Gorgeous Girls In Craterian's Sunday Program

True feminine beauty is the scarcest thing in the world. Gold and platinum, diamonds and rubies are plentiful by comparison. So says Busby Berkeley, dance impresario, stage and screen director, whose novel chorus line will be remembered in "42nd Street" and who again created the dances and ensembles for the Warner Bros. picture "Gold Diggers of 1933," which opens at the Craterian theater Sunday.

Appreciation of feminine beauty is eternal and universal and the search for it has gone on unremittingly for countless generations. In other ages beauty was concentrated in the pagan temples. More recently it was centered on the stages of New York and London. Today it is being collected in Hollywood, destined to adorn the silver screens of all the world. Berkeley conducted a search for feminine beauty throughout Southern California for "Gold Diggers of 1933." The Warner Bros. studio was seriously in the market for youthful feminine beauty, selecting girls not only for "Gold Diggers of 1933," but with an eye to training them for other pictures. From more than five thousand applicants, he gathered the 80 girls who are featured in the choruses of "42nd Street." He interviewed ten thousand fine girls of really surpassing loveliness for Warner Bros. latest musical hit.

WARDS RECEIVES FURNITURE CARS

Two special carloads of furniture have been received at the local Montgomery Ward store on South Central avenue in preparation for the "Buy Now" sale which starts tomorrow morning, offering southern Oregon home owners an exceptional opportunity to purchase high quality furniture at low prices.

"In view of the fact that higher commodity costs are already necessitating increases in merchandise prices, we feel that this sale is one which our customers cannot afford to pass up," C. D. Bean, manager of Medford's Montgomery Ward store, said today.

Following the August furniture selling event, prices are scheduled to be raised, according to advance information received by the store management.

FIR SLAB WOOD AVAILABLE HERE

Concurrent with the reopening of the Owen-Oregon sawmill in this city the past week, many people will be glad to know that a limited supply of selected fir slabwood in 12-inch and 15-inch length is now available to those who wish to obtain next winter's wood at a big saving over winter prices. The Valley Fuel company and the Medford Fuel company have arranged with the Owen-Oregon Lumber Sales company to sell and distribute these slabs and an advertisement elsewhere in today's paper indicates that orders are now being taken and deliveries will be made, starting early next week.

This announcement will be welcomed by those who in past years have found that a substantial saving can be made by buying fir slabwood during the summer at even less than former prices.
