URGE CONSUMERS SIGN NRA CARDS

All persons of Medford, who have not signed the consumer's pledge under the national recovery act, were urged today to telephone the Chamber of Commerce to obtain pledge cards.

All persons not contacted by the committee, making the canvass, are asked to offer this cooperation, since the committee members have been unable to find many at home and are anxious that every resident of Medford be given opportunity to express support of the national recovery act campaign here.

Crowds View Hit Again At Rialto

Undeniable proof that the popularity of "Forty-second Street" has not diminished was manifested at the Rilalto theater last night where the picture opened a three-day engagement. Those who came late found themselves forced to wait for seats to see this great musical comedy that boasts of 14 stars, 200 girls, 4 song hits, and several lavish ensemble numbers.

Although, when this picture played at the Craterian theater about three months ago, the crowds jammed the doors for every show, yesterday again saw the theater filled to capacity by lovers of musical entertainment. It seems to be the consensus of opinion that of all the recent musical pictures that have been shown on the different theater screens in the last few months, "42nd Street" is still the best. It plays until tomorrow night at the Rialto.

SCHILLING CLAIMS SLANDER DAMAGE BY DENVER FIRM

DENVER, Colo.—Damage of $50,000 for slander, are sought in a suit filed in the United States district court here today against the Morey Mercantile company, wholesale grocers of Denver, by A. Schilling & company, manufacturers of coffee, tea, baking powder, spice, and extract of San Francisco. Suit was filed in behalf of the Schilling company by Grant, Ellis, Shaffroth and Toll. The action is based on alleged false and slanderous statement, declared to have been circulated by the Morey Mercantile company to the retail grocery trade concerning the ownership of the Schilling organization

The suit alleges that on July 6, 1933, the Morey Mercantile company, caused to be circulated on change sheets to its representatives the statement that control of the A. Schilling & company had passed to the Safeway Stores Inc. The suit further alleges that in connection, the statement was added that "Perhaps some of the merchants who buy from the Schilling company would be interested in knowing where their money goes." These statements, the suit alleges were "Widely, industriously and continuously spread among the retail grocery trade."

Denials of the authenticity of the statement that control of the A. Schilling & company had passed to Safeway Stores, Inc., were given to the Morey Mercantile company, according to allegations in the complaint, together with a request that the original untruthful statements be withdrawn and corrections made. The suit alleges that as late as the middle of August, the untrue statement was continuously being spread among the retail trade, especially in New Mexico.

The Schilling company, in substantiation of its complaint declares its business has been injured and damaged, "because of the belief in the statement so made by representatives of the Morey Mercantile company."

The company alleges it was organized in 1881 by August Schilling and George F. Volkmann, was incorporated in 1906 and has at all times been owned, controlled and operated by the Schilling and Volkmann families.

OPEN CHAMPION BEATEN 2 UP BY MEDFORD'S STAR

self after Egan pitched to within 100 feet of the hole.

They also halved the 11th where Egan narrowly missed a 14-foot putt for a birdie while Johnny failed to get down from only four feet.

Goodman and Egan both were within 15 feet of the 12th hole and got par threes, leaving the open king still one up.

Egan Birdies 14th

After a pair of fours on the 13th, where Egan got down a five footer for a half, the veteran squared the match on the 14th by canning a 14 footer for a birdie three. Johnny was on the front edge of the green and could not get down his 35 footer.

Egan was short of the green on the 244-yard 16th, but chipped to within four feet and got the putt down for a three and a half. Goodman missed a 35-foot putt by only six inches. They were still all even.

Egan went one up by winning the 17th from Goodman with a par five. The veteran was straight all the way, his third shot being only 30 feet from the hole. Goodman's second was pulled into a trap. He pitched out short on the green, sent his fourth within six feet of the cup but missed the putt and took a six.

Egan made a remarkable finish in eliminating Goodman by bagging a birdie three on the home hole to win by two up. Johnny was straight all the way and only 14 feet from the pin with his approach. He missed the putt, however, and Egan then rolled his in from 12 feet while a big crowd gave him an ovation.

