

Medford and Ashland Will Clash on Fairground Diamond Sunday

ROGUES' CHANCE TO WIN PENNANT HANGS ON GAME

Haight's Men Expect Easy Time Taking Lithians — Roseburg Invades Eagle Pt.—Klamath in Coquille

Where They Play Sunday
Ashland at Medford.
Roseburg at Eagle Point.
Klamath Falls at Coquille.

Manager Harold Haight's Medford Rogues will tangle with the Ashland Lithians Sunday at the fairgrounds in a game upon which will hinge Medford's pennant aspirations. The opening pitch is scheduled for 2:30 sharp.

Medford Has Change for Flag
Although resting in fourth place, two games behind Coquille and Klamath in first, Medford still has a chance for the Southern Oregon League pennant. But in order to finish in second position and get in the playoff, the Rogues must win their two remaining games; Ashland Sunday and Klamath Falls the following Sunday.

According to dope, the Ashland game should be a cinch. The Lithians are in the cellar, having won but one game while Medford is right in the thick of the race. But, the one game that the Lithians have won this year was against Medford. Altogether, Ashland and Medford have met five times this summer with the Lithians coming out on top in three of them, including the one league affair.

Ashland Tough Not to Crack
Ashland has proved the hardest team for Medford to beat of any the Rogues have tackled. On July 4th, the two teams split a double-header. In the first game, Cliff "Chief" McLean pitched the Lithians to a 9-0 shutout, the only whitewash Medford has received all year. Caldwell won the second 13-1, with McDowell in the box.

McLean, a full-blooded Plute Indian, will be on the mound for Ashland Sunday and Medford will be in there with revenge foremost in their minds. Manager Haight will probably start Bill Lake in the box. Lake beat Coquille, league leaders, last Sunday.

Heavy Hitting Teams
Both clubs have several heavy hitters in their lineup. Haight, Williams, Stone and Coleman can plaster the ball for the Rogues while McLean, Joanis, Purvis, Don Montgomery and Brown are Ashland's long distance hitters. Brown is the well known "Elmer the Great" of Prink Cullison's Oregon varsity football squad.

Other Southern Oregon league games see Eagle Point entertaining Roseburg, and Klamath Falls hopping to Coquille for the game which will decide the league leader.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 28.—(AP)—Midnight king of outlaw horses, 'a about to be retired.
The magnificent black horse, 17 years old, is to wind up his days after the present frontier days show on the McCarty and Elliott ranch at Chugwater, Wyo.

Considered by the rodeo world as the greatest bucking horse since Old Steamboat, the ebony buckler has been losing the wedgie's high side and hands out of the saddle for years. But ringbone and the infirmities of equine old age are coming on him.

His owner, Eddie McCarty, said today Midnight will come out of the bucking chute for the last time Saturday. The champion rider of the 1933 show will be aboard.
And then, with, lose or draw, the old horse will never again feel the touch of saddle leather or spurs.

BELCASTRO GETS 30-DAY BLACKLIST
A suspension from participation in Medford wrestling cards for 30 days was slapped on Pete Belcastro, gymnastic Sacramento, Cal., grappler, today by the city boxing commission as a result of the matman's conduct in and out of the ring at the armory last night.

According to the boxing commission, Belcastro disregarded warnings against unorthodox tactics in his match with George Koverly and later engaged in an altercation with Referee Ray Frisbie near the dressing room door, the pair coming to blows.
The boxing commission has been lenient with grapplers showing here, despite the fact that some exhibit temperamental outbreaks which would shame a prima donna. However, it was felt that Belcastro had gone too far and that a 30-day suspension was in order.

Ohio State Co-Ed Is New Threat To Trapshoot Honors

Mercedes Huff, 18-year old Ohio State student, will be a strong contender for the women's title in the national trapshoot at Vandalia, O.

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A new trapshooting star is looming on the horizon.
When shooters from all over the country gather at Vandalia, Ohio, August 21-26 for the annual Grand American championship, the feminine contingent will be faced by a new threat.

She is Mercedes "Tommy" Huff, 18-year old Ohio State university co-ed, who finds her recreation from her studies and stenographic work on the firing line at the Columbus Gun club.

Miss Huff has been practicing faithfully all summer and has hopes of lifting the North American women's crown from the brow of Mrs. H. G. Grigby of Oklahoma City. It's no great trick for the Ohio State co-ed to break 60 straight targets any evening she goes to the traps.

Last year, with little or no preliminary preparation, she entered the Ohio championship at Vandalia, stood on the line with many a veteran shooter and shattered 91 out of 100 targets to walk away with the state women's title.
Beside being an excellent shotgun shot, Miss Huff is proficient with both the rifle and revolver.

SALEM, July 28.—(AP)—The Salem national championship drum corps will play at the American Legion state convention at Klamath Falls before embarking for the World Fair at Chicago. Manager Tom Hill announced today.

