

JENNINGS ENTERS HIS 3-C BOYS IN AMATEUR BOXING

Crater Lake Camp Contingent Coming in Strong for Big Punching Program at Armory, Starting Aug. 14

Ralph Jennings, ex-sheriff of Jackson county, will be in charge of the contingent of game fighting men from C. C. C. camp No. 1632, Crater Lake, when they begin throwing gloved fists in the grand opening of the American Legion's great relief fund benefit championship amateur boxing tournament at the Medford Armory battleship a week from tonight. The mighty ring classic is to last for three nights.

George (Red) Vickory, heavyweight, will head up the Crater Lake crew of matadors. He hails from a suburb of Chicago. Billy Smith, welterweight, and Billy Pettijohn, lightweight, are others on the Crater Lake team.

Medford's amateur fighting men will go into the final week of hard training tonight in preparation for their conflicts with the out-of-towners when the curtain goes up on the tourney hostilities a week from tonight. The public is invited to see the local train at the open-air training camp, near the East Main street bridge, at 7:30 tonight. All Medford amateurs will report.

Lee Garlock, post commander, and Carl Y. Tengwald, chairman of the Legion tourney committee, have instructed Les Showers and Dick Russell to put on the greatest card of fights in Medford's history for the opening night's program a week from tonight. The bill will consist of 19 to 20 wild-eyed fights in all weight classes. The fights will be for three rounds each, with no draw decisions being allowed. The Oregon fighters will be seen tearing into C. C. C. camp fighters from other states, including Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri.

Get Tickets Early.

Tourney officials today issued a warning that in view of the hundreds of visiting fight fans due to follow the out-of-town fighters here, that local ring devotees should either get their tickets or make their seat reservations as soon as the sale opens at Cio's confectionery, Main and First streets, early Friday morning of this week. Despite the bigness of the tourney most popular prices will prevail for the big fights.

There is to be no delay between fights when the big affair starts with a bang next Monday night. From the time the first pair enter the ring at promptly 8:15 p. m. until the last man is "gunned" not later than 10:30, there will be thrills and excitement galore dished up for the onlookers.

No Radio Broadcast.

In answer to several inquiries, tourney officials made it unmistakably clear today that there is to be no radio broadcasting of the sensational fights on nights of the tourney. "Reports to the contrary are without foundation," Carl Tengwald declared.

While the Medford amateurs are seen resuming training here tonight, amateur fighting men all over Oregon and in C. C. C. camps, as well as in California, too, will be found going into the last week of preparation for the big bouts.

THEY SLATED FOR TOUGH NIGHT IN WOLFE'S SCISSORS

Assured of a spectacular bout when Ted Wolfe, of Portland, and Les Wolfe, Texas champion and "rolling scissors" expert, meet at the armory Thursday night, Medford wrestling fans are making early bids for ring-side seats. It was disclosed this morning.

Wolfe took the fans by surprise last Thursday when he went to a draw with the Russian Lion, Al Karasick, and had Karasick groggy at the going ending the match. Each took one fall. Wolfe, one of the few men in the United States who can execute the "rolling scissors," has such powerful legs that he can clamp on a fearful legs that he can clamp on a body scissors. He is on his back and thump his opponent back and forth on the mat until he beats him into submission.

Billy Newman, of Denver, 105 pounder, will meet Al Karasick in the first bout of the evening. Although Karasick has suffered a few defects of late it has always been by men over the 200 mark. Newman, scrappy and rough, is expected to give Karasick all he wants.

Jim Browning, claimant to the world's heavyweight title, is the only other wrestler on the coast who uses the "rolling scissors" effectively. Wolfe learned the art from Browning, who threw Strangler Lewis with the hold.

Last week's bout drew nearly a full house at the armory, and Mack Lillard, promoter, expects a larger turnout Thursday.

Bend And Wolfers Knotted For Lead

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Wolfer's Federals of Portland went into a tie with Bend for leadership in the Oregon State baseball league yesterday as they defeated the Elks on their home ground, 10 to 8. Bend went into a tie to lead early in the game, but the Portlanders pounded Murphy, Bend hurler, hard in the latter stages for their win.

Tourney Gossip

Ralph Jennings—"Keep an eye on our Crater Lake amateur fighters when the Legion tourney starts a week from tonight."

Jack Anderson, Medford heavyweight—"If I win my fight a week from tonight I want the tourney officials to keep tossing the other heavies into the ring with me. I want to lick a half dozen of 'em before leaving the ring."

