M'NARY, CARSON WILL FIGHT FOR BONNEVILLE DAM

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Senator Charles L. McNary today received word from Washington, D. C., that President Roosevelt desires that he visit the capital to discuss the situation involving the proposed Bonneville dam on the Columbia river.

Senator McNary will leave for Washington tonight. Representative Charles H. Martin of Oregon, who is in Washington, today advised McNary that Secretary of Interior Ickes, head of the public works administration, had assured him that no action will be taken in the Bonneville case until after McNary has been consulted.

Plans for the Bonneville dam, as recommended by United States army engineers, called for a 72-foot structure to cost $44,000,000, which would permit barge operation far up the river and develop tremendous electrical energy. Last week, however, word was received from Washington that after the plans had been submitted to Secretary Ickes they had been revised to provide for a 30-foot dam costing $15,000,000, and that the power feature had been discarded.

Major Joseph K. Carson will go to Washington to aid Senator McNary in his effort to have the original plans reinstated.

BANKERS WARNED AGAINST LOANING ON SLOW RETURN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—After a meeting of the federal reserve advisory council, its chairman, Walter W. Smith, issued a statement today saying that banks "should not make loans that either can not be collected within a reasonable time or are not eligible for redemptive at federal reserve banks."

The meeting was the quarterly session of the council, filling this time in a period in which President Roosevelt is seeking to expand bank credit for the purpose of financial industrial activities under the N. R. A. Smith, president of the First National bank in St. Louis, said:

"Banks are being unfairly and widely criticized on the assumption that they are refusing to make loans. Banks can only make expenses and profits by lending money, and most banks have a substantial amount of unused funds.

"It should be remembered that the money to be loaned is the property of depositors. However, banks must be in a position to meet the demands of their depositors from time to time. Therefore, they should not make loans that either can not be collected within a reasonable time or are not eligible for redemptive at federal reserve banks."

TOO MANY DISTRIBUTE WHAT FEW PRODUCE CLAIM OF ECONOMIST

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Dr. Mortimer Ezekiel, economic adviser to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, suggested today that too high a proportion of the nation's population might be engaged in selling and transportation as compared with production.

Speaking before the Boston conference on retail distribution, Dr. Ezekiel first warned that costs of raw materials must advance more rapidly during the next few years than retail prices—that otherwise the whole course of recovery might be impeded, or prevented.

"Our major attention here, however," he said, "may be devoted to the long-time problem. Distribution costs have continued to rise over a long term of years. That rise cannot be permitted to continue forever.

"Is it necessary," he said, "that for every two persons engaged in production one person be engaged in distribution? That is the fundamental problem which farmers look to transporters, wholesalers and retailers to answer."

WOMEN PUT NEW PASTOR TO FLIGHT

JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 20.—(AP)—A new minister's attempt to occupy the pulpit of the Jonesboro Baptist tabernacle, scene of bitter intra-congregation strife for weeks, ended last night in his flight from a group of women, minus his suspenders and Bible.

The Rev. Doc Applegate, a former deputy constable and ordained minister, mounted the pulpit and announced he had been sent to preach in place of the Rev. Dale S. Crossley, one of the rivals for the pastorate.

Immediately, according to reports to officers today, 15 or 20 women members of the Rev. Joe Jeffers faction, in possession of the tabernacle, seized Applegate, tore off his suspenders and part of his shirt and threw him off the platform. He fled leaving his suspenders and Bible behind.

PENDLETON ROUNDUP PAGEANT OF PIONEER DAYS OPEN THURSDAY

PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 20.—(Sp.)—The west's one great cowboy exhibition, the 24-year-old Pendleton Round-up, is on again, packed with thrills, vivid with color and vizzie with the he-man sports of the historic frontier west. Its three great days beginning Thursday and ending Saturday. The tepees of 2,000 Indians have risen like magic on the Round-up grounds and the thunder of galloping hoofs is heard in the arena.

By spectacular roping in the try-out, Oklahoma and Texas ropers have served notice on Montana, Oregon and Washington top hands that the steer roping championship will go to some mighty good man. And, with 62 head of bucking horses acting as though they realized that the best collection of bronck riders ever to hit Pendleton had to be put in their places, this year is being nominated "the best one yet."

Every indication points to a record attendance at the Round-up. Advance reservations for grandstand seats are far ahead of previous years. Special train ticket sales are another indication, and the crowds that are now flooding the Pendleton brightly decorated streets and swarming out to the grounds are the final proof that this is a great Round-up year.

BENEFITS OF NRA SHOULD BE HELD

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Uniform state regulation with a view to consolidating all of the social gains made under the provisions of the NRA should be the objective of all the industrial states in the opinion of Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, expressed in a letter received by State Senator Henry Parkman of Boston today.

Secretary Perkins urged that laws be passed permanently abolishing child labor, establishing compulsory minimum wages and reducing the hours of work. In addition, she advocated the establishment of unemployment reserves by the employers of labor, old age assistance for persons too old to find work and a compulsory knowledge of conditions prevailing among labor and in industries.
