B. P. W. Club Hears N. R. A. Explained

Mrs. A. E. Reames, who heads the women's drive here under the National Recovery Act, spoke before the Business and Professional Women's club at luncheon at the Hotel Jackson this week, explaining the blanket code to be observed by all employers and employees. Following her talk the club endorsed the recovery act with unanimous vote and pledged support to Mrs. Reames in the local drive.

Mrs. Clarice Spuhn, president of the club, presided at the luncheon and Mrs. Alice Coppin gave a report of the recent Business and Professional Women's club conference at Crescent City, which was attended by a local delegation. Appreciation of the courtesy extended by the chamber of commerce here to aid Medford's representation at the conference and of the splendid contribution of C. L. MacDonald, who made the trip to the coast to address the conference, was expressed by Mrs. Coppin.

A special guest at the luncheon this week was Mrs. Mabel Holmes, field secretary of the Pacific Protective society. She gave an interesting talk, describing her social welfare work.

GOLD PANNERS IN JUBILEE CONTEST

Panning gold, an art upon which half the west's history and development is based, will come into limelight again at Jacksonville Saturday when the Gold Rush Jubilee gets going for one strenuous day.

In addition to backyard mines—producing every day—there will be held, under the auspices of the Southern Oregon Mining association, a gold panning contest, open to men and women alike. Prizes will be awarded winners in the events for first, second and third places.

Those interested in separating gold from gravel should register at once, say Jubilee officials, either at the mining bureau office in the Medford chamber of commerce building, or at the Nugget confectionery in Jacksonville. The contest will be held about mid-afternoon Saturday.
