CANDLELIGHT SALE BY HUMANE SOCIETY WILL BE HELD IN OCTOBER

The Jackson County Humane society will hold another candlelight sale this fall, it was announced today by Mrs. Sydney Richardson, secretary of the local society. Exact date for the sale has not been determined, but it will be the first week in October.

A call for clothing, costume jewelry, household articles, china and any other article suitable for sale, was issued today with announcement of the forthcoming sale.

The cooperation of all residents is needed by the society as funds from state, county or city have not been obtained for three years, making it imperative that the society finance its own work. Mrs. Richardson points out. The benefits of the candlelight sale each year, she also explained, are twofold in that the money obtained goes to a good cause and the garments, offered at greatly reduced prices, often aid people in making up their full wardrobes, who would otherwise be forced to seek them through relief channels. Many garments, almost new and of fine quality, are offered in each year's sale.

The exact date and place of this year's event will be announced in the Mail Tribune in the near future.

All those interested in photography are invited to meet in library hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m., to organize a camera club.

The purpose of the club is the advancement of each member to better work and greater enjoyment in photography. Those now in the snapshot stage may learn how to compose a picture. Those who make contact prints may learn the way of enlarging. Colorings may be the next step for some. Those having cine cameras may learn how to get the better results, which are readily appreciated, but need careful training to secure.

Camera users of all ages can find in a mutual helpfulness greater pleasure and achievement. Results which are difficult to secure when working alone may become easily possible.