Egan in, 443, 434, 353—33—70.
Goodman in, 443, 444, 464—36—72.

KENWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, Cincinnati, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The field for the first round of match play in the United States amateur golf championship was completed today when eight contestants, including three veteran former champions, survived a two-hole play-off on the rain-drenched Kenwood course. Twelve players had tied with a score of 100 medal play, requiring the playoff.

The elimination process was completed when Ira Crouch of Chicago was put out on the short second hole, where he took a four. Previously, R. M. Grant of Hartford, Spencer Overton of Baltimore and Chris Brinke of Philadelphia were eliminated on the first hole.

Eight players battled for the seven remaining places after Nicol Thompson, Jr., of Toronto qualified with a birdie 3 on the first hole. All but Crouch got three on the second.

The veteran, Chandler Egan, of Medford, Oregon, champion in 1904 and 1905, landed among the survivors with a great recovery from a trap on the second hole. He exploded to within two feet of the cup and got his 3.

LENA L. KNIPS, 16, TAKEN BY FEVER

Lena Lucile Knips passed away at a local hospital Tuesday morning, after a short illness of rheumatic fever. She was the seventh child of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Knips, and was born in Medford March 9, 1917. She was a junior at the Medford high school and will be mourned by a host of friends besides her family.

She leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Knips, four sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Matilda Hall, Portland; Mrs. Alta Woodfield, Detroit, Mich.; Alberta Knips, Oakland, Cal.; Emmy Lou Knips, Medford; brothers, Gilbert and Bill of Medford, and Lester Knips of Oakland, Cal.

Funeral services will be held at the Perl Funeral Home Thursday at 3 p. m., Rev. William R. Baird of the Christian church officiating. Interment will take place in the Siskiyou Memorial park.

ACTIVE CLUBBERS BANQUET FENNELL

Keith Fennell, who is leaving Medford to go into business in Eugene, was given a farewell dinner by the Active club at the Hotel Medford Tuesday night. Gordon Pratt and Ralph Bailey reviewed the history of the club and expressed the members' appreciation of Keith's unceasing work in building up the organization. Fennell organized, was the first president, and he has been the most active member of the local club. Before coming to Medford he was a member of the Eugene Active club.

President Darrel Huson appointed Harold Larsen chairman of the Boy Scout committee, with John Niedermeyer and Jack Butler the other two members who are to assist Scoutmaster Gordon Pratt with the Berrydale troop, which has just been admitted to membership in the national Boy Scout organization.

President Huson announced that there will be some special entertainment next Tuesday. There will be a fall roundup of all members for this meeting.

JAIL PRISONERS WILL WORK SOON

The county court, with County Engineer Paul Rynning and County Agent R. G. Fowler, this morning inspected the courthouse yard, preparatory to employing county jail prisoners, serving sentences, in clearing away the top covering of soil, so it can be made ready for grass seeding and other beautification plans. It is expected that the work will get underway in a few days. County equipment will be used in removing the dirt.

The Oregon law provides that county jail prisoners when sentenced shall be employed on public work. Prisoners awaiting trial do not come under this statue.

The new order is no baim to the jail inmates, who heretofore have taken ease in confinement.

Many Stars in Craterian Show

Here's the whole Rimplegar family, the nuttiest in the world, playing in "Three-Cornered Moon" at the Craterian theater today and tomorrow. Top row: Richard Arlen, Mary Boland, Claudette Colbert, Hardie Albright. Bottom row: William Bakewell, Lyda Roberti, Wallace Ford, Tom Brown and Joan Marsh. This is a story of a Brooklyn family who never knew there was a depression, they were too dizzy to feel depressed.

Petition of B. M. Bush and John Walch for the construction of a road in the Lost Creek district was denied by the county court. Viewers reported that the road would cost in the neighborhood of $5000 and that the expenditure was not justified by the number of people served.

Thousands of Texas residents were disqualified from voting in the prohibition repeal election because of failure to pay poll taxes.
