

KLAMATH INVADES MEDFORD SUNDAY FOR FINAL GAME

Triple Tie for First Place Is Possible in Southern Oregon Baseball League — Interest in Game's Revival

Where They Play Sunday
 Klamath Falls at Medford.
 Coquille at Roseburg.
 Ashland at Eagle Point (forfeited to Ashland—0-0).

Southern Oregon baseball league will end its 1933 schedule next Sunday with Medford entertaining a Klamath Pelican team which is still very much in the running for the pennant. Coquille playing Roseburg in another crucial game, and Ashland and Eagle Point being idle due to the breaking up of the Eagle Point team. With the cancellation of the Ashland-Eagle Point game, those two teams are through for the year.

Red Hot Race
 Three teams are still in the running for the Southern Oregon league pennant, and after Sunday's game a triple tie for first place is possible. If Klamath beats Medford and Roseburg defeats Coquille, all three teams will be tied. However, if Coquille wins from the Vets, the flag will go to the coast city with no strings attached. But, if Medford beats Klamath and the Vets take Coquille, then Roseburg and Coquille will be tied.

Medford Clinch for Fourth Place
 No matter how the remaining games come out, Medford's Rogues are a cinch for fourth place.

Bill Lake will probably start on the mound for the Rogues Sunday, with George Harrington catching. Molitor or Scroggins, both left handers, will pitch to Frisco Edwards for the Pelicans.

League Successful
 The Southern Oregon league, organized at a meeting in Ashland during May, has met with a success almost unbelievable. Year after year attempts have been made to complete a league schedule in southern Oregon but, until this year, attempts were in vain.

The success, no doubt of the Southern Oregon league this year is due to the fact that in all league towns the teams were under men who really wanted to play ball and build up a lagging interest in the game on the part of the fans which had existed for a number of years.

Interest Coming Back
 Beyond any possible doubt, baseball, the national game, is coming back to the place it held in the hearts of sport lovers ten years ago. That is the report from all over the country. And especially is it so here in southern Oregon, for the past few years, the poorest baseball territory in Oregon.

The Southern Oregon league was lucky to have old timers like Bill Porter of Coquille, Red Ruppert of Roseburg and Frisco Edwards of Klamath Falls to have teams entered. These men have all been connected with baseball in Oregon for many years and they gave the necessary stability to the league to keep it on its feet and finish its schedule. Credit must also be given to Harold Haight of the Medford club, Billy Hulien, Ashland manager, and Paul Hoffer of Eagle Point to keep going when their teams were out of the running and the financial situation was not so good.

May Have All-Star Team
 With the completion of the schedule next Sunday, plans will get under way for the formation of an all-

Truck Driver

There will be knockdowns and knockouts galore when game fighting men of Oregon start throwing gloves at the "enters" from other states, including Illinois and Indiana, during the Legion's benefit amateur boxing meet at the Medford Army nights of August 14, 15 and 16. Shown above is a towering heavyweight truck driver from Eugene, entered in the tourney under the name of Jack Rios. "Give me the toughest opponent possible the first night, as I want to find out right off the reel whether I am a fighter or a truck driver," Rios wrote in his letter of enrollment. He is a six-footer.

star team to be picked from Medford and Eagle Point. Portland teams may be brought to Medford and Grants Pass and northern California teams will be played.

Final batting averages of the Ashland team show Cliff McLean leading with an average of .588. Hulien and McLean are tied for home runs with two each, while Hulien leads in the run column with 14. Averages of Ashland players hitting over .250 follow:

ANOTHER GIANT SIGNS TO FIGHT IN TOURNAMENT

225-Pound Farm Hand From Baker Area Will Seek Honors — Can Withstand Kick of Horse, He Boasts

Another man-mountain enrolls. Big Orville Stein, powerful farm hand from near Baker, has signed to fight in the American Legion's mighty interstate amateur boxing tournament to be offered on the Medford Army battlefield here nights of August 14, 15 and 16.

Standing six feet and three inches in height and weighing 225 pounds, Stein says all of his fighting has been confined to street brawls, but feels sure he can take plenty of punishment, if need be, during the hostilities.

"I don't know whether or not I can fight, but do know I can take punishment, because not long ago I was kicked by a horse on the farm and wasn't hurt much," wrote Stein as he registered to throw gloves in the big Legion relief fund benefit tourney here. He asked to be matched with Jack Anderson or any other tough opponent on the opening night of the meet.

Anderson, one of Medford's towering man-giants, is willing to accommodate Stein.

"Just to see that boss into the ring with me on the first night of the tourney and I'll take him like Gen. Grant took Richmond," Anderson growled, following his brisk workout at the open-air training camp near the East Main street bridge last night. He meant it, too. Anderson weighs 198 and is six feet and four inches in height.

