

PLAN EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS IN 3-C CAMPS OF REGION

An educational program for the boys in the CCC camps in this district, has been carried out by the forest service over a period of six weeks. Instructions are given by the camp director, with additional lectures by other forestry officials.

Each foreman has two squads present at each lecture, and they change around until all have heard each of the talks.

At the lake, Walter Inch and O. H. Bailey spoke on surveying, compass, timbering, scaling, road construction and land division; C. H. Young, telephones, erosion control and grazing; B. F. McRae, hazard control and snag falling; John Lichtenberger, care and use of falling and bucking saws; C. L. Moon, care and use of axes and trail construction; John Brilbie, tree recognition, wild life, tree diseases and general forestry in formation; and Mr. Southwick, recreation—its economic, social and health values.

ANOTHER EXCURSION TO VISIT IRONSIDES SCHEDULED BY S. P.

The U. S. frigate Constitution will be in Portland over another weekend and the Southern Pacific, to enable southern Oregonians to have a chance to visit the famous old warship, has announced another excursion with the same rates of $2.65 and $5.30 to be in effect.

Old Ironsides leaves Portland on August 22, so next weekend will constitute the last opportunity for many to see the frigate on the coast. The special excursion was announced this morning by A. S. Rosenbaum, district freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific.

Many people took advantage of the rates offered last week-end, among them Mrs. Alice Virginia Hull Welch, great-granddaughter of the frigate's first captain. Many events for her honor were held in Portland over the week-end while she was entertaining on the frigate with other descendants of the famous captain, photographs were taken and one appeared in the Sunday Oregonian with an interesting story of Mrs. Welch's relationship to her long desire to see the U. S. Constitution.

MRS. SOLINSKY HOME FROM FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR BROTHER

Mrs. E. C. Solinsky has returned from Piedmont, Calif., where funeral services were recently held for her brother, Frank W. Peek, who sustained fatal injuries a short time ago when his automobile was struck by a locomotive near Port Daniel, Quebec. Mr. Peek was chief engineer for the General Electric company at Pittsfield, Mass., and was the successor to the great electrical genius, Steinmetz.

Mr. Peek was buried in the family plot at Piedmont with his mother and father in keeping with his request. Only the members of the immediate family were present at the services, privately held.

Mr. Peek was known as a tamer of lightning, a modern Jove who startled the world as he hurled his 10,000,000 volt thunder bolts about his laboratory. Ten years ago, after long preparation, he started the greatest engineers of the world with his first lightning bolt, charged with one million volts. He was internationally recognized and had been honored by several learned societies.

He was regarded as the world's greatest authority on lightning, its cause and effect, and at the time of his death was directly connected with one of the final projects of the Empire State Building in New York City—that of lightning protection. Mr. Peek had caused to be placed about the building, even at the tip lightning masts, providing a complete record of electrical disturbances over New York.

The primary object of Mr. Peek's endeavors had been to obtain scientific information to facilitate the protection of life and property against lightning, to build transmission lines, transformers and other electrical apparatus to resist lightning voltages.

Mr. Peek was 51 years old and had long been identified with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He was a member of the American Physical Society, Franklin Institute and Sigma Xi Fraternity. He was awarded the Thomas Fitch Rowland prize of the American Society of Civil Engineers in 1924 and the Levy medal of the Franklin Institute in 1928.

FAST NEW PLANES TO LINK MEDFORD AND COAST POINTS

Medford and other Pacific coast cities, already near neighbors by means of air transport, will find themselves still closer together Tuesday when United Air Lines inaugurates new coastwise schedules with a fleet of three-mile-a-minute, ten passenger and cargo Boeing planes.

Air travel times between coast cities will be cut approximately one-fourth by the change from Ford planes to the new twin-engine equipment, according to Phil Sharp, field manager of United Air Lines here. The reductions will apply on both the company's daylight and overnight schedules along the 1231-mile airway, which connects every city on the Pacific coast of 100,000 population or more.

Under the new daylight schedule, passengers mail and express leaving Medford after the breakfast hour will arrive in San Francisco by noon and in Los Angeles and San Diego by mid-afternoon. Northbound, they will leave San Diego at 7:40 a. m., Los Angeles at 8:50 a. m., and San Francisco at 11:10 a. m., arriving here at 2 p. m.

The overnight schedule southbound provides for departure from here at 12:10 a. m., with arrival in San Francisco at 2:50 a. m., Los Angeles at 5:41 a. m. and San Diego at 6:48 a. m. Northbound, planes will leave San Diego at 9:25 p. m., Los Angeles at 11:45 p. m., and San Francisco at 2:36 a. m., arriving here at 5:16 a. m. Medford and Portland will be only one and a half hours apart under the new schedules, while Seattle will be

NELLIE M. GALL OF ASHLAND PASSES

Nellie M. Gall, wife of E. E. Gall, passed away at her home at 788 Pennsylvania avenue in Ashland last night about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Gall was enjoying a family gathering of her brother and sister and families, and was apparently in her usual health, although never very strong.

Mrs. Gall was born near Dunlap, Harrison county, Iowa, April 22, 1872, and came to Oregon when about 19 years of age. August 27, 1902, she was married to E. E. Gall, who survives her. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Lulu VanWegen of Ashland, and a brother, E. G. Roberts of Medford.

Funeral services will probably be Wednesday afternoon with burial at Central Point.

