Parents Urged To Join P. T. A. Units This Fall

Urging membership in the Parent-Teacher association, members of the Medford council yesterday released the following statement: "The Parent-Teacher organizations of Medford as well as all over the land realize as never before that we are facing a crisis in education."

"With the world in the midst of turmoil, we know that the greatest disaster that could befall us at this time would be a breakdown of our educational structure."

"It has been said that crime and ignorance are Siamese twins. Lawlessness must be combated with education."

"Parents and teachers must take the leadership in education. We are in greater need than ever before of strength of purpose and strength of numbers."

"Many hundreds of Medford children have enrolled in school this fall. Let each parent of these children enroll in Parent-Teacher work and thru increased membership accomplish the great tasks before us."

"Plan to enroll in one of the Medford Parent-Teacher units now!"

Reports Convention Mrs. Arthur Short, representing the Medford Parent-Teacher organization, attended the national Parent-Teacher convention held in Seattle this summer.

She reports that there were 1125 registered delegates present from 41 states, Alaska and Hawaii. The theme of the convention was "The Child and His Community."

It was the largest attended national convention that has ever been held in the 37 years of national conventions.

Representing 47 states, Alaska and Hawaii, the Parent-Teacher organization has become the greatest force for good in the United States and is recognized as such.

The United States government has appealed to the P-T congress to help save our system of free education, to aid in the adoption of uniform state narcotic laws, and many other measures necessary for the perfection of the well-being of future generations.

COUNTY UNITS OF HOME EXTENSION HOLD CONFERENCE

Forty-four Jackson county women, representing Home Extension units from various points in the section, yesterday attended the second annual conference for officers and leaders of the Home Extension units in the county held in the court house.

The meeting, arrangements for which were made by Mabel C. Mack, county home demonstration agent, opened with "A Purpose of the Day" address by Mrs. Lee Port, Jackson county Home Extension committee member, who resides at Applegate.

Mrs. Mack led the group singing, after which Miss Claribel Nye, state leader in the extension work spoke on extension relationships.

Miss Nye told the group that the extension office is in partnership with government officials and is one of the many in the United States. She stated that in 1932, throughout the United States, there were 30,000 women and 40,000 committee members in the Home Extension units, with 147,834 farm women as leaders in the Home Extension work.

There are 1314 counties in the United States which have county home demonstration agents, Miss Nye said, and seven of these are in Oregon. Less than 20 per cent of the counties in Oregon have this service, she pointed out, but in the 2981 counties in the country an average of 50 per cent have agents.

The duties of the county agent were stressed by Miss Nye, who listed the most outstanding as adult education, organizer of a program and groups into units, training of leaders who give educational work to groups in a nation-wide system, courses in county program development and extension service.

She told the leaders that the office of the demonstrator is a center for information and help on home makers' topics. Showing the importance of the work, she showed on charts that 1700 calls were made directly to the local office during the past year.

Miss Gertrude Skow, home demonstration agent of Lane county, was in attendance at the meeting and congratulated Jackson county on its leadership in recreation and dramatics, stressing the importance of such work at this time.

An exhibit of notebook covers was explained by Mrs. Bertha Glasgow of Valley View and each leader was requested to make one of the books in which to keep bulletins and mimeographed material.

Mrs. Effie Birdseye of Rogue River presided over the afternoon session, with singing and announcements in charge of Mrs. Mack. During the discussion of Mrs. Mack, it was decided that each group should choose a librarian, who would be supplied with a copy of each bulletin. These, Mrs. Mack said, could be maintained as a loan library.

Value of Home Economics Extension to the Oregon Home Maker" was the topic of Mrs. Ralph Laird's address. Mrs. Laird was one of the guest speakers, being president of the state council of Home Extension.

VATICAN ACTS TO REDEEM SOVIET

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 23—(AP)—The hope that the United States would make the religious liberty of Russian an essential condition if it recognizes the soviet union was expressed tonight by Bishop Michele D'Herbigny, president of the pontifical commission for Russia.

Previously Vatican City circles reported that some means of an approach to the soviet government were being sought for conversations which would lead to an agreement guaranteeing protection of Catholic interests in Russia.

The new president, Mrs. Jack Heyland, with her corps of officers, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Coal and Mrs. Flynn, have an interesting year's work planned.