Herman Burgoyne—"Medford steps into the sport spotlight in a big way when the Legion's amateur boxing meet begins a week from tonight. Will I be there? Nothing will stop me."

F. E. Nandie—"The American Legion is to be commended for bringing the amateur boxing tourney to Medford. It means a lot to the town by bringing in hundreds of visitors. I wouldn't miss the opening card a week from tonight for anything and will be on hand for tickets when the seat sale opens Friday morning."

L. E. Ackley—"Amateur fights are to my liking. Medford has some crack nukes in the Legion tourney."

C. E. Cerveny—"Jack Anderson ought to be run in to fight a week tonight when the Legion tourney starts. I am feeding him raw T-bone steaks. I want him to win, too."

Lee Garlock—"We have instructed Les Showers and Dick Russell to match up all the tough hombres on the first night of the tourney and we guarantee the fans they will see more action a week from tonight than they have seen here in years combined or they may have their money back after the show."

Dr. A. F. W. Kresse, Chief Tourney Physician—"I can hardly wait until the amateur fights begin a week from tonight. Boy, how fists will fly. Ard may be the best man win."

Major Clare H. Armstrong—"Our C. C. C. camp fighters will be in there fighting from going to gang a week from tonight and if that spells victory they will win."

Dick Russell—"The Medford amateurs will all be on hand for the workout tonight. There isn't a quitter in the bunch."

COQUILLE WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Coquille Loggers won the championship of the Southern Oregon Baseball league here Sunday by defeating the Douglas county Vets in the last scheduled game of the season by a score of 12 to 0. The Loggers landed on Nelson and Paust for 12 hits, which, coupled with four errors on the part of the local team and eight passes issued by Nelson and Paust, gave the visitors an easy victory. Gilbert allowed the Vets only three hits and gave only one base on balls.

ROGUES WIN LAST GAME FROM K. F. BY 9 TO 7 SCORE

McLean Has Situation Well in Hand, Except for Initial Inning — Will Play Gold Hill Nine Next Sunday

Medford's Rogues won their final game of the Southern Oregon league season yesterday, defeating Prisco Edwards' fast Klamath Falls Pelicans, 9 to 7, in one of the best games played at the fairgrounds this year.

With the exception of the first inning, when the Pelicans scored three runs on one hit, two walks, a hit batsman and an error, Chief McLean, Medford's pitcher, held the situation well in hand and kept the rest of the six hits made off his delivery well scattered.

Besides holding the visitors to six hits, McLean struck out 11 batters and fielded his position like a professional. Without a doubt, every fan that witnessed the game will agree that McLean is worthy of the contract which he has received from the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast league.

The Rogues looked better yesterday than at any time this year, and with the exception of Jonas and Hulén, played errorless ball. Williams brought the fans to their feet in the fourth inning when he mazzed an almost impossible catch of a foul ball from a bat of Malisore, while Haight, Medford manager, starred at shortstop, taking several hard chances without an error.

The batting star of the game was Virgil Swanson, with four hits in five times at bat, while Forette, Haight and Harrington each scored two hits. For the Pelicans, Woods, shortstop, clicked off a two-bagger and two singles to lead the attack.

Manager Edwards strengthened his outfit by signing up Paul Hufford of Eagle Point. The Hoosier came through by playing a bang-up game in center field and demonstrated his ability as a pitcher by holding the Rogues to one run when he was called to the mound in the seventh inning.

Next Sunday the Rogues will meet the Gold Hill nine at the fairgrounds. The Gold Hill aggregation has not lost a game all season and has been gunning for the Rogues for the past two months. McLean will again be on the mound for the Rogues next Sunday.

Fishing Lines

Hints for Those Who Angle in Southern Oregon Waters

Carl Y. Tengwald, who spent Sunday at Lake of the Woods, reported today that many were complaining about poor fishing, but that Emerson Merrick of Medford brought in a limit catch of trout Saturday evening, and F. Wilson, Wait, the cur's handmaster, was also catching a few.

Inaccessible bodies of water, particularly Buck lake and Four-Mile lake in the Blue canyon section just south of Lake of the Woods, are good places to get the limit, according to reports received here.

Reports from Gold Beach say that salmon fishing on the lower Rogue has not been very good during the past week, and a number of commercial fishermen who do not reside there are leaving.

Only a short distance from the highway in Curry county, limit catches of trout are being made in the small streams, it was learned here.

