

Grappler, Once Dancer, Likes to Romp With Chorus

Al Karasick, known to wrestling fans as the "Russian Lion," started out to be a ballet dancer and spent some time in the troupe of Anna Pavlova, world famous danseuse. It may be Karasick's early experience on the stage which occasionally sends him back to the dance studios to renew old acquaintances. The "Lion" is shown here romping with a pair of young student hoopers who are trying out some wrestling holds on the matman. Karasick will wrestle Les Wolfe here in the main event of a card at the Armory Thursday night. Ray Friable and Herman Olson will tangle in the opening match.

ROGUES DEFEAT HILT CHAMPS BY 11 TO 7 SCORE

The Medford Rogues defeated Hilt champions of the Northern California league, yesterday by the score of 11 to 7, on the Hilt diamond. The game was featured by the heavy hitting of the visiting Rogues who clouted the offerings of Cook, Hilt's pitcher, for a total of 12 safe hits. The game was Cook's first defeat since joining the Hilt aggregation early this spring.

McLean was on the mound for Medford, and besides holding the opposition to eight hits and striking out nine batsmen, he continued his heavy hitting of Sunday by cracking out another home run and a double, making it three home runs in two days. Eddie Joanis, however, was the star batsman of the day, getting four hits in five times at bat, including a home run, double and two singles.

By defeating Hilt the Rogues are claiming the northern California championship. It was Hilt's second defeat of the season. The Medford team journeys to Grants Pass next Sunday for a return game with Jud Peroni's team. If the Rogues win, another game will have to be played to determine the championship of southern Oregon, otherwise it will be the last game of the season for the locals. Grants Pass defeated the Rogues a week ago 13 to 1.

TOURNEY WINNERS AWARDED PRIZES AT GOLF COURSE

For intensity of interest, closeness of play, quality of golf and public support, the Southern Oregon golf tournament which closed at the local club yesterday, will go down in history as the best ever. It was also the best managed—everything clicking, from first to last, without friction, confusion or delays.

Following the close of the big match, won by Pringle, the prizes were awarded by Homer Marx, on the practice green next to the club, a short but very fitting speech was paid by the president of the club, C. J. Semon. Particular credit was paid by the president to Marx, Don Clark, Jack Hueston and other members of the club and tournament committee for the fine work done during the week.

The winners and runners up in the various flights were as follows: Men. Consolation, first flight—Marvin Clark, Grants Pass, winner; Earl Tully, runner-up.

Fishing Lines

Hints for Those Who Angle in Southern Oregon Waters

Right on top of the announcement of several sportmen that the salmon run is not on in the Chetco river at Brookings and that fish of any kind are mighty scarce, comes report today that Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Carpenter made some fine catches this past week-end. They returned last night from spending the holiday at Brookings, where Mrs. Carpenter landed 19 fish. Mr. Carpenter's catch was smaller in number, but greater in size.

Commercial fishing of the Chetco started last Saturday with gill netters arriving at the stream at an early hour and taking out a number of fine salmon, which had successfully evaded all sportmen's hooks through-out the preceding week.

The season will be open to commercial fishermen for about a month and the run of salmon in from the sea is expected any day, the old timers say.

Many are anxious, as in this locality, to see the river closed to commercial fishing and feel that one more year will bring them to that goal. The number of sportmen visiting the locality is constantly increasing and residents of Brookings and the little hamlet of Huber, right on the banks of the river, where it goes into the sea, feel that the sportmen mean more to the future of the coast section than the commercial fishermen do.

Salmon are caught at the mouth of the river, where boats are always available. Trout are caught in the upper reaches of the Chetco and in the Windchuck, and deep sea fishing is found a short distance out.

Fishing boats also make the trip out around Bird Island, which adds great interest to the journey for sportmen and sightseers.

MARINE CITY, Mich., Sept. 5.—(UP)—The veteran Gar Wood yesterday crushed a new British aspirant to Harmsworth trophy claims, defeating Hubert Scott-Paine in the second and deciding heat of the historic international race.

The white haired champion, king of powerboat racing since he first won the Harmsworth in 1920, piloted his powerful, mahogany hulled Miss America X to victory over Scott-Paine's little gray Miss Britain III over the seven nautical mile course on St. Clair river. It was the eighth consecutive time that Wood and his fleet of gallant Miss America's have won the Harmsworth, emblematic of world supremacy in speedboat racing. Wood's average speed for the 35 nautical miles, approximately 40 statute miles, was 86.937 miles an hour.

