

But Stones Sink!

WHEEL CHAIR FINISH TO LONG FLIGHT.

Muscle Shoals Chief

MOLLISON TUNES UP OCEAN PLANE

POSTMASTER GENERAL AT PLAY

This rhinestone-dotted bathing suit (silk and rubber underneath the spangles) attracted attention when Edythe Lawrence wore it on a California beach. (Associated Press Photo)

Starting the last and most painful lap of their Belfast to New York air venture, Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Mollison are shown leaving a Bridgeport, Conn., hospital in wheel chairs for an ambulance-plane ride to Floyd Bennett field. They were hurt in a landing crack-up at Stratford, Conn. (Associated Press Photo)

Arthur Morgan (above), president of Antioch college in Ohio, was named by President Roosevelt as chairman of the Tennessee valley authority. Achievement of the new Muscle Shoals program will be part of his work. (Associated Press Photo)

Capt. James A. Mollison, who with his wife, Amy Johnson, plans a round-trip flight over the Atlantic, is shown turning over one of the motors of his plane, the Seafarer, for a test flight at Carnarthen, Wales. (Associated Press Photo)

James A. Farley, the postmaster general, is pictured with his children as they had a splash in the surf at Deal, N. J., where the Farleys have a summer home. At left is Betty and Ann is on the right while their brother, James, Jr., is riding high on his dad's shoulders. (Associated Press Photo)

BABE DOES HIS STUFF IN BIG GAME

INTRODUCING GARY EVAN CROSBY

REPEAT DUEL OF 20 YEARS AGO

LATEST TENNIS FLASH OF WEST

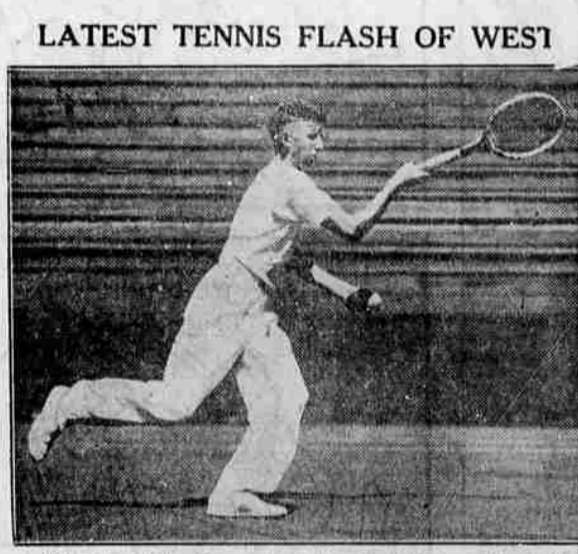

Babe Ruth, home run king of the Yankees, is shown crossing the plate after hoisting one of Bill Hallahan's pitches into the right field stands at Comiskey park, Chicago, in the game between American and National league all-stars. Gehring of Detroit scored ahead of him. Welcoming the Bambino is his teammate, Lou Gehrig, (No. 4). (Associated Press Photo)

Three weeks old Gary Evan Crosby, son of Bing Crosby, singer and film actor, and Dixie Lee, former actress, was given his first introduction to cameras for this picture in Los Angeles. (Associated Press Photo)

When Connie Mack (left) and John McGraw met as managers of the all-star American and National league teams, respectively, in the big game at Chicago they re-enacted roles they occupied exactly 20 years before when as pilots of the Philadelphia Athletics and New York Giants, they last faced each other in a world series. In the 1913 series Mack's team won, four games to one. (Associated Press Photo)

When Don Budge, 17, won the California men's singles tennis title, he proved a sensation and a great future was predicted. He's the youngest person to ever win the title. He will soon invade the east. (Associated Press Photo)

BACK FROM VACATION IN EUROPE

NEW ROMANCE FOR JACK DEMPSEY?

HELEN SINGS MATRIMONIAL TUNE

PRESIDENT SIGNS SECURITIES BILL

Morton Downey, singer, and his wife, Barbara Bennett, actress, returned to New York recently from a vacation in Europe. (Associated Press Photo)

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, and Hannah Williams, former wife of bandleader Roger Wolfe Kahn, were photographed thus in Kansas City, where Dempsey was quoted, regarding their rumored engagement: "Well, there might be some truth in it, but I'm not going to get married right away." (Associated Press Photo)

"Along Came Bud" replaced the dreary blues songs of Helen Morgan as she introduced her husband, Maurice "Bud" Maschke, Jr., of Cleveland, before a Chicago night club audience. Their marriage last May 15 at Newcastle, Pa., was a secret until Miss Morgan in characteristic position atop a piano sang her "Along Came Bud" and the young Harvard law school graduate walked over to her side. (Associated Press Photo)

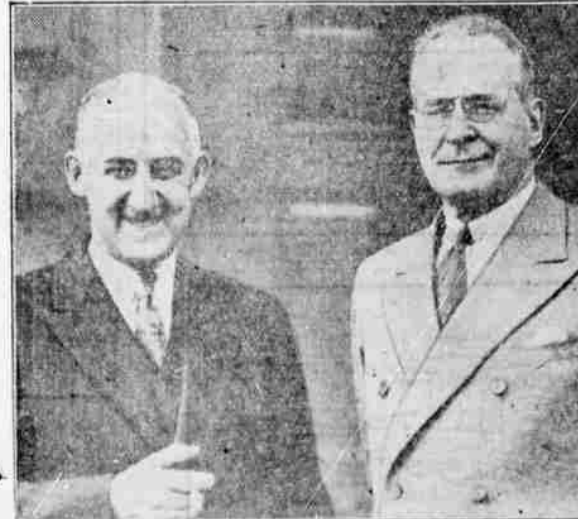

President Roosevelt is shown as he affixed his signature to legislation designed to regulate sale of securities and protect the public. Left to right, behind him: Senator Fletcher, Florida; Rep. Rayburn, Texas; Huston Thompson, Colorado; Henry Miller, attorney in drafting the bill. (Associated Press Photo)

PRESIDENT'S ADVISOR IN LONDON

WASHINGTON'S BOXING BOSSES

MIDWEST TORNADO IN ACTION

DEMPSEY AND WILLARD SHAKE

Prof. Raymond Moley (left), assistant secretary of state, is shown with Herbert Bayard Swaine shortly after he arrived in London to join the American delegation to the world economic conference. (Associated Press Photo)

The three Washington state men who will supervise boxing and wrestling in the state after June 8 are (left to right) George Adams, Seattle; A. E. Grafton, sr., Tacoma, and W. Mulligan, Spokane. (Associated Press Photos)

This unusual photograph of a tornado was made recently in Minnesota when it cut a thin swath through the towns of Friberg and Aurdal. Two persons were injured by the twister which leveled buildings on four farms. This picture was made at Fergus Falls, nine miles from the center of the storm. (Associated Press Photo)

Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard, both former heavyweight boxing champions, shook hands for the first time since July 4, 1919, in Los Angeles. Dempsey knocked out Willard 14 years ago and they had not climbed into a ring together again until their meeting in Southern California. (Associated Press Photo)