Taken to Court—Joon Asie, taken into justice court by state police for failing to have an operator's license, was fined $5 Friday.

MOTT ADDRESSES VETERANS' PICNIC IN ASHLAND PARK

Approximately 100 guests attended the picnic Sunday of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary, held in the Ashland park. Speakers of the day were: Congressman James W. Mott, County Judge Earl B. Day and Representative Edward C. Kelly.

The program followed 1 o'clock luncheon, served to a number of Disabled American Veterans as well as the gathering of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Congressman Mott in his address spoke on national veteran legislation and Representative Kelly described legislation passed in the state of interest to the veterans. He complimented the organization upon the valuable service it has been and can continue to be to the state of Oregon and the nation.

Judge Day, recently appointed to succeed Earl B. Fehi, convicted of ballot theft, voted a plea for cooperation in the county. He stated that he was anxious to end the entanglements, which arose during the preceding months of this year and asked the cooperation of all the people in re-establishing harmony in Jackson county. He also thanked the people who recommended his appointment to the office of judge.

FRESH OUTBURSTS OF LOOTING, ARSON CAUSE OF ACTION

Postponed to insure the honest performance of their duty, be returned. A military edict barred parades and manifestations of all kinds and prohibited the carrying of weapons.

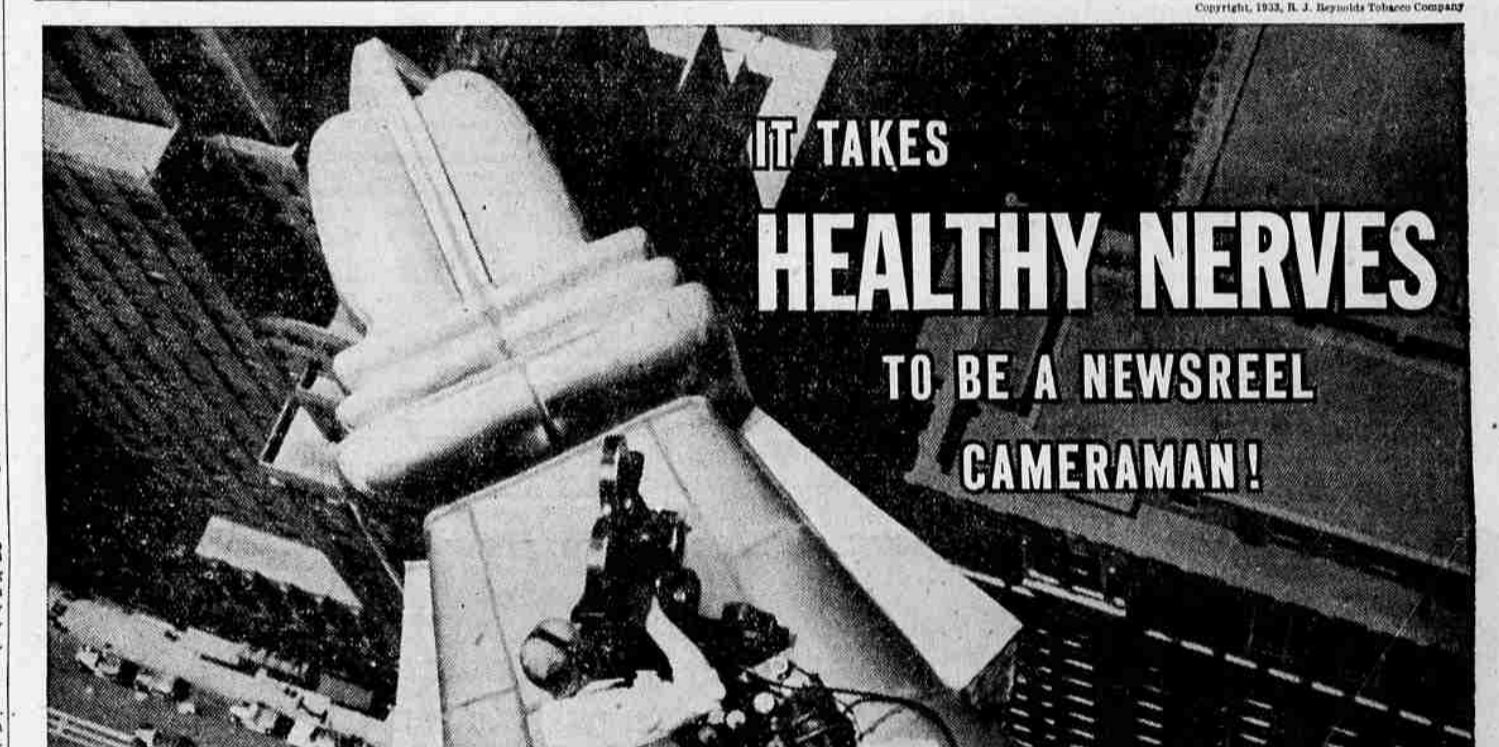

The sacking and burning of houses will be severely repressed, the edict said. It cautioned all citizens to remain in their homes after 8 p. m.

27 Cars Stolen. Police announced they were searching for 27 cars which, they said, belonged to the "Machado gangsters." Thirteen of these cars were armored, and it was said their occupants were disguised as soldiers, sailors and members of the police force. Others carried banners of the A. B. C. society, one of the organizations which led the successful fight to oust Machado.

Dr. Despedes himself will hold the important portfolio of secretary of state in the new cabinet.
