FRIGIDAIRE HEAD GIVES ROTARIANS INTERESTING TALK

An interesting talk on electric refrigeration and air-conditioning was enjoyed by members of the Medford Rotary club at their regular weekly meeting yesterday noon. E. S. Riley of Oakland, Calif., regional commercial manager of the Frigidaire corporation, was the speaker and was introduced by J. C. Boyle, program chairman.

Mr. Riley told of the remarkable development of electric refrigeration in the home since its introduction only 17 years ago, stating that since 1920 nearly five million electric refrigerators have been sold for home use, as well as a large number of commercial units for various types of business.

Electric air conditioning, although still in its infancy, is also making phenomenal progress since the introduction of the smaller units for homes, offices and business houses, according to the speaker, who gave a scientific explanation of why it is as necessary to provide cool comfort in summer as it is to furnish heat in winter.

In closing, the speaker told of the many types of business now adopting air conditioning, including hotels, theaters, restaurants, department stores and office buildings. Some railroads have already provided conditioned air for their patrons and several new trains will soon be completely equipped to render this modern service.

An invitation to attend the 1933 Gold Rush Jubilee was extended the Rotarians by the Yreka Gold Miners and C. J. Semon and H. L. Bromley told of some of the outstanding features of last year's gold rush, including the big pioneer parade.

Guests at yesterday's luncheon were K. N. Kepdrick, new manager of the Standard Oil Co., T. L. Gifford of Klamath Falls and G. C. Jackson of Medford. Darrow Palmer of Santa Cruz, Calif., was visiting Rotarian.

PEAR ASSOCIATION MAY BE STUCK FOR BANKS' PAPER BILL

Three demurrers filed in the civil action of the Columbia Paper company for the collection of approximately $3100 from L. A. Banks and 38 other fruitgrowers belonging to the Medford Pear Association, a Banks organization, was overruled by Judge H. D. Norton.

The action is based upon the alleged purchase of packing paper, later turned over to Banks. Some of the defendants were directors and some members in the pear organization. A note was signed by the directors and Banks. It is the position of the others that this action does not bind them.

Other motions and filings in the action, which is expected to come to trial at the next term of court were discussed and disposed of. LAMSON RELATES DISCOVERING WIFE DEAD IN BATHTUB

W. G. Nelson, indicted for failure to render aid following an accident, through his attorney, George M. Roberts, entered a plea of guilty this morning, before Circuit Judge H. D. Norton. Request of counsel that sentence be passed was denied, upon the grounds that Nelson was not present.

"I thought that, inasmuch as Nelson has a job in Portland," said Attorney Roberts, "that by not making a personal appearance all concerned would be benefited, and there was a possibility Nelson might retain his job."

"There is considerable variance between what the district attorney says and what you say," replied the court. "I desire to have a clearer working knowledge of the case. From what the district attorney says, there was aggravation, and it may be that Mr. Nelson will not be in need of a job for some time."

Nelson is charged with seriously injuring S. W. Baize, workman of the Central Point cut-off road construction, last May, when he failed to heed Baize's warning to halt.

The court directed that Nelson be returned from Portland on a bench warrant, and that Baize appear in court. Baize is not fully recovered from his injuries.

District Attorney Coddling, stating the state's position, said that Nelson had passed Baize, who had a flashlight in one hand and a red flag in the other, at a high speed, that he struck Baize with the front of his auto and sped on without giving assistance. One-way traffic rules on the cut-off were in effect.

BANWELL BACK WITH TAN COAT

Wearing his characteristic smile and a good coat of tan, which testifies the vacation was not for naught, A. H. Banwell, manager of the Medford chamber of commerce, returned to the city this afternoon. He motored down from Prospect, where he spent much of his vacation and where he convalesced from the recent illness, which made it imperative that he leave the chamber of commerce work for a time. He has gained a lot of weight, he assured the group, which greeted him at the office and is ready to start work again soon. Mrs. Banwell and young daughter have also returned to Medford.