Fistic Critics Coming.
 That the tourney is the biggest sports event ever staged in Medford is attested in the announcement today that newspaper representatives and fight promoters from far and near will be on hand to bear witness as Oregon's favorite fighting men make a valiant attempt to repel the attack of the out-of-towners on the

AMERICAN TEAM TROUNCES ALIEN MITT AMATEURS

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Paddy Mulligan, a big Irish cop, standing six feet, four inches, started back to his home in dear old Ireland today with his left ankle in a cast, and a jump on his jaw as the only knockout victim of the international amateur boxing bouts fought in Soldier Field last night before 50,000 spectators.

The amateur golden glove champions triumphed over the Irish invaders six bouts to two in the third series of international contests. The American team, in the first international conflict two years ago, conquered invaders from France, and tied the Germans last year.

The only two Irishmen to win were Paddy Connolly, a barrel chested, lantern-jawed little soldier of the Irish free state army, and Frank Kerry, a bantamweight. Connolly defeated Lenny Cohen of Chicago, in the flyweight class, while Kerry won from John Ginter, another Chicagoan. Those two bouts were the first of the program.

John Pacek, Chicago heavyweight, outwitted 23 pounds, dlimaxed the American triumph by knocking out Paddy Mulligan in the first round of their heavyweight battle. He sunk a left hook to the body and then drove a right to the jaw, and Mulligan dropped to the floor, falling so awkwardly that he broke his left ankle.

Professional boxing promoters rubbed their eyes in amazement today over the crowd that witnessed the amateur battles. The 50,000 spectators were the most that ever witnessed an amateur boxing show, and even surpassed the attendance at professional championship matches in the last two years.

Last night's bouts were sponsored by the Chicago Tribune which will devote the profits to a fund for feeding hungry school children.

ROLLING SCISSORS EXPONENT DRAWS AGAINST KARASICK

Lee Wolfe, champion heavyweight wrestler of Texas, showed Medford wrestling fans why he was champion of that great state at the Army last night when he gave Al Karasick, the Russian Lion, something to think about.

The bout went to a draw with each getting one fall, but fans were almost unanimous in their opinion that had the match gone another few minutes, Wolfe would have taken the third fall.

The large crowd that saw the match declare the Karasick-Wolfe match to be the best bout seen here in years, and are clamoring today to have Wolfe back here again.

Karasick took the first fall from Wolfe, but was unable to long endure Wolfe's rolling body scissors. Wolfe winning the second fall. Wolfe was the most popular wrestler with the crowd seen here in many months as he was a clean wrestler and stayed inside the ropes.

Bob Kruse won two out of three falls from Everett Kibbens, former Big Ten champion, in the main event of the evening. Kibbens took the first fall from Kruse with a hammerlock, but lost the second to Kruse on a body slam. Kruse had a decided edge on Kibbens throughout the match, to retain his record of not having lost a match since he has been wrestling here this summer.

AMERICAN GIRL GOLFER FIRST TO BEAT PRINCE

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Miss Beatrice Gottlieb of Tuckahoe, N. Y., has earned the proud distinction of being the first woman of any nationality to beat the Prince of Wales at golf.

She will take back to America in a few days a box of golf balls given her by the prince. Also, she will return home minus one of the clubs from her caddy bag. The club now is in the possession of the prince, a gift from Miss Gottlieb.

A one handicap golfer, Miss Gottlieb, 28 and blonde, is a member of the Mount Vernon Country club.

"I was invited to play with the prince and we had a round at Sunningdale," she said. "We finished all square after a little bit of indifferent golf here and there.

"Afterwards we went to Comoo hill. Archie Compston (British pro) joined our match and he went the round in 65 and gave us both a terrible beating.

"The prince surprised me at the excellence of some of his shots. He took an 83 for the round and I was a lucky golfer to take 80 strokes. I won the match by 5 and 4 on level terms.

"During that round the prince saw an iron club with which I imagine I was playing rather well. I asked him if he would like to have it and I felt quite happy when he said he would take the club."

"The prince gave me a box of golf balls, of which I am very proud," Miss Gottlieb said, "and he signed my golfing scorecard which I shall always treasure."

Miss Gottlieb, who is competing in the woman's championship in Chicago, was the sole American challenger at the British woman's championship at Gleneagles, but was beaten in the first round.

As far as is known here, Wolfe and Browning are the only two heavyweights in the game who use the rolling body scissors successfully. Powerful legs are necessary, and both men are adequately equipped in underpinning.

Billy Newman of Denver, 195-pound scrappy and tough heavy, will meet Al Karasick. Lillard points to this match as having unlimited possibilities, as Karasick likes nothing better than a scrappy man of about his own weight.

Les Wolfe, the body scissors expert, who bested Al Karasick last night, will meet Ted Thys, Portland matman here next week. It was announced by Promoter Mack Lillard late today. Wolfe proved highly popular with the Medford fans and will appear against Ted Thys by popular demand of the fans.

Wolfe's scissors is an adaptation of the Jim Browning offensive, wherein Wolfe, after fastening on the scissors, rolls from side to side, beating his opponent into submission on the mat. Browning perfected the hold and has fought his way up to become one of the leading claimants to the world's heavyweight title with it, having thrown Strangler Lewis and other big shots.
