

FRUIT MEN GIVEN DETAILED REPORT ON ORGANIZATION

Open Covenants Will Be Policy, Dr. Dean Tells Group Growers and Shippers—Committee Named

By Jeunese Butler. Open covenants openly arrived at. This will be the policy of the fruit interests of the Rogue River valley, as interpreted through the president of the Fruit Growers' league of Jackson County, Inc., Dr. George B. Dean, who made the announcement at the meeting of valley growers and shippers held yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Medford.

The purpose of perfecting this organization, as explained by Dr. Scherer, was to "perfect an organization to work under the agricultural adjustment act, and for the consideration and adoption of articles of incorporation and by-laws and a code of ethics and practices to that end."

Dr. Dean and Mr. Scherer were the medical delegates. Mr. Scherer presided at the meeting and was elected president of the new organization, the home office to be in Portland.

Mr. Scherer reported on the Spokane meeting and D. Rosenberg on the California situation. Reviewing the purposes and objects for which the corporation was organized, Mr. Scherer stated such purposes and objects would "operate under the act of congress known as the 'agricultural adjustment act' approved May 12, 1933, entitled 'An act to relieve the existing national economic emergency by increasing agricultural power, to increase revenue, to extraordinary expenses incurred by reason of such emergency, to provide emergency relief with respect to agricultural indebtedness.'"

All in Organization. The corporation, Mr. Scherer further stated, will have enlisted in its membership, all those engaged in the handling of fruit of the Pacific northwest and in the flow of interstate and foreign commerce.

Mr. Scherer declared the producers' interests would be carefully safeguarded, there being no disincorporation over the master code between the independent growers and organizations. Copies of the code, including articles of incorporation and by-laws, will be sent to Medford within a few days by William H. Horsley, acting secretary of the Northwest Fruit Industries, Inc., and may be obtained at the Medford Chamber of Commerce. It is understood the code may later be modified by the secretary of agriculture.

Committees Named

Another important step at yesterday's meeting was the appointment of fall and winter Bartlett pear commodity committees, as follows: Raymond R. Reter, D. R. Rosenberg, G. R. Green, P. J. Naumes, D. B. Wood, Martin Luther, John R. Tomlin, J. C. Barnes, S. A. Nye, Corning Kenly, R. J. Earl, Gilbert Hill and H. Van Rosenberg. In addition to the Bartlett pear committees already appointed were the names of E. W. Carlton, S. B. Richardson and Dr. Swendburg of Ashland.

Jack Spalding reported the receipt of a wire from Frank T. Sweet, of the California Pear Growers' association, stating that one of the largest canners had purchased 2000 tons of Sacramento river Bartletts at $25 per ton for No. 1s, the purchase specifying two and three-eighths inch, and larger pears.

The total value of the commodities handled by the new organization and the wholesale markets is estimated to be $90,000,000 per year.

MEDFORD BOYS EARN C. M. T. C. BADGES FOR GOOD MARKSMANSHIP

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash. July 20.—(Sp.)—They may not shoot from the hip in Wild West style, but when it comes to puncturing bullseyes with army automatic pistols the citizens' military training camp students here this year are pretty good notwithstanding.

Virtually all of those who fired, despite the fact that the army M1 is a rugged customer and not easy to shoot; and also despite limited time for practice and limited ammunition with which to shoot. The boys, however, also did well with the heavy army rifle in qualifying as C. M. T. C. marksmen or sharpshooters. While a fair percentage of those who fired machine guns qualified as gunners.

Badges signifying their proficiency have been presented to the students, by order of Col. Harry A. Wells, commander. Qualifications include the following Medford boys: Albert C. Gaddis, rifle sharpshooter. Philip C. Quisenberry, rifle sharpshooter. Walter B. Kindred, marksman. Walter J. Young, marksman.

Repeal Chief Jubilant; Dry Leader Says Fight On Rum Never to End

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—Repeal of the 18th amendment before the end of 1933 was held today to be certain by Jonett Shouse, president of the national association against prohibition.

"The verdict of the American people is just as certain, is just as well known and is just as commanding now as it will be when the last detail has been completed," Shouse said in a statement commenting on the repeal elections Tuesday in Arkansas and Alabama.

"It is now highly probable," the statement continued, "that not merely the necessary 36 states will ratify the pending proposed 21st amendment to the federal constitution but that it will be ratified by all the 48 states of the union."

"This is certainly a result to be hoped for in order that the steps toward repeal may be taken by an absolutely unified nation."

"Defeated successfully in such strongholds as Indiana, Iowa and West Virginia, our prohibition friends tell back upon the south as their last possible line of defense. Now that it has been demonstrated beyond cavil that the south, too, favors repeal, now that it is apparent that no possible list of thirteen states can be compiled which will hold out against repeal, it is not the part of wisdom for the dry forces to submit gracefully to the popular will and resume the constructive work toward temperance which has been so utterly destroyed through the attempt at national prohibition."

Shouse added orally that in his opinion "the greatest aid to temperance is to have beer sold on every corner."

CARAVAN TO VISIT HATCHERY AT B. F. On next Tuesday, July 25, a caravan of Medford merchants will leave the Chamber of Commerce at 2 p. m. and proceed to the new federal fish hatchery at Butte Falls, under the direction of T. E. Daniels, chairman of the game committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Those who desire to make the trip are urged to communicate with the Chamber of Commerce immediately.

HENSELMAN DISCUSSES INVESTMENT SECURITY AT ROTARIAN MEETING

Local Rotarians enjoyed an interesting discussion on "Investment Securities," by George Henselman, at their regular weekly meeting Tuesday noon.

Mr. Henselman showed himself to be an authority on his subject and told his hearers many things of interest regarding past and present conditions in the financial market. A brief description of the new securities act was given by the speaker, who told some of the purposes for which it was designed.

Following the close of the talk an open forum was held and Mr. Henselman answered numerous questions propounded by his interested audience.

Wm. Holt, chairman of the program committee, announced a talk on "Archaeology," by Wm. Wates, scheduled for next week's meeting. Plans for an inter-city golf tournament were discussed and a challenge was presented to the Grants Pass Rotary club.

The silver golf trophy won by the local Rotarians some time ago was exhibited to those present.

President Simon announced the attendance record for the past twelve months to be 89.28 per cent with a membership total of 37 and paid tribute to the past president, Al Lantis, for his very successful administration.

Will you stand for this gouge tax on your table? Will you stand for having the cost of living raised in thousands of Oregon homes where there already is too much suffering? Will you stand for the precedent of a tax on one food, which will certainly lead to other food taxes! Once and for all, kill this vicious, discriminatory tax.