The corps will make only a short stay at Klamath Falls because of the expense involved in making the eastern trip. Four practices a week are being held by the 35-man corps.

CHILDREN CREMATED WHEN AUTO BLAZES
OAKLAND, Cal., July 28.—(AP)—Trapped in the rear seat of a flaming automobile, two children were burned fatally today while their parents fought to rescue them.

The victims, Emily Marie, 2 and Esther, 1, children of Merlin Smith, jobsite auto mechanic, were riding in the back seat as the family drove to Pleasanton where Smith believed he could find work.

LOCAL AMATEURS SIGN FOR PLACE IN RING TOURNEY

Trio of Heavies Among Simon Pures Seeking Honors in Legion Affair Will Take Few More

WORROUT TONIGHT.
Boxing fans and fanettes, making up the largest crowd to ever witness a training workout in Medford, will swarm to the Legion's open-air arena near the Main street bridge at 7:30 tonight to look on free as Medford's game amateur fighters begin pepping up with the gloves for their furious conflicts with the invaders in the coming Golden Gloves tourney.

They're signing up!
With the battle cry "The out-of-town fighters shall not pass," Medford's favorite amateur fighting men last night began enrolling in numbers to fight for the glory of their city and state against the "enemy" in the American Legion's huge Golden Gloves ring meet, to be presented on 14 Medford Armory battle front here nights of August 14, 15, and 16. Others are to be accepted at tonight's first free public workout.

A trio of giant heavyweights, ranging in poundage from 165 to 215 pounds, headed the list of tussles to enroll last night. They are Jack Anderson, Bill Henderson and Carl Hooper and all are Medford warriors. Each figures he will win the Dempsey trophy going to the winner of the man-mountain division of the tourney.

In the class made famous by Harry Greb, Mickey Walker and Stanley Ketchel, two local middleweights, Ernie Morris and Freddie Shafer, signed up.

Five aspiring huckles registered to fight in the welterweight division noted for its Jimmy McLarnin, Young Corbett, Jack Britton and Joe Dundee. They were Jimmy Palmer, Paul Sakralis, Garrett Dewa, Don Lyon and Ted Lindley. Lightweights from Medford with ambitions to duplicate the feats of Benny Leonard, Tony Canzoneri, and Barney Ross to enter were Denny Wood, Jimmy Campbell, Paul Doe and Clarence Cook.

Three likely looking featherweights registered were Carroll Hughes, Joe Dennen, and Cleo Hicks. Rex Gillinsky, Tommy Gillinsky, Bert Luman, Doyd Prince, Wilfred Hoffman and Don Darrella, promising bantamweights, signed under the Medford banner. Rex Pegg and Frankie Neal were the outstanding flyweights to enroll.

Only a few more local huckles are to be accepted for the free training and as color bearers for Medford, Lee Showers, tourney director, announced today. All tourney fights will be for three two-minute rounds. From 15 to 20 wild and exciting fights will make up the card on each night of the three-night meet, with the first fight starting at promptly 8:15 and the last bitter struggle ending no later than 10:30.

PRO DESCRIBES AN IDEAL CADDY
DEL MONTE, Cal.—(UP)—Charley Brown, popular head caddy master here, has picked his ideal caddy.
The boy must be young, man, neatly dressed, with a quiet voice, polite and always attentive. He always should be loyal to his player and professionally indifferent to his opponent. He must be able to locate the ball after the widest slice with a nonchalance that makes the shot look "not so bad."

Advice must be given by the caddy only upon request. The driver must be traded for the putter before the player is conscious of leaving the green.

THEY DISABLES JAP WRESTLER WITH WRISTLOCK

The odd tumble, while Belcastro was disqualified by Referee Ray Frisbie for persistent roughing and the match awarded George Koverly of Hollywood. Shikina, 208 pound Japanese, who is built like a Billikin, but acts like a pretty good wrestler, was They's boss at Jiu Jitsu, throttling Ted into submission with a strange hold to win the first fall in nine minutes.
The grapplers changed from Jiu Jitsu to American style for the second fall, and Shikina survived about a dozen butts and was wary of They's educated elbows, but forgot about the "flying heel"—a good swift kick in the tummy — They landing with his right foot and following up with a punishing wristlock that resulted in a painful injury to the Japanese boy's shoulder. The fall came after seven minutes.

Shikina's shoulder will be X-rayed today to determine the exact damage. According to Promoter Mack Lillard the Japanese will probably be forced to cancel a number of matches, losing several thousand dollars before he will be able to work again.

Pete Belcastro, Sacramento bad boy, came out second best in two matches, dropping two out of three falls to George Koverly, 208, Hollywood, in the first bout and a lone tumble to P. C. Bigham (weight unannounced) and a state cop in the second melee in nothing flat.

Belcastro took the first fall from Koverly in 9 minutes. The Hollywood man was inclined to wrestle, and tried out his repertoire on Belcastro, but Pete kept his shoulders out of the resin, nibbling at George's shapely buttocks whenever the going got rough, until he could land his favorite rabbit punch and pinned Koverly's shoulders to the mat with a flying scissor.

