his counsel.

The husky appearing defendant told the court, that "it was all a mistake—and so unnecessary. Tingleaf was my friend, and I want in some way to extend my sympathy to his family."

Hanscom said he "did not know how it happened," and spoke in praise of the treatment accorded him by the state police.

The entire proceedings required hardly five minutes.

Hanscom has been pondering the entering of a second degree murder plea for several days, and reached a decision today.

Tingleaf, a middle-aged farmer, was killed by Hanscom Saturday night, July 8, following an altercation at the Eagle Point dance. Tingleaf died the following day, in a local hospital from injuries sustained in a terrific beating.

POST THREATENS NEW AIR RECORD IN GLOBE GIRDLE

Oklahoman Lands in Irkutsk, Siberia, 16 Hours Ahead of Former Mark—Punishing Pace Since Starting

By the Associated Press
Wiley Post, Oklahoma speed flier, was 16 hours and 34 minutes ahead of the record when he dropped down at Irkutsk, Siberia, at 7:35 a. m. Eastern Standard time, today on his flight around the world.

His elapsed time from New York was 75 hours and 25 minutes. The elapsed time at the same place for him and Harold (Gatty) in 1931 was 91 hours and 56 minutes.

Post, punishing nerve and flesh in his swift circling of the world, dropped down upon Novosibirsk at 7:27 p. m. Pacific Standard time, last night after a flight from Moscow. He was then 10 hours and 19 minutes ahead of the Post-Gatty time.

He stayed only two hours and 35 minutes, and when he left at 10:05 p. m. he added six hours and 38 minutes to his lead.

Lithuania was preparing a state funeral today for Stephen Darius and Stanley Girensa, Lithuanian-Americans who attempted a flight from New York to their native land only to crash in a wood near Soldin, Pomerania, Germany, only 400 miles from their goal. A Nazi guard of honor stood at their biers in Soldin.

Lithuanian officers planned to fly the bodies to Kaunas, Lithuania.

Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were at their base at Cartwright, Labrador, where fog has prevented a continuation of their aerial mapping tour.

Gen. Italo Balbo, feled at Chicago, planned to lead his squadron to New York Wednesday. He will visit President Roosevelt before leading his aerial armada back to his homeland.

Jimmie Masters, whose attempt to set a record around the world was wrecked with his plane in Siberia, still had his heart set on completing the journey solo. He was reported to have boarded a Soviet plane at Anadyr, Siberia, for Nome, Alaska, but his whereabouts thereafter were not immediately learned.

ADDITIONAL SEWER FACILITY SEEN AS HEALTH INSURANCE

The question of Medford's sewer system, upon which the voters of the city will decide on July 28, is of vital importance from a health standpoint it was pointed out by chamber of commerce officials today in the following statement:

"The major portion of the sewage of the community is now discharged through a septic tank into Bear creek between Jackson and Cottage streets.

AIMEE MAY GET DIVORCE DECREE

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(AP)—A possibility that Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton may obtain the divorce decree in the suit filed against her by David Hutton was foreseen today.

Jerome Mayo, attorney for Hutton, who sued the evangelist on grounds of mental cruelty, said it was possible today that he had received instructions from the Salem offices, concerning observance of the basic traffic rules, and other state laws.

He stated that rigid enforcement of the laws will be enacted, and that the practice of issuing warnings is being discontinued. Where violations occur, arrests will be made, he stated.

REPEALISTS LEAD TWO STATES VOTE

By the Associated Press.
Prohibition repealists took the lead in first returns from referenda in Alabama and Arkansas today, forging ahead 344 to 168 on meager returns in Alabama and registering 44 to 1 vote in the only precinct reporting in Arkansas.

Arkansas voters were slow in casting their ballots and indications were the total vote would be light, but Alabama voters, aroused by decisions to be made on constitutional amendments, were balloting heavily and some estimates predicted the total vote would reach 200,000.

JURY LIST FOR TRIAL OF FEHL ALL DISMISSED

The jury list of 100 names, of which 64 were available for service, drawn yesterday by Coroner Frank Perri, upon orders of the court, in the trial of County Judge Earl H. Fehl, charged with ballot theft, were dismissed this morning by Circuit Judge George F. Skipworth.

The state, through Assistant Attorney General Ralph E. Moody, filed a motion to quash the order, providing for the coroner selecting the jury list, and the defense did not "oppose" the motion. The court then granted the state's plea and ordered the coroner's jury panel discharged from further duty. Women predominated upon the panel, which was drawn in open court in the presence of counsel for both sides from the registered voters' files.

The state's motion asked that the order, made for the drawing of the prospective jurors in this manner, be annulled and set aside, as contrary to the provisions of the Oregon laws on the subject.

The state based its contention upon the provisions that, when for any reason the regular jury list is exhausted, additional jurors shall be drawn from the body of the county, and from names of persons on the TAX ROLLS. The state held that the legality of Sheriff Walter J. Olmstead holding office was not an issue in the Fehl case, that he was sheriff de facto, and that the coroner, therefore, had no power to draw the list.

The state in its memorandum, in support of its motion to quash, cited that "the method of selecting jury service is entirely within the control of legislative action, provided only that the fundamental requisites of impartiality is not violated"; that the "general method as prescribed by law is mandatory and must be followed"; and "that the qualifications of jurors and the manner of selecting them, are prescribed by statute, and the court cannot add to, or detract from them."

Coroner Perri reported to the court that he was able only to serve 54 of the 100 persons drawn on the list yesterday, due to removal from the county, death, illness, age and other reasons.

The action of the court in vacating the order, delayed the selection of the jury, scheduled to start this morning.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

SANTA MONICA, Cal., July 17.—It's a good thing those Italians landed in seaplanes. If they had landed on the ground they wouldn't have had room to land for Italians. Well, they have great cause to rejoice. You know where the idea came from don't you? Teddy Roosevelt, when he sent the fleet around the world. There was a lot of Mussolini in that old boy.

I will bet you that this Wiley Post makes it around the world and breaks his own record. I would have liked to have been in there with Post instead of the robot. And I could have if I had known as much as it does.

Well, the unemployed will be coming in pretty soon from the London conference.
