WENATCHEE FRUIT GROWERS BALK AT MARKETING PLAN

trial both through shipping point and terminal committees has already been proved practical and beneficial to all concerned.

Refer Urges Action

Others who agreed with this view were E. D. Monahan, in charge of prune marketing in the Milson-Free-water district; Howard Fletcher, carlot sales manager for the Pacific Fruit and Produce Co., Seattle, and Jack Spalding, chairman of the growers' committee in New York. Two Raymond Peter, Medford, and Ralph Sunquist, Lower Naches, Wash., approved the commodity committee setup and urged quick approval and operation of the plan as now proposed.

Urging export control as planned under the present proposal, was J. Smith, manager of the export department of the Gwin, White and Prince company of Seattle. He said the export outlet is being weakened by the recent practice of selling on the basis of guaranteed advances, as this demoralizes the legitimate f.o.b. movement. Such sales are prohibited under the trade agreement.

Paul Scherer of Medford, as president of Northwest Fruit Industries, Inc., closed the case for the proponents by saying the endorsement given by all trustees of that body was not an empty one, but followed two days of careful consideration of every detail. He said he hopes that as a result of the final afternoon session it will be possible to report substantial agreement to Washington, so that the plan may be made effective at once.

All testimony offered here, together with numerous exhibits will be forwarded to Washington immediately after the close of the hearing, together with the recommendation of the examiners, where it will be subject to review by the agricultural adjustment administration and then the secretary of agriculture.

are being operated under the dairy inspection act and have furnished milk to persons who would otherwise have had to go without. The price paid the producers by the creameries was also condemned by Colonel Kelly, who stated that it was in self-defense that the dairymen had opened depots. Pasteurized milk was also raised as lacking in vitamins as a food for children in Colonel Kelly's talk.

SALT LAKE NUDE COLONY PLANNED

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—(UP)—Salt Lake City will have a nudist colony, provided plans of M. Aparito, organizer of the northwest nudist movement, meets no snags.

Antelope Island, the largest of seven located in Great Salt Lake, has been tentatively chosen as the site for the camp. It was suggested that nudists could stay on the island unmolested and have use of the lake for swimming—a sport strongly encouraged by the group.

Airline companies, however, may complain. The island is located directly on the routes to Portland and Los Angeles. Just how the plan will be accepted by the state officials and the predominating L. D. S. church remains to be seen.

ARMY OFFICERS NONCHALANT IN SWAPPING WIVES

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Military social circles buzzed today as sophisticated West Pointers and their wives discussed the strange martial situation in which two officers legally exchanged wives.

"It is perfectly natural for a man to fall in love with another man's wife," Capt. William B. Bradford, who traded his blonde wife for the brunette spouse of Major Stuart C. MacDonald.

Amiable and charming in her riding habit, Mrs. Bradford, whom the post formerly knew as Mrs. MacDonald, smilingly declined to pose for photographers and eluded interviewers by saying, "Captain Bradford can do the talking."

But the Captain didn't want to talk about the unique romance revealed in United Press dispatches from Bentonville, Ark., where Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. MacDonald divorced their husbands and were remarried, each to the other's former mate.

IRENE DUNNE IN COLORFUL ROLE

Like a panorama of life is "The Secret of Madame Blanche," which opened today at the Studio theatre. Irene Dunne is a compelling figure in this film, which ranges over a period of 30 years, all crowded with graphic events shaping and coloring the varied career of its adventurous heroine.
