

AUTO REPAIR MEN TO CO-OPERATE IN ESTABLISHING NRA

At the court house auditorium a meeting was held this week attended by everyone interested in automotive repair work in order to discuss the NRA program with C. E. Gates, local automobile man presiding. Approximately 75 persons attended including dealers, garage men, blacksmiths, welders, top workers, painters and body workers.

In outlining the purpose of the meeting, Mr. Gates stated that during the past few weeks all the automotive trades in Medford had organized and that it was very desirable in order to bring about cooperation in living up to the President's re-employment agreement, that those interested in repair work should also perfect an organization.

Upon unanimous motion it was decided to adopt the President's re-employment agreement and practically all the firms represented reported that they were displaying the Blue Eagle. An analysis of the re-employment agreement as it concerns the automotive trade and prepared by the Oregon Automotive Trade Association was read and each of the paragraphs was discussed at length, following which a motion was unanimously carried that those attending would follow the principles outlined in the letter.

Incorporated in the motion also was the adoption of a minimum price of $1.50 for all mechanical work and those present agreed to follow the Ford and Chevrolet prices and the Chilton flat rate.

Those attending the meeting included: W. H. Lewis, Lewis Super Service; C. H. Martin, O. Z. Howard, Howard and Martin; E. M. Miller, Miller's Garage; A. F. Daley, Daley Chevrolet Shop; S. E. Brill, Brill Sheet Metal Works; W. E. Allen, Phoenix Garage; E. Selsowski; J. A. Henderson, Roy L. Long, Witham Super Service; T. N. Parrett, Parrett's Body Shop; M. C. JOHNSON, ICKES FACING BATTLE WITH CONGRESS

publicans have been getting a load of poison for distribution at the first sign the administration might be faltering. Democrats in some localities are being fed a good dose of insidious propaganda by interests that think they ain't been done right by.

It will be a sight to warm the cockles of the heart when Messrs. Ickes and Johnson collide with the wise guys of congress.

Both of them are very sturdy gentlemen.

Ickes has been fighting for lost causes for years as a Progressive. Now at last he's on a bandwagon that seems to have balloon tires. It will take an awful lot of sharpshooting to knock him down.

And remember how former Vice President Dawes won his nickname of "Hell 'n' Maria?" His wartime buddy, General Johnson, is the same type.

Secretary Ickes is going hot after the "smart chiselers" who would like to turn a few technically-honest-only pennies for public works.

His recent pronouncement that any evidence of speculative attempts to profit privately by land deals in slum rehabilitation would automatically kill a proposal was meant in deadly earnest. When he said he had confidential information that speculators have been acquiring options on key plots in city slums Ickes was talking turkey.

He has the goods on several smart men.

Louis R. Glavis, chief of the Interior Department Bureau of Investigations, has turned his agents loose in all the cities represented by the 30-odd bids for public money to finance low-cost housing programs.

For example, in New York City they have unearthed deals wherein speculators have taken six-month options on East Side property. Because the city originally tried to get money for slum rehabilitation from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation "smart money".

The options cost comparatively nothing. The holders figured to cash in heavily. They won't lose much but they'll lose. Ickes is going to take his cheap apartment houses "way down somewhere."

And the same system will apply in every other city where the government can't acquire land at proper cost.

When Dr. H. C. Taylor sails for Rome next month to represent the United States at the International Institute of Agriculture he won't find any boy voyage messages from former President Hoover.

Taylor's appointment to this $3,000 job on the clearing house for world agricultural statistics has an interesting story back of it.

At the time Mr. Hoover was Secretary of Commerce Dr. Taylor was chief of the bureau of agricultural economics.

Mr. Hoover wanted to transfer the Foreign Crop Reporting Board from the department of agriculture to the department of commerce.

Taylor protested vigorously. He enlisted the then Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace in the fight.

This was the beginning of the cleavage between Mr. Hoover and the farm interests.

Mr. Hoover's inroads on the agricultural department were a source of major grievance for Henry C. Wallace.

When he died in office his friends said it had a bearing on his passing. His son, Henry A. Wallace, deserted the Republican party at the time.

This son is now secretary of agriculture in President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Robert Fechner, general of the forest army, quit school in the fifth grade at the age of 15 to become an apprentice machinist.

