Solinsky Compliments Boys—They are dependable boys, rapidly changing to men and more than anxious to do the right thing by their Uncle Frank back in Washington," was the description of the COC boys' work as given by Superintendent E. C. Solinsky in his report on the insect control project being carried out in Crater Lake national park, through work being done by the COC's.

GEORGE ARLISS IN 'KING'S VACATION'

Most of the medals which have been sold or pawned or junked in the past ten years appear all together in one scene in the new George Arliss starring vehicle "The King's Vacation," which opens at the Studio today.

WILL ROGERS PLAYS VAGABOND AT ROXY

While Will Rogers is one of the richest actors of the screen, he cares little for good clothes. This, perhaps, accounts for his assertion that he enjoys playing tramp roles, such as he portrays in "Too Busy To Work," coming to the Roxy theatre today.

The famous wit and philosopher appears as a whimsical and humorous knight of the road, but not without purpose. He tramps from one place to another searching for his wife and daughter and the man who stole them from him while he was fighting in the World War.

Gilmore Oil to Spend Big Sum In Improvement

Immediate expenditure of approximately $40,000 for improvements and expansion in Oregon and Washington has been announced by the Gilmore Oil company, according to C. W. (Chuck) Ellis, Medford Gilmore Manager. Additional wholesale outlet facilities and repainting of all signs, plants and storage tanks are included in the plans to be carried out this summer.

In keeping with the program was the opening of a branch in Aberdeen, Washington, last week. This is to serve Aberdeen, Hoquiam and other Grays Harbor cities. Two new bulk distributing plants, one at Eureka and the other at Ukiah, California, have been added to supply demands of tourists on the Redwood highway and the Redding plant has been enlarged because of growing business in the upper Sacramento valley.

At Rialto

Irene Dunne, whose characteristics have endeared her to showgoers all over the country, has another great human role in "No Other Woman" at the Rialto theater today and tomorrow. Charles Bickford plays the part of the factory hand risen to riches and Gwili Andre is the other woman in the case.