Parents are urged to attend in order to keep in closer touch with their children and their school life. City Council Meets

NRA HEARS FORD LABOR PLAINTS

DETROIT, Sept. 23—(AP)—William L. Mills, publicity chairman for the NRA committee in suburban Dearborn, disclosed tonight that steps will be taken Monday for official consideration of complaints which have been received against the Ford Motor company, Dearborn's largest employer.

The first step, Mills said, will be the selection of a compliance board. The complaints, Mills said, are of three classes. The first is based on the recent hiring of men recommended by the local American Legion, the complaints alleging this amounts to a discrimination against former Ford workers. The second has to do with a "dollar-a-day welfare plan" and the third group alleges that they are over-worked.

MINERS HOLIDAY IN PENN. FIELDS

POINT MARION, Pa., Sept. 23—(AP)—Thousands of south-western Pennsylvania coal miners voted, at two mass meetings today, to remain out of the pits until a coal code becomes effective and the operators recognize the United Mine Workers of America.

One group of 8,000 men marched to a field near the West Virginia line and urged miners in the Scott's Run district of the mountaineer-state to join the "holidays" movement.

Representatives of more than 48,000 men met at Pinedale and decided unanimously to remain away from work.

Douglas Prunes Safe ROSEBURG, Ore., Sept. 23—(AP)—Despite the wet weather of the past week, the Unquaga valley prune crop is reported to have suffered little damage. The chief result of the rains and comparatively cold weather has been to force many of the small growers to shut down because of lack of fruit.

WATER ASKED FOR JOSEPHINE LAND

SALEM, Sept. 23—(AP)—Irrigation of 1,077 acres of land in Baker county is sought by the Perkins Ditch company of Keating in its application for permit to appropriate 20 second feet of water from the Basche and Duncan ditches. C. E. Stricklin, state engineer, to whom the applications are made, announced two other large requests during the past week.

The Ed McCann estate of Kerby for two second-feet of water from Mulvaney and Democrat gulches for irrigation of land in Josephine county, and that of the Holloway brothers of Denio for four second-feet from Oriana creek for irrigation in Harney county.

FAD FOR SHORTS OUSTING PAJAMAS

NICE—(AP)—Shorts are crowding pajamas off men, women and children along the Riviera, where search for the unusual is an important occupation.

Shorts were frowned down last year, but now they are worn at dances, tea, on the beach and even on the street. Pajamas almost obscured skirts, but now shorts have their day.

The ban on shorts last year was imposed by the tennis authorities because they were worn with sketchy bathing suits designed for sun baths. This year launching of shorts at Wimbledon and the Paris Davis Cup matches broke down resistance.

The censors compromised with their scruples by authorizing shorts if worn with tennis shirts.

Word that Helen Jacobs wore shorts in the recent Forest Hills national women's tennis championships touched off the somewhat suppressed desire of the play-crowd, and the fever has spread. On tennis courts shorts are common. They appear increasingly on golf courses, at dances and are trying to make pajamas seem prudish and old-fashioned on the sand.

A state-wide croquet tournament was held this year at McMinnville, Tenn.

ENDEAVOR HEADS OUTLINE PLANS

Crater Lake Christian Endeavor Union held an executive meeting in the Grants Pass First Christian church, Friday, September 22 at 8:00, with 20 officers present, including seven society presidents. The discussion for the evening centered around the program which is to be advanced for the fall for Christian Endeavors of southern Oregon.

The program presented is the Progressive Endeavor plan, given by Vincent Sawyer of Ashland, chairman of the committee. It has three outstanding points as goals: to plan for the Crater Lake Union convention which is to be held December 1-3 in Phoenix; advertise the Christian Endeavor anniversary; and to begin to plan for the Oregon State Christian Endeavor convention which is to be held in the spring.

Norman Fraley, president of the local union, called the meeting to order with several familiar songs. Reverend Hyman led in prayer. The devotional service was given by Rev. R. Peterson of Phoenix. The presidents of the different societies were introduced, which included one junior society president of Phoenix.

The Progressive Endeavor plan was then discussed and it was decided to hold a Progressive rally in Ashland, October 6, in preparation for the union convention.

Rev. Oldenburg of Medford presented a program which included three new departments, which are: citizenship, evangelization and social.