He spent ten or fifteen years as a "boomer"—which means he hopped from place to place working the trade. In that time he worked all over Central and South America as well as the States. Then he settled down to become vice president of the International Machinist's Union.

But ask any of the stenographers who take his dictation. They say it's easier and smoother than any they've ever transcribed.

FORBID OVERTIME IN EMERGENCIES

SALEM, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Cooperating with the federal reemployment program the state welfare commission today ruled that effective at once no more permits will be issued to business firms to employ workers overtime during emergencies. The ruling was announced by C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner and secretary of the welfare commission.

Gram stated that in the past it had been the custom of the commission to issue many permits to work help overtime, particularly to mercantile firms during the taking of inventories. He stated that from now on no further permits would be issued, even for taking inventories. This ruling will affect all firms, whether signed up with the NRA or not, he said.

AUTOPSY ERASES MURDER EXCUSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—(UP)—The illegitimate daughter of Frank W. Fabian, Jr., could not have been slain because of a disfigurement, an autopsy surgeon announced late yesterday, because an examination of the infant's body revealed the child was perfectly normal in every respect.

Fabian assertedly confessed slaying the infant because it was disfigured. "I didn't want her to grow up that way," he told police. He said the child had a large birth mark covering the face, and a hare lip.

Dr. Sherman Leland, autopsy surgeon, said there was no evidence of a scar, birth mark or hare lip.

Upon receiving the report, Assistant District Attorney Peter Mullins said: "This alters the entire case, which now appears to be purely one of murder. Previously there seemed to be extenuating circumstances. We shall demand the death penalty for Fabian."

Lettuce and Celery Salad
Watermelon
Coffee

Mammy Watermelon Pickles.
3 pounds watermelon rind
3 tablespoons salt
2 quarts water.

Cut off outer green rind and inner pink part of watermelon; cut into 1/2-inch strips, add salt and water and let stand 12 hours. Rinse well in cold water, soak 3 hours in cold water to cover; drain well, cover by 2 inches with water and boil gently until very tender when tested with a fork; add spice mixture.

Spice Mixture.
2 cups sugar
1 cup vinegar
1/2 cup water
16 whole cloves
1-3 cup bark cinnamon, broken.
Loosely tie the spices in white cloth bag, add to rest of ingredients and boil 2 minutes. Add prepared melon rind, cook slowly and stir frequently until syrup is very thick and rind well glazed. Remove spice bag and pour melon and syrup into a jar and seal.

If desired, this mixture can be poured into an earthenware jar and when cool, covered with a plate and stored in a cool place.

Bread and Butter Pickles.
12 cucumbers
5 onions
1/2 cup salt
2 cups water
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 cups vinegar
1 tablespoon celery seed
1 teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons white mustard seed
6 sticks cinnamon
12 whole cloves.

Select cucumbers 4 inches long and 1 1/2 inches thick; wipe off with damp cloth and cut into thin crossway slices; select onions 1 1/2 inches in diameter and peel and cut into thin slices. Mix the cucumbers, onions and salt; let stand 3 hours, drain and rinse in cold water. Loosely tie the spices in white muslin bag, add to the sugar and vinegar; boil 2 minutes, add onions and cucumbers and boil gently 30 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

WHEAT CONFERENCE SCHEDULED MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Farm administrators today called a conference for next Monday at Portland, Oregon, to discuss plans for a new export movement of wheat to the Orient.

The effort will be made, they said, because of a large surplus of grain in that area which they believe will have a depressing effect upon prices of wheat in other sections of the country.

"PLEASE TELL ME, MARY, why your tuna salads are always so much more delicious than mine!"

"I always use that recipe you gave me, but my salads never taste like yours. I guess I haven't the knack of cooking that you have."

"Nonsense, there's no knack to it! Let me ask you, do you use White Star Tuna?"

"Why, no, Mary, I never have. I didn't know that there was such a difference in their quality."

"Well, that's the answer, Helen. I tried several brands before I found out that there isn't any other so good as White Star Tuna. And now I buy nothing else. That's the secret of my successful salads."

A PURE FOOD, HONESTLY ADVERTISED. The Seal of Acceptance of the Committee on Foods of the American Medical Association is your best guarantee of the quality and the truthfulness of the advertising claims made for it. Look for this seal on every food you buy. White Star Tuna has this acceptance.
