

MISSIONARIES ARE WASTING TIME BY WORKING IN CHINA

Chinese Woman Leader Says Cultured Country-men Resent View They Need Spiritual Guidance

By HARRISON SALISBURY (United Press Staff Correspondent) BANFF, Alta., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Western missionary efforts are doomed to defeat in China, Dr. Sophia Chen Zen, leading Chinese woman delegate to the Institute of Pacific Relations and a noted Chinese writer, said last night.

The Chinese race is not a religious one, said Dr. Zen. "Cultured Chinese bitterly resent the implications of the missionaries that they must be saved from a heathen state. "Second generation missionaries in China realize the situation and are urging their churches to confine their efforts to the medical and educational fields where they have a real contribution to make."

Dr. Zen attacked the attempt of traditional missionaries to force upon the Chinese standards of western puritanism which have been repudiated over large parts of Europe and America. "These people are losing their influence at home," she said. "They cannot hope to succeed in China. We are most grateful for the medical and welfare activities of the missions in China, and hope that these efforts will not be abandoned. But I have no hope that China will ever become a Christian nation in the strict missionary interpretation."

She pointed out that while Christianity had centuries of tradition behind it in the west, China never had had a religion of this type. "We are a philosophical people rather than a religious one," she said.

Women in China, said Dr. Zen, have opportunities unequalled in any part of the world. There are no restrictions on their entry into business, professional or political life such as have developed recently in western nations due to unemployment. She expressed high hope for the spread of the birth control movement in China.

"Women are eagerly adopting birth control practices and seeking information regarding them," she said. "The chief difficulty now is sufficient money to provide centers where they may obtain such information. The movement is growing rapidly with the industrialization of China. Though there are centuries of tradition in favor of raising large families in China, the custom is breaking down wherever there is contact with western civilization."

YOUNG BOURBONS WILL CELEBRATE ROOSEVELT'S DAY

Taking the lead, nationally, they claim, in inauguration of an annual Roosevelt Day for celebration of the birthday anniversary of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Young Democrats of Jackson county today, through their president, Moore Hamblin, released an announcement that a banquet and ball will be sponsored in this city January 30, 1934, the 52nd birthday of the nation's new chief.

A personal invitation to spend his birthday anniversary in this city will be forwarded President Roosevelt to the summer White House at Hyde Park at once, Mr. Hamilton stated this morning.

Invitations are also going out to Carl Donaghy, chairman of the Oregon State Democratic Central committee, W. L. Goslin, president of the Young Democratic League of Oregon, and other leaders of the Bourbon forces in a campaign to make the observance a state-wide event. Followers of the Democratic faith in other cities of the coast will also be asked to join Jackson county in inaugurating an annual Roosevelt day.

Democrats, old and young, of Jackson county will participate in the banquet and ball, and committees will be named in the near future, Mr. Hamilton stated, to start work on the program, which it is hoped will bring to Medford the largest Democratic gathering in the history of southern Oregon.

Co-operating with the Jackson County Democratic Central committee, the Young Democrats' club will make an early announcement of preliminary plans.

The gathering, it is believed, will be the first of Bourbon forces, outside of campaign season, in this county, and it is the club's ambition to make celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday an annual occasion for the meeting of Oregon Democrats.

If President Roosevelt finds it impossible to come west for the occasion, the Young Democrats' club, expressed the hope that he will appoint a personal representative to attend.

Well, I've worked in tobacco; I've manufactured cigarettes... and I'll tell you why Chesterfields taste better. For a cigarette to have a good taste, it must have first the right kind of Domestic tobacco. This means ripe, mellow, sweet tobacco, filled with Southern sunshine. Then, blended and cross-blended with this tobacco there must be the right quantity of the right kinds of aromatic Turkish tobacco... tobacco that has a pleasing flavor and aroma. Aroma, as you know, adds to the taste. It's just like the pleasing aroma from certain foods. It's appetizing. It makes the food taste better. It makes the cigarette taste better. Then again, for a cigarette to have a good taste, it must be made right. The size, the cigarette paper, everything about it must be right. Just try Chesterfields.