PRINGLE WINS IN THRILLING MATCH FOR GOLF CROWN

Real Championship Golf. It was not only one of the greatest golf matches ever seen here, but any where. Not only in the intensity of the struggle—the suspense through-out—but in the quality of the play. On the first 18 Pringle got 2 birdies and an eagle; Bentley 3 birdies; on the second 18 Pringle 4 birdies and an eagle; Bentley 3 birdies; on the second 18 Pringle 4 birdies; Bentley 1. In medal play for the 36, Pringle had a 73 and a 74 or a total of 147; Bentley had a 73 and a 75, or a total of 148—just one stroke between them. The high standard of play is even better shown by adding up the best balls in the match. On this basis the total was 62—eight under par! A Dog Fight Throughout. But to return to the match. It was up and down, in and out, until the 15th hole on the final round. For the second time during the day Bentley was 1 up, with only three to go. In the gallery the odds increased that Bentley would win, for obviously it would take birdie golf to beat him, and with a 5 on the 13th, it looked as tho Hank had started to blow. The 14th was halved with pars. Then the first break came, Bentley's drive—a 300 yard screamer was in the rough to the right, his second caught the sand trap on the left of the green, for once his trouble shooting mashie failed him and he got a 5 to Pringle's par 4—the match was once more even.

Pringle Gets Second Wind. This seemed to give Pringle new life. He smashed a terrific drive within 80 yards of the green, about 50 feet ahead of Bentley's. Bentley was on the green with his second hole high, while Pringle smothered his mashie and was in the long grass three feet short of the green. It certainly looked like curtains for the Medford player, but Hank had another idea. Measuring the distance with great care, and gauging the slope, he cut that mashie into the ball, like a South Sea Islander spearing a fish, it hopped over the grass, struck the green, rolled directly into the cup—then changing its mind hopped out again! It was a tough break, in one sense, but quite the reverse in another. For while the hole was halved with four, it showed Hank had recovered from that unlucky 13th, and had some bird salt in his bag again.

The Final Break. The next hole proved it. And here came the shot that really settled the match, on the 17th. Both men were just off the green, on their second, Bentley to the left, Pringle far to the right with the latter away. Once more Hank got out his binoculars and did some fancy surveying. Once more he cut his mashie into that ball that had given him the horse-laugh on the preceding hole. But "once more" the ball didn't do the hopping flea act. It not only plopped into the hole but it stayed there, a birdie 3. The yell that went up from the gallery—the largest gallery ever seen on the local course—must have been heard in Gold Hill. Bentley wasn't through however—he could birdie them too and had the day before, against Clark, with practically the same lie. But not this time. The putt was off line. Pringle was one up and one to go. And here once more Bentley's stamina came in. Down or up, win or lose he is shooting for the pin all the time. The two drives were not a foot apart far up on the crest of the slope. Both second shots were just off the green, with Pringle away, short pitches for the hole. With only a half to win the title Hank might have played safe but didn't. He went straight for the pin again, stopping six inches to the left and about two feet too long. It was the last call for Ashland. Bentley had to sink for a birdie to prevent defeat. He tried hard but he didn't make it. The battle was over.

"A SAFETY-STEEL BODY SAVED MY LIFE!"

CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH FRED C. NOBLE, PLYMOUTH SALESMAN, STAMFORD, CONN.

"Ten tons landed on my Plymouth... and I lived to tell the Tale"

FRED C. NOBLE is a Plymouth salesman. Fred Noble isn't giving you sales talk when he tells you you're safer in a Plymouth. Fred Noble is alive today because Plymouth has a safety-steel body!

The pictures tell the story. How a three and a half ton truck with a six and a half ton load crashed over on top of Noble's car. They don't show the terrific impact of those ten tons traveling at 40 miles an hour! They don't show how the force of the crash drove the wheels four and five inches into the solid earth!

But Plymouth is built of steel, reinforced with steel. Fred Noble came out with only one slight scratch!

For your own sake—for your family's sake—travel safely in a modern car. Let the nearest Plymouth dealer show you what safety-steel construction is. You'll never rely on any other kind!