Koverly won the second fall in seven minutes when he booted Belcastro in the neck and used headlocks and a body slam for the finishing touch.
Belcastro came back after an extra five minutes' rest, and went after Koverly in his usual slam-bang style, but Referee Ray Frisbie decided he was too free with the strange hold and awarded the match to Koverly. Belcastro left the ring in a rage and after a hot exchange of words with Frisbie near the dressing room door.

It was rough sailing at the armory last night for Oki Shikina, Japan, and Pete Belcastro, Sacramento. Shikina in losing the second fall to Ted They, Portland, suffered a dislocated shoulder and could not return for the crowd was denied a free show, however, as the combatants were promptly separated. When Belcastro insisted on continuing the impromptu engagement, P. C. Bigham entered the fray and discouraged him with a smack on the ear that could be heard all over the house. A state policeman with a ready "zap" appeared and Belcastro faded out for the evening.

The crowd was one of the largest of the season and the card one of the most entertaining ever staged in Medford.

SATURATED-NOT SOUSED BY 48 8-OUNCE STEINS

PATERSON, N. J., July 28.—(AP)—Michael Sciro drank 12 quarts of 3.2 beer—48 eight-ounce steins—to prove it is not intoxicating.
The beer was consumed last night in a contest in which five others, one a woman, dropped out after the first 12 minutes. Sciro went on for 16 minutes more and gulped down a total of 384 ounces.
Dr. B. F. Smith of Ridgewood then examined Sciro and found him "neither liquored nor intoxicated."
When the others dropped out, Dr. Smith examined them and discovered they were "liquified but not intoxicated."
Dr. Smith explained by the term "liquified" he meant being so thoroughly saturated with the fluid that the body could not contain or accept any more of it.

WIFE OF MENJOU SEEKS ALIMONY
LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—A petition for temporary alimony was filed today by Kathryn Carver, actress, as an aftermath of her divorce suit against Adolphe Menjou, "beau brummel" of the screen.
Miss Carver demanded $2350 a month alimony pending a settlement of the suit. Together with $15,000 attorney fees and $2800 court costs. She repeated a plea for a restraining order against Menjou to prevent him from "mortgaging or hypothecating" community property estimated at $600,000.
She charged that Menjou gambles for high stakes and she feared the estate might be dissipated.
Menjou said informally he was willing to have Miss Carver win the divorce but that he intends to oppose her infidelity charges. He said she already had been given "an adequate property settlement."

CALIFORNIA HEAT DECLINES AFTER DEATH TOLL OF 9

By the Associated Press.
Hope for a break in the Pacific Coast's heat wave, with its two-day death toll of nine, was pinned on the weather bureau's forecast of "somewhat cooler" for today or tomorrow.
Five deaths yesterday in southern and Central California were attributed to sizzling temperatures which sent thermometers in the latter region up to as high as 116 degrees.

Two men perished under the broiling sun of the southern desert land though temperatures generally were cooler for the region than the previous day's torrid spell, which claimed four lives. At Los Angeles, the workman of 89 was four degrees under Wednesday's hottest mark of the year.
A day old baby succumbed at Hanford, in Central California, where the mercury registered 116, reported as a record. Another baby, a year old, died at Sanger, in the same region, and at Fresno, where the high reading was 114, a woman was found dead in her hotel room.

The northern California coast and Pacific northwest reported comfortable temperatures, much below those of the previous day.
Forest fires, however, were widely scattered. A blaze in the Becker river valley of Washington had burned over 600 acres. Flames sweeping through brush near Grass Valley in the California Sierras were battled by Civilian Conservation Corps workers. Another fire on the edge of the San Bernardino national forest in Southern California was reported as checked.

MANY ARRESTED FOR VIOLATIONS FISH, GAME LAW

SALEM, Ore.—(UP)—Violation of fish and game laws resulted in 175 arrests in Oregon during June, reports the state police department.
Four of those arrested were acquitted, 23 cases still are pending. Fines collected came to $3,994.30. Sixty-five persons were taken into custody for fishing without licenses, 18 for illegal possession of venison, 17 for foul hooking.

Other arrests by wardens included selling food fish without license 11, illegal possession of fish 5, illegal fishing 4, hunting without license 3, using artificial light 3, hunting in closed season 2, hunting deer with dogs 3.
Hunting game birds in closed season 1, hunting after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise 3, hunting from power boat 1, illegal possession of game birds 1, killing fawn and doe deer 1, untagged deer 2.

General law enforcement arrests by state police during the month included involuntary manslaughter 1, murder 2, assault and battery 7, robbery 4, burglary 12, larceny 53, auto theft 7, arson 2, counterfeiting 1, disorderly conduct 4, drunkenness 46, forgery 4, fraud 5, aiding and abetting crime 3, defacing public buildings 2, insanity 7, carrying weapons 2.
