

DENVER STREAM AGAIN TRANQUIL AFTER RAMPAGE

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Cherry creek flowed docilely in its concrete-lined channel today, bearing no resemblance to the roaring torrent which took three lives and did damage possibly in excess of a million dollars.

Denver residents long have feared what happened soon after midnight yesterday—the collapse of the Castlewood dam, 35 miles upstream. The granite masonry structure, constructed 44 years ago, has been a menace for 20 years and engineers frequently pronounced it unsafe. A cloudburst in the plains country east of Castle Rock, where the dam is located, brought down sufficient water to cause the break.

Damage to Denver was confined to bridges—12 of them were taken out by the flood—the warehouse section and the Country Club residential district through which the creek runs. The largest portion of the estimated damage $500,000—was that to farmers along the course of the stream from the dam to the city limits.

A heavy death toll was averted through the quick action of Hugh Paine, caretaker at the dam. The storm knocked down telephone lines but he rode horseback 12 miles to Castle Rock and notified Denver police the dam had collapsed. A dozen police cars, sirens shrieking, went through the lowlands and warned residents to flee.

EAGLE POINT GRANGE HEARS DAIRYING TALK BY PHOENIX MASTER

Eagle Point Grange met in regular session August 1. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Maust of Phoenix Grange.

The Grange balloted favorably on two applications for membership. Committee reports were brief, except the good of the order committee whose chairman, Sister Haak, gave the last of a series of talks on the qualifications of a good Granger.

The program was in charge of the Rogue River cowboys. The first number was a talk on dairying by O. C. Maust of Phoenix Grange, after which the cowboys grouped themselves round the evening campfire giving a number of musical selections on violin and guitar, with many jokes and songs during the program.

The cowboy yodelers came in for their share of accolades, all of which was heartily enjoyed by everyone.

Next program will be put on by the Juvenile Grange. H. E. Club met July 28 at the home of Mrs. Grace Walker with several visitors from Phoenix Grange in attendance.

Mrs. L. O. Castor, Elva Castor, Mrs. Luak and Mrs. Ray Ward gave a very interesting talk on the H. E. C. work. Mrs. Hutchinson, Sr., of Trail was also a guest. Ice cream and cake were served to the guests by the hostess.

Ruch

RUCH, Aug. 4.—(Spl.) Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton, and Mrs. W. H. Matney, Mr. and Mrs. Curly Johnston and Misses Mary and Betty and Master Bobbie Johnston picnicked on Big Apple, July 30.

Mrs. Mary Stevens, Mrs. H. R. Turpin, Mrs. Janet Turpin and Donald Turpin, were dinner guests of Mrs. Lillie McDougal July 28. In the afternoon all went to call on Mrs. Louise Ray.

Will Ray and Bob Hughes left for Cinnabar Springs on Aug. 2nd, where they will spend several days camping and enjoying the mineral spring. A cougar was killed by a trapper at the Pappas ranch Aug. 2nd. This animal had been seen twice before but it had not been possible to kill it.

Miss Mabel Carter was taken to the hospital in Medford July 28th for an appendicitis operation.

Fred Saurwein returned to Ruch last week.

Roland Smith attended the barbecue at Medford.

Martin McDougal made a business call on John Pernoll Aug. 2nd.

AMERICA NEARING INITIAL STEP FOR RUSS RECOGNITION

master general's office has done the shopping for C. G. C.

Decision to focus final authority for equipment purchases on Pechnner came as a result of insistent rumblings just under the surface that federal money was being wasted. The National Whirligig learned and reported that nearly a quarter million canvas cots were bought at prices ranging from $3.10 to $3.25, whereas specifications for the regular army at that time placed the maximum allowable at $2.45.

One of the innovations the New Deal plans to present in Washington is a federal salary adjuster. The idea has been talked over at White House meetings of the super-advocacy council and seems to have clicked. Pirating of employees by various of the emergency organizations brought the matter up.

It seems that quite a lot of high-pressure gentlemen have come to town to shove temporarily at the government wheel. They've been used to efficiency in their own offices and expect it here. Consequently they shop around.

When a girl or man is found with particular recommendations she or he is bought over at a higher wage.

This is possible under existing conditions in the government establishment. Under the Economy Act and other previous laws, federal pay can't be increased during the depression period in the old departments. Also, everybody working in them gets a 15 per cent sock in the nose.

Most of the emergency setups are free from these restrictions, however. Thus it is easy for a man in NRA or the Tennessee Valley Authority—just to name two—to offer some crack stenographer or secretary or statistician now working in one of the regular departments $200 to $500 a year extra to jump.

This has been going on only in the $1800 to $3500 salary classes. But that's where the bulk of your taxes is spent so far as the payroll is concerned.

After all these years of storm and strife, Uncle Sam is about to get himself some accurate and comprehensive figures on unemployment.

They'll be ready in about a month. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration is preparing them under the guidance of Chief Statistician Correlation Oil. Such figures will be invaluable. The labor and commerce departments and the American Federation of Labor have been estimating pretty closely, but the forthcoming schedule is advertised to be without guesswork and carried out to the Nth degree.

Five thousand units, covering every county in the country, are furnishing the reports. They are to be broken down so one can tell how many are getting direct and indirect relief and exactly how many are out of work in any given locality.

You're plumb crazy if you don't think Mrs. Roosevelt is just about the most democratic person you ever met.

Certainly you'd appreciate the fact if you could have seen her blue roadster parked in front of a local hotel the other day.

The First Lady—she prefers to be called the Nation's Hostess—had just left the White House to pick up her friend, Lorena Hickok, former newspaper woman now doing road work for the Emergency Relief Administration.

Prof. Ray Moley came back to Washington after last week-end in New York and couldn't find the new Wesley Heights house he had rented. The assistant secretary of state had to put up in a hotel until next morning when he could get directions from Assistant Mullen. The house had been rented the Friday previous. Mullen found it. Moley dashed through the rooms a mile a minute and said okay.

He forgot to get the street number.

Mrs. Mabel Carter was taken to the hospital in Medford July 28th for an appendicitis operation.

Fred Saurwein returned to Ruch last week.

Roland Smith attended the barbecue at Medford.

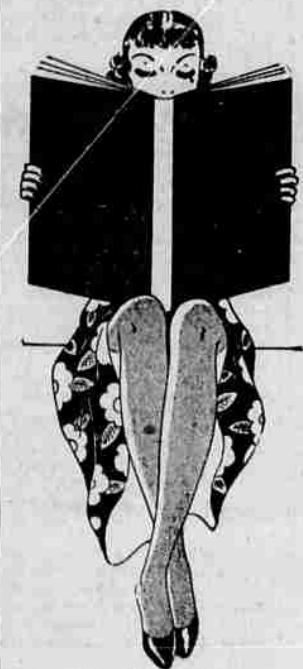

Martin McDougal made a business call on John Pernoll Aug. 2nd.

Action as Promised

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT in his inspiring inaugural pledge his intention to "Put first things first. Action—clear, planned, intelligent has followed without faltering. Now he has appealed to the nation to join him in the name of patriotism and humanity". More action—is the response of Mann's. Starting last Tuesday this store put in operation a 40-hour week for employees. This, of course, means employment for new workers, added spending power available to this community and quickened steps in the march to recovery. Action, in his footsteps, will govern Mann's in assisting that program.
