

GLASSY COUGARS DETERMINED TO TOP CONFERENCE

With 19 Lettermen On Hand Coach Hollingbery Has Best Looking Outfit in Seven Years at W. S. C.

By FLOYD W. LANSDON Associated Press Staff Writer PULLMAN, WASH., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Washington State's Cougars are out to win the Pacific Coast conference football championship, and nobody, from Coach O. E. (Babe) Hollingbery down to Bobby, the mascot, is making any bones about it.

With 19 lettermen on hand, the 1933 squad appears to be the strongest and classiest looking outfit Hollingbery has had in his seven years at Washington State. The faithful have little doubt but that the Cougars will finish at least in the top two, and many of the underclassmen are predicting the championship will return to Pullman after an absence of two years.

Experienced Talent Sixteen lettermen from last year's powerful squad reported for the first practice, along with nearly every member of the undefeated 1932 freshman team and three veterans of former seasons.

The line promises to be mighty, with lettermen in every position except the two guards, where regular reserves will be posted. The forward wall will be built around Frank Ingram, a six-foot-two, 200-pound tackle, who missed only three minutes of play in Washington State's six major contests last year.

The giant George Theodoratos, who alternated at full last year, will be given a permanent assignment at tackle. Theodoratos reported this fall in perfect trim, weighing more than 240 pounds.

Colburn Is Key Man The backfield likewise is powerful and experienced. Stan Colburn, a 200-pound halfback and ball-toting powerhouse, is the key man behind the forward wall. Phil Carboe, a slight but mighty triple threat, will be regular quarter. Henry Bendise is back at full, and Ollie Arbelbide for the other half.

Outstanding among last year's frosh is Ted Christoffersen, the big blond Norwegian halfback from Honolulu, who was a sensation as a rookie.

He will understudy Colburn and Arbelbide.

Point for Trojans Well grounded in fundamentals and primary plays as a result of a long spring practice, the Cougars were set to work immediately on formations and signal drill this fall.

They are sighting their guns on the game with Southern California at Los Angeles, October 7. The Trojans, 1932 champions, handed Washington State its only defeat last year, and are looked upon as the biggest threat in the championship drive this year.

Seven conference games are on the schedule, including one with Oregon State at Corvallis, October 29.

PACIFIC COLLEGE PLAYS MONMOUTH

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Pacific coast debut of the veteran coach Amos Alonso Stagg, will take place in Monmouth civic stadium here tonight when his team from the College of the Pacific meet the boys from Oregon Normal school.

The two squads, each eager to present a victory to its coach, were undaunted today at the growing prospect of rain and a wet field. Upon their arrival from Stockton this morning the Californians, 28 strong, planned a short signal drill at the stadium before retiring to seclusion until game time. Word that Buff Strobridge, hard-hitting fullback who had been reported ill, will be in Stagg's starting lineup was considered here as strengthening the prospects of the visitors.

SOUTHERN OREGON BASEBALL LEAGUE TO BE CONTINUED

Medford's Rogues have hung up their uniforms for the balance of the year and baseball matters in these parts will now revert to the "hot stove league." While the season was not entirely successful for the locals, either from the standpoint of finance or percentage of wins, it did demonstrate one thing—a southern Oregon league can complete a schedule.

Under the bulldog leadership of Hal Haight, who fathered the league and managed Medford's entry, the league went through with its season and both players and fans are now talking about a circuit for next year to include Grants Pass, Roseburg, Klamath Falls, Coquille, Marshfield and Medford.

Eagle Point and Ashland find the attempt to enter a team in league competition a bit tough and will probably not make a bid for place in the outfit.

Medford's Rogues won 16 and lost 19 of their games this season, but two of the losses went to barnstorming nines such as the House of David. Joants was leading hitter, carding an average of 440 in 25 times at bat. Captain Haight took more trips to the batters box than any of his players, standing up 68 times. He finished the season with an average of .323.

Batting averages follow:

ANNOUNCE PAIRING FOR PUBLIC LINKS AUTUMN TOURNEY

With announcement late yesterday of pairings in the fall tournament at the Medford Public Golf links, play will be under way over the week-end and first round matches must be completed by Saturday night, September 30. Second round play will start on Sunday, October 1.

The recent rains have placed the public links in good shape for play, according to F. W. Chausee, proprietor of the course, and with the keen interest being shown, one of the most successful tournaments ever held at the municipal links is expected.

Pairings are announced as follows: First flight—Harold Riddle vs. Dr. Ray Dudley; Al Hagen vs. Roger Dew; Harold Wood vs. Roy Buckingham; Virgil Martin vs. P. E. Nichols.

Second flight—J. B. Hoover vs. Roan Green; E. M. Gray vs. E. C. Ferguson; Dr. E. W. Winkle vs. Moore Hamilton; C. L. MacDonald vs. J. W. Burroughs.

Third flight—W. C. Degenera vs. By: Bill Harriman vs. P. G. Vander-sen; William Hagen vs. Mrs. Knackstedt; T. E. Knackstedt vs. By.

BREAD AND CAKES LIKE MOTHER MADE

A TRIP TO PERSIA

OUR world's food tour finds us in Persia, the land of figs and honey. As usual we feature the native food of greatest historical value—the one served at some season of festivity characteristic of the country we are visiting.

That hope really does spring eternal in the human heart is shown by Persian Royalty in commemorating the grandeur of Persia—a grandeur from way back in Bible times when her greatest rulers conquered most of the then known world.

The pastry dainty of this feast is a delicious cake made from figs, honey, dates, nuts and spices:
