

O-O EMPLOYEES WILL ORGANIZE BOOST WOOD USE

In step with the Chamber of Commerce movement to increase employment, J. H. Owen of the Owen-Oregon Lumber Sales company has arranged for organization of employees as members of Woodworkers' Trade Promotion League this week. Owen-Oregon started operations recently, employing 250 workers.

"In supporting this movement Mr. Owen gives further proof of his lifelong interest in the welfare of his employees," states Wesley Plunkett, organizer for the woodworkers' league, who is here to secure their signatures to a pledge that they agree to support workers in the lumber industry by demanding articles made of lumber, and favoring the purchase of all merchandise packed in wooden containers.

"President Roosevelt's plea for greater employment can be answered by all citizens through their cooperation with this effort to create more work for those engaged in the manufacture of timber products," declared Plunkett. "A survey of all industry reveals that workers in timber and its manufacture into the many utilizations of wood receive an outstandingly large share of the lumber dollar, where as in the manufacture of substitutes thereof, automatic machinery displaces hand operations, with corresponding reduction of payrolls.

"If we unite in this effort to further the use of wood products, we will not only recover for local industry the employment we once had, but hasten the success of the National Recovery Act."

Workers of the Owen-Oregon plant responded wholeheartedly to a plea made by Plunkett in a talk given them at the noon hour Monday, all pledging themselves to further the use of wooden containers.

Election of a secretary and an investigating committee to check with merchants as to brands of goods arriving in wooden boxes will be announced after a meeting for that purpose to be held in the near future. Regular meetings of employees will take place and reports made by the secretary as to progress of the movement, and plans for future action will be discussed.

FARM HANDS CLAMOR FOR INCLUSION UNDER RE-EMPLOYMENT PLAN

While the program, based upon Medford's unanimous endorsement of President Roosevelt's re-employment agreement, was progressing rapidly in the city this afternoon, rumblings were heard from the country, where farm hands are demanding recognition and inclusion in the wage agreement adopted by city employees.

Clamoring for shorter hours and more pay on several farms, the laborers are reported on the verge of throwing down the pitchfork if they are not included in the president's re-employment agreement.

The chamber of commerce, when interviewed this afternoon, stated that no information regarding the farm situation had as yet been received. Whether or not farm hands are to be employed at the same minimum hours and wages, could not be determined today.

In the meantime farmers were eagerly awaiting news from the capital while laborers continued work in the hopes that the new program will include them.

SKIPWORTH PAYS TRIBUTE TO LATE JUDGE HAMILTON

KLAMATH FALLS, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Circuit Judge George F. Skipworth of Eugene, presiding at the trial of Earl H. Fehl here, paused at the opening of court Monday to pay tribute from the bench to the memory of Circuit Judge J. W. Hamilton of Roseburg, who passed away Sunday.

"It has been said of Judge Hamilton that he was severe on the bench. It has always seemed to me that he showed me courtesy and consideration, when I was a struggling young lawyer.

"Judge Hamilton was an outstanding citizen of high ideals, sterling honesty, and deep integrity, with no superior as a jurist in this state.

It can be said there was no backdoor to his court. No lawyer was at a disadvantage before him—in other words, he played no favorites.

"The state of Oregon has lost one of its most useful citizens, and higher education an outstanding exponent. He was a great believer in higher education and did much for that cause, as a regent for 19 years of the University of Oregon.

"The memory of Judge Hamilton will live for years. He was a splendid citizen. He was my dear friend."

Judge Skipworth recalled that he had served with Judge Hamilton on University of Oregon board of regents.

Judge Hamilton served continuously on the bench for 35 years. Judge J. W. Knowles of La Grande, is the first oldest judge now in point of service; Judge Skipworth is second, with 18 years and six months of service.

Reach for a Lucky

for always Luckies Please!

I feel closer to my cigarette each time I smoke

I really can't help it. After all, one does develop a personal regard for a thing that comes in such intimate contact with one's lips. And since I am a woman, I do appreciate the fact that my Lucky Strike never offends my fastidious sense of daintiness. Men smile at my feminine reasoning. To them the character of Luckies' fine tobaccos seems more important. But my woman's intuition tells me that the purity of "Toasting" is never to be forgotten. And so, the more I smoke, the closer I feel to my cigarette.

because "It's toasted"