Word from Gold Beach states that a large school of salmon is on its way north from California waters, and fishing is expected to improve greatly with the arrival of that body.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Bush spent Sunday at Hyatt lake, where Bush caught the limit of bass. A number of good crappie catches were being made at the lake yesterday, they said. Mr. and Mrs. Bush left here early, and cooked breakfast at the lake, and also had lunch there, returning to Medford early in the evening.

Carl Bowman and L. F. Kuenhler left this morning for the Grants Pass section to fish for bass.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lampert and Mrs. Lampert's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Max Telford, went to Diamond lake yesterday to try their luck fishing.

Farm Fighter

Farm fighters, including Freddie Styger, an Oregon ring pride, shown above, will attempt to blast their way to victory over city fighters when the curtain goes up on the Legion's gigantic amateur boxing tourney at the Medford Armory one week from tonight. Eight states will be represented in the meet because of the C. C. C. camp entries.

PUBLIC LINKS AGE MORE CONCERNED WITH GETTING JOB

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Charles Ferrera was more excited today over the possibility of getting his job back in a San Francisco foundry plant than he was over winning the national public links golf crown for the second time.

"I'm glad to have won the championship again, but I'll be a lot happier if the old cup helps me get the job back which I lost a year ago," said the Californian, who scored a neat 4 and 2 triumph over the defending titlist, Robert Lee Miller of Jacksonville, Fla., in their 36-hole skirmish at the Eastmoreland municipal course here Saturday.

Ferrera is the second golfer to capture the championship more than once, but he still is behind the record of Carl Kaufman of Cleveland, who won the trophy in 1927, '28 and '29.

Tab Boyer, Portland newspaperman, shared honors with the Californian in the twelfth annual show, winning the medal trophy in a 36-hole playoff with Leslie Leal, Bellingham, Wash., yesterday. The two youngsters tied for the lead in the qualifying play and held up the close of the meet an extra day by having to put on the special match.

HUDKINS DROPS DECISION TO CAFE KEEPERS PISTOL

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Personal bad boy of flistic circles, Ace Hudkins, one-time Nebraska wildcat, is in a hospital in nearby Glendale with two pistol slugs in his chest, to show for what police described as a cafe brawl early yesterday.

In no immediate danger of dying, but in a serious condition, Hudkins will go on the operating table today in doctors' efforts to stop a hemorrhage by removing the bullets, one of which lodged in the right upper lobe of his lung.

Hudkins embarked on his most recent night club flistic celebration, witnesses told police, when he with several friends arrived at the cafe in an openly belligerent mood. The mid-dleweight, whose fists still carry weight in spite of lack of training and self-advised dissipation, punched a few of the patrons for a warm-up. As the proprietor, M. H. Harris, asked Hudkins to take his fights outside, the witnesses said, Hudkins decided to show him "how to run your place."

Police were told that the boxer pulled a gun from his pocket and brandished it in the face of Harris. Harris, alarmed, drew a gun at the same moment and fired. Hudkins plithed to the floor, face down, while patrons fled to the street.

The cafe proprietor fired only twice. The one slug, of small caliber, entered the lung. The other ranged downward into the pelvic cavity.

HELEN JACOBS, IN GALLANT TENNIS FIGHT, SAVES CUP

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Out of one of the most dramatic Wightman cup series in history, Helen Jacobs emerges as the tennis rock on which Great Britain's spectacular comeback finally culminated.

The blonde Californian's courage under terrific pressure, her gallant rally when she was within two points of the defeat that in all probability would have won the cup for Great Britain, overshadowed all other developments, including the remarkable showing little Sarah Paley made as the injured Helen Willis Moody's substitute.

Beaten in all three of the opening day's matches, the British squad rallied to win the first two singles tests Saturday and seemed to have the cup all but won when Peggy Scriven won the first set of her duel with Miss Jacobs.

But the American champion rallied to take the second set and then, trailing 3-5 in the third, reeled off four games in a row for set, the match at 5-7, 6-2, 7-5, and the victory that gave America the cup for the third consecutive year.

Twice in the final set Miss Scriven was within two points of victory, but each time Miss Jacobs declined to yield an inch.

America's victory was its eleventh since the series began in 1923. Great Britain has won four times.

Motorship Cheats Sands Of Columbia

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Free after having been held for 24 hours in the clutching sands on lower Sand Island, the Danish motorship Stensby proceeded to Astoria today for a survey to determine what damage had been suffered by the grounding. The Stensby was removed from the sand through the assistance of the coast guard cutter Redwing and by her own efforts.
