

FEHL CASE GOES TO JURY'S HANDS MID-AFTERNOON

The defendant reiterated that the first he had heard of the ballot robbery was about 9:30 when he came to the courthouse, but could not recall who told him.

Fehl declared that he was in seclusion in the rooms of his attorney, E. VonSchmidt, at the time during the three days following the return of the indictments, and while the state police were seeking to serve a warrant upon him. Fehl said he did this to have time to provide $15,000 bonds and "keep from going to jail."

The final query of the state, which met with strenuous objections from the defense, was:

"When you appeared in court, after you gave yourself up, you wore gloves?"

The court sustained the objection. Gore in rebuttal.

E. E. Gore of Medford was the first rebuttal witness for the state. Gore testified he was in the courthouse when the recount decision was handed down. He fixed the time as 4:20. Gore said while he was coming out of the courthouse he met Commissioner R. E. Nealon, who asked "me to keep an eye on Tom Brechean and Croft." The witness said he did until 4:30 o'clock.

Gore testified that he saw Brechean and Croft enter the county judge's office when the door was opened, after they loitered outside 15 or 20 minutes. Gore said three other men he did not know accompanied them. Gore testified that Dick Silinger and J. E. Griffin of Medford were with him while he watched.

Cross-examination of Gore was marked by several lively set-toes between the witness and Defense Attorney Ehrhart. At one time Gore asked heatedly, "Are you trying to infer I am not telling the truth?"

Gore testified that he did not see Mrs. Electa Fehl or Mrs. Shirley Hugg, who testified they left the county judge's office about 6:30.

Mrs. Fehl, the final witness for the defense, testified she saw Gore standing in the hall, where she said he was, when she entered the courthouse shortly after 5 o'clock.

Trip to Yreka Told. Deputy Sheriff Phil Lovd testified that on January 1 last he drove Gordon L. Schermerhorn, sheriff-elect, from Yreka, Cal., to Fehl's home in Medford, arriving between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning. Lovd said Fehl told them:

"You're not supposed to be here until tomorrow. You are a day too soon. Get out of town and stay out."

Lovd testified they drove back to Yreka, and returned to Medford the next day, arriving at Fehl's house between 6 and 7 o'clock. Lovd went to his home and returned at 7:30 to Fehl's. Then all appointments had been made, he said.

Fehl testified that he had "no interest in Schermerhorn's election or retention in office."

Grand Jurors Deny Request. O. L. Knight and Paul McCarley, members of the grand jury, testified that to their personal knowledge no member of the grand jury had requested Fehl to address the "congress" on the night of the robbery.

Frank R. Root, temporary chairman of the "Good Government Congress," when it was first organized, testified that Fehl had signed a membership card and paid him $1.

Under cross-examination Root testified there were no membership fees, but each applicant paid what he desired.

Captain Carl Y. Tengwald of the Medford National Guard testified the Sexton brothers bore good reputations for truth peacefulness, during the year they were members of the militia.

The trial started Monday, July 24, and was brought to Klamath county on a change of venue. The defense started last Tuesday afternoon. Fehl was on the witness stand for eight hours.

Fifth To Be Tried.

Fehl is the fifth defendant to be tried for the sensational ballot theft. J. Arthur Labrau, former business aide of L. A. Banks, Walter J. Jones, ex-mayor of the town of Rogue River, and Sheriff Gordon L. Schermerhorn have been convicted. John Glenn, former county jailer, was acquitted.

Virgil Edington of Gold Hill and E. A. Fleming of Jacksonville had their cases dismissed so they could be state witnesses.

Wayley McKittrick, C. W. (Chuck) Davis, Wilbur Sexton, Mason Burley Sexton, Earl Bryant, James D. Gaddy, R. C. Cummings and C. Jean Conner, vice-president of the organization, have entered pleas of guilty.

Tom L. Brechean of Ashland, J. Croft, "the man with the horsehair coat," and Oliver Martin, former Klamath county farmer, will face a jury here next Monday on the same charge.

Claude Ward, brother-in-law of L. A. Banks, convicted slayer, has demanded a separate trial, and will be tried later.

CARNATION ALBERS ADOPTS RNA POLICY

Conforming with President Roosevelt re-employment program and the return of prosperity, the Carnation-Albers company has announced an increase of salaries in all departments. This encouraging information was received today by F. L. Pletcher, southern Oregon representative for Carnation-Albers, with headquarters in Medford.

The salary increases will include readjustment in working hours, according to the letter from Theodore Portland of Seattle, general sales manager for Carnation-Albers company.

The Ashland city council will be called upon to consider the earwig situation there, according to O. V. McChive, Ashland city attorney. The bugs are setting to be quite pests, he stated, and some action will have to be taken soon. Purchasing of some parasitized earwigs from Portland will be considered.

2 WEEKS' GRACE GRANTED FIRMS IN CODE SIGNING

Johnson reiterated no country-wide policing force is in contemplation to secure compliance, and that most of the work of seeing to it that the agreement is carried out must be left to a local committee in every city.

However, the administration is ready to step in with prosecution of any flagrant violations under the provision of the industrial law which carries $500 fine for violation of any regulations issued by the administration or the president to carry out the industrial control movement.

"Teeth to Be Used" At the same time, Johnson warned, no "recalcitrant minority" would be permitted to hold up the recovery program.

Asked if there was a likelihood of the "teeth" of the recovery act being utilized if small groups did not go along on the program with their industries after a specific code has been adopted, Johnson said:

"It's not a likelihood; it's a dead certainty."

He added, however, the whole aim of the act was to avoid use of compulsion.

Asked if 5 and 10 cent chain stores would be given a separation from the already existing retailers' code so they can operate on a different hour and wage basis, the administrator said, "Not."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(AP)—The national recovery administration late today authorized immediate adoption of modified reemployment agreements for 11 industries ranging from advertising specialties to retail lumber products.

The industries thus permitted to put into effect wage and hour terms of their own codes in place of the blanket N. R. A. agreement include producers of ice cream, fluid milk, oil burners, printing, wheat flour milling, retail lumber products, and building materials and building specialties.

For the advertising specialty industry minimum wages of 30 cents an hour for a 40-hour work week was provided.

Lumber Dealers Agree The retail lumber and building materials dealers obtained a 40-hour week with exceptions from emergency and seasonal employment and with minimum wages set by states or zones ranging from 30 cents in Alabama, to 45 cents in California, and the larger cities in several states. Wages of 35 and 40 cents an hour were provided in the rest of the territory.

The printing industry agreement fixed a 40-hour work week for all mechanical employes with provision for overtime wages. The printers league section of the New York Employment Printers Association, Inc., was given an 8-hour day with a maximum of 40 hours a week and time and one-half for overtime.

Milk Industry Cooled The fluid milk and ice cream industries were given a 48-hour work week for factory and pasteurized plant workers and a 40-hour week for accounting, clerical and office help subject to a 10 per cent tolerant monthly. A three-hour a day work week period was provided for minors between 14 and 16 years age. Excepted from the 48-hour week were the outside route salesmen and managerial forces.

There are scientific reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN in preventing and relieving common constipation. Laboratory investigations show that it supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines; and vitamin B to promote appetite, and help tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food-elements aid regular habits, and help do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming!

Just eat two tablespoonsful of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Besides, ALL-BRAN brings your body twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.
