court has developed that of the above amount $338 has been satisfactorily explained as accounted for, these amounts having been reported by the auditor, due to the indefinite nature of the records covering, leaving a balance appearing as yet accounted for in the aggregate amount of $354. The records of the county jail were reported as poorly kept and definite verification thereof impossible to accomplish.

(b) One collection from a sale of a tax deed in the amount of $75, which amount had not been reported, through oversight. (This item has been paid.)

(c) An amount shown due from the county sheriff for reported collections from sales of tax deeds, this amount arising through loss of deposits due to the closing of the Jackson County bank and error made by the sheriff in releasing to the bank collateral securities covering. The loss in this regard was in the amount of $1100. Refunds Due the County Arising Through Errors in Expenditures, $927.89.

(d) Overpayments for meals furnished county prisoners, as evidenced by the records covering, reported by the auditor in the aggregate amount of $731.05. Further investigation by the county court has developed that of the above amount $47.75 has been satisfactorily explained as accounted for, leaving a balance showing as due the county in the amount of $683.30. The records pertaining to meals furnished prisoners were reported by the auditor as indefinite and poorly kept and that definite verification thereof was found impossible to obtain.

The auditor also reported that due to the unsystematic handling of the filing of commitments and releases of prisoners and the fact that supporting authority for all commitments and releases of prisoners could not be found and inspected, it is possible that in some instances evidence can be shown whereby some of the meals reported as overcharged were actually served. The auditor has also advised that because of the indefinite nature of the records and the loose manner in which kept, there may be additional undisclosed errors therein.

(b) Duplicate payments of invoices aggregating $159.89.

(c) Errors made in remittances to the state treasurer covering collections of fines and bail forfeitures in the aggregate amount of $125, and covering which application for refund from the state will be made.

(d) Errors and Omissions Called to the Attention of the Officers Affected and Covering Which Refunds Have Been Subsequently Made, $244.85.

(a) Collections of fines and bail forfeitures in the amount of $240.

(b) Duplicate payment of invoice in the amount of $4.85.

Fines and costs aggregating $104 were reported as apparently secured by collectible bond which had not been foreclosed, and errors in transfer of funds for the payment of county bonds and interest coupons were reported as resulting in excess deposits to the credit of the county in the amount of $838.22, which amount will again be taken up on the records of the county.

The auditor has reported that in some instances the records were not found sufficiently well supported to

A number of tax cancellations, deeds issued during the period, and disbursements covering road payrolls and purchases of securities were reported to the county court for their investigation as to the legality thereof, as to errors in judgment, or as to lack of proper supporting vouchers or other information covering the transactions in question. A number of errors made in crediting income to and charging expenditures from funds other than those to which applicable were also reported.

The county court will continue its investigation of any further errors and omissions reported, with a view to fixing accountability for such items as can be properly supported by the records and securing collection of the amounts due from others. Various suggested changes for strengthening the accounting system of the county at present in effect are also being considered.

The audit report, as rendered, contains detailed statements covering the income and expenditures of the county during the three years under review.

APPLGATE CAMP HAS FISTIC CARD

Flying fists and dancing feet were seen at the smoker held at Camp Applegate, C. C. C., last Friday night. The boxers were all camp talent, some fighting for fun, others to settle minor difficulties. Being the first show of its kind held after dark, the arena illuminated with gas lanterns, it went over with a bang, as the crowd of men from the camp and neighbors from the hills cheered their favorites.

Jerry McMahon, the captain's son, fought the curtain-raiser with Jimmy Cosensonn, former Multnomah club star. This battle, put on for exhibition purposes, started the show off in grand style.

Then Perry Marco and Art Rogers fought a draw, followed by Ralph Nurni in a win over Hank Voigt.

K. O. over Dave Monson in the second round. Al James won the nod over Bob Mark, Everett Huffman over Gene Toomey, and Lloyd Wright drew with Chuck Smith.

Winding up the evening's program was the main event in which Red Conner, "the blonde terror of Ashland," took a defeat at the hands of Blondie Moore, "the white slugger of Albion."

Pete Jenkins refereed, and promised as interesting a card every Friday evening hereafter.

do not understand how cheap electricity really is. The average electric washer, for instance, can be operated from one hour, to two and one-half hours, for 1 cent. A large four-tub washing can be washed spotlessly clean in the modern electric washer in one, to one and one-half hours. Electricity is so clean, is so easy to use, operates so quietly and is so very efficient that many times we fail to realize how much service we receive for the small amount of money we pay.
