

CUBA UNDER ARMY BEFORE MACHADO LEAVES

Before President Gerardo Machado was ousted in Cuba's tangled political affairs he decreed a state of war and placed the island under control of military forces. Truckloads of Cuban soldiers are shown being rushed through the streets of Havana. (Associated Press Photo)

HELD IN KANSAS CITY SLAYINGS

Louis "Doc" Stacey (left) was ordered extradited to Kansas City from Chicago by a federal commissioner for alleged complicity in the machine gun "massacre" of four peace officers and an escaped convict in Kansas City in June. It was charged the slaying plot originated in a roadhouse by Stacey near Chicago. With him is shown a federal marshal. (Associated Press Photo)

CUBAN 'SAVIOR' NOW IN EXILE

Col. Orestes Ferrara, secretary of state of Cuba under the Machado regime, is shown with Senora Ferrara as they arrived in Miami after fleeing from Cuba to become exiles in the United States. Ferrara, often had been called Cuba's savior because of his long career in the island republic. (Associated Press Photo)

Sees Roosevelt

Oscar B. Cintas, Cuban ambassador to Washington, conferred with President Roosevelt several times regarding the Cuban situation before President Machado was ousted. (Associated Press Photo)

Heads Indian School

JOCKEY GIVES POINTERS TO SON

Henry Roe Cloud of Wichita, Kas., a Yale graduate, has been named as the new superintendent of Haskell Institute at Lawrence, Kas. He is a descendant from the Winnebago Indian tribe. (Associated Press Photo)

A. Mack Garner, one of the oldest and best known jockeys, now racing at Saratoga, N. Y., gives his son, Mack Jr., a few pointers on how to saddle a race horse. (Associated Press Photo)

Chosen 'Queen' Riot Follows

The selection of Geraldine Glassman, 17, as "Miss Philadelphia" was followed by a riot. Police arrested one woman and another was sent to a hospital. Two other girls who had won in previous competitions were disqualified because they were married. (Associated Press Photo)

HIGH MOMENT AT HORSE SHOW

Larry Lansburgh of Stanford university added to the thrills of the seventh annual San Mateo, Cal., horse show by taking Who's That over an old automobile. (Associated Press Photo)

WEST POINTERS GO 'OVER THE TOP' IN DRILLS

A detachment of future army officers is shown going "over the top" during a raid on an imaginary enemy as part of West Point's summer field exercises. For five days the entire cadet corps drilled under near-war conditions. (Associated Press Photo)

AT SENATE HEARING IN CRIME

Steps necessary to stamp out organized crime were discussed at the hearing of the senate sub-committee on racketeering in New York. Among the many notable speakers were Raymond Moley (left), assistant secretary of state who was lent to the department of justice to survey the racket situation, and Edward P. Mulrooney, former New York police commissioner. (Associated Press Photo)

Tragedy Principals

Helen Bendowski, 28, (upper) was found shot to death on the roof of a shop near the penthouse of Harold Wolcott (lower) in Pasadena, Cal. Shortly after a coroner's jury made known its findings he was charged with murder. (Associated Press Photos)

FOUR KILLED, 22 HURT AS TRUCKS CRASH

This picture shows the remains of two trucks, one of which was loaded with picnickers and the other with chemicals, after they crashed near Wilmington, Del., killing four persons and injuring 22 others. Fire and an explosion of the chemicals followed the accident. (Associated Press Photo)

GIRL BRAVES OCTOPUS FOR PICTURE

So Leon F. Douglass, Menlo Park, Cal., inventor, could test his "inverted periscope camera," his 17 year old daughter, Florence, entered a tank with an octopus. She is shown swimming toward the devil-fish which later entangled her in its tentacles. She was freed with the aid of several men. The camera was designed for underwater photography. (Associated Press Photo)

Defies Bandits

Rose Ruda, 18, killed one bandit and put two others to flight when they tried to rob a restaurant in Cincinnati, Ohio. In the exchange of shots she was hit in the arm but not seriously hurt. (Associated Press Photo)

KNITTED SPORT SUIT FOR FALL

Fall fashions favor knitted suits for sport wear. Toby Wing, film player, selects a norfolk type suit in grey knit wear with a brown knit cap and brown and white striped scarf. (Associated Press Photo)

NEW NRA STAMPS ARE PRINTED

Hugh S. Johnson (left) and Postmaster General James A. Farley inspect the original drawing of Uncle Sam's new three-cent NRA stamp, 400,000,000 of which are being printed to publicize the national recovery administration. (Associated Press Photo)

CUBANS IN NEW YORK CELEBRATE

Members of a secret Cuban revolutionary society raided the Cuban consulate in New York, assaulted the acting consul general and carried off a bust of Gerardo Machado. The bust was made a target for mud and soft fruit. The Cubans also had framed portraits of the former Cuban president which were torn to bits. Above picture shows the end of a Machado portrait. (Associated Press Photo)