BOTANIST DECLARES CRATER LAKE RARE REGION FOR STUDIES

CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK, Ore.—(Special)—The Crater Lake area is not only a rare field for geologic study, but is particularly important in the botanical world, in the opinion of Dr. Elmer Applegate, curator of the Dudley Herbarium at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., a visitor in the park recently.

Dr. Applegate made his first visit to the lake in 1877 as a young boy when modes of transportation were slow and roads were poor. He made several visits before the end of the 19th century and in 1899 with Dr. F. G. Covell discovered a rare fern unique to the pumice slopes of Crater Lake. Dr. Applegate has been intimately associated with many discoveries and classifications of rare plants and flowers in the vicinity of the park. An Indian paint brush, found in the park, is called Applegate's Paint Brush, since he was the first to describe it.

Dr. Applegate in company with Park Naturalist D. S. Libbey followed the old Pioneer trail from the rim down the southwest slope of Old Mt. Mazama. Mr. Libbey plans in another season to add the old Pioneer trail like to the various naturalist guided trips offered to visitors to Crater Lake National Park.

SIX STATE LANDS CAMPS APPROVED

SALEM, Sept. 27.—(AP)—State Forester Lynn Crommiller today announced that only six state lands winter CCC camps for Oregon had been approved by the federal government.

The forestry department requested 23 winter camps in Oregon. Crommiller said. There were eight operating on the state lands during the summer.

Camps approved are Wilark and Mist in Columbia county, Walker in Douglas, Kitchie in Tillamook, Coquille in Coos, Wendling in Lane and Cape Sebastian in Curry.

COUNTY BRIEFS

Eden Precinct

EDEN PRECINCT, Sept. 27.—(Spl.)—Klamath potatoes are already making their appearance in truck loads and being sold or traded for fruit to persons procuring their winter supply. Many fruitmen and gardeners are exchanging products with each other and are procuring foods and grain and flour as well as potatoes. Ranchers of the Applegate country are welcoming the stock buyers. Many are selling fat cattle, sheep and hogs. Thousands of turkeys will be ready soon for shipment from that same section.

It is an every day sight to see men with pack animals or on foot making for a mine which they are working somewhere deep in the hills.

G. E. Carpenter, who suffered a broken shoulder several weeks ago, was out in the orchard Monday superintending the work of gathering the peaches and incidentally picking a peach now and then. But "don't tell the doctor."

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hearn of the Phoenix Mercantile company, have just returned from a pleasure trip in California. They went as far as Los Angeles and report having had a very enjoyable time.

According to a checkup with numerous housewives in the valley, there have never before been as much canning of vegetables and fruit in any season as in the present one. Not a home can be found where there can be procured empty jars and many report they would can more if they could afford to buy the jars.

Your correspondent and Mrs. Ward McReynolds made a trip out to the G. E. Carpenter peach orchard Monday afternoon and saw they are fine and loads of them, is putting it mildly. Many of these young orchards west of Phoenix are just coming into full bearing and since they have water in that section one would hardly know the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker, formerly of Medford have rented the big house known as the Blue Flower Lodge and have moved in with their family. They have six children who will enter the Phoenix school.

Ward McReynolds is enjoying his vacation at the pleasant location on the Bertha Rose-Solis place. Mr. McReynolds is hoping the weather will permit him to do some hunting and golfing during his time off duty.

Mrs. Holbrook, Sr., is quite ill at the home of her son and is confined to her bed with the flu.

The big Newbury packing house is running full handed trying to keep up with the incoming fruit. All hands are hoping the rains will hold off until the pears are all harvested.

The Brown family moved from the James Allen house Monday into the West home only a block north of their former place.

Mrs. Mary O. Cary spent ten days at the beautiful mountain ranch of Dr. Gilles last week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Pinkerton. The doctor has just finished a most beautiful dwelling for themselves on the west side of Thompson creek, opposite the one where Pinkinsons live.

Mrs. Twilla Block of West Phoenix spent Monday forenoon at the home of Mrs. Mary O. Cary.

Mrs. Henselman of Talent and Mrs. Fitzgerald of Klamath Falls were Medford shoppers Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Fitzgerald has been staying in Ashland for the last three months, but returned to the Falls Wednesday.

Mr. Holbrook who has been on the former Furry place south of Phoenix, had a lot of hay baled this week and took some of it to government camps and they trucked it away Tuesday and Wednesday.

Griffin Creek

GRIFFIN CREEK, Sept. 27.—(Spl.) High school students from here, who are attending Jacksonville high are: Mary Plak, Velma Thomason, Alberta Hart, Eleanor Hart, Adella Vogel, Helen Lamb, Ethel Caulkins, Joyce Durham, Georgetta Woodruff, Lilla Brown, Gale Graham, Donald Lash, Erwin Grey, Robert Griffin and Byron Boestwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brown spent the week-end September 9, with home folks. Mrs. Brown stayed over the week to do some canning.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Taylor of Eagle Point were recent visitors at the M. J. Randall home.

Mrs. Zola Fick of Jacksonville spent two days last week with her sister, Mrs. J. D. Brown, who broke her arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McKay and family of Medford spent Sunday at the McKay ranch.

Mrs. Anna Harris returned home with her daughter, Mrs. Leon Brown, for an indefinite visit.

Phila Harris, a C. C. C. boy from the upper Applegate, has been enjoying a two weeks' vacation visiting here and in Klamath Falls. He plans to return this week to re-enlist for the next six months.

Mrs. Donald Brown and baby daughter, Sonia Lee, of Medford spent Tuesday at the J. D. Brown home. Griffin Creek P-T. A. will hold its first meeting of the season Friday night, September 29. Election of officers will be held at this time. It is hoped a large crowd will attend.

OREGON WILL GET 1,000,000 POUNDS PORK FOR RELIEF

SALEM, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Oregon will receive one million pounds of pork for relief, the first carload shipment to be received October 7. Governor Julius L. Meier was informed here today by Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator.

Oregon's share of 1,000,000 pounds was based upon number of families on relief rolls during April, May and June. The government will likewise grant a sum of $29,910 to defray expenses in distributing the meat. The pork allotment is in addition to other relief work, it was pointed out.

One quarter of the amount will be available October 7, Hopkins said, and another quarter November 1. If deliveries are required earlier, it was possible it might be arranged, he said. Dates for the remaining half were not yet available. The pork will be distributed by the state relief committee.

At this basis, the million pounds of pork is equivalent to one pound for every man, woman and child in the state, it was pointed out. If one-fourth of this number are on relief, it would mean four pounds of pork each. The illustrations of actual making arrangements with the relief committee to handle the meat, and filled out the necessary applications to receive it as soon as possible.

JACKSONVILLE GRANGE ENJOYS DR. SHOCKLEY'S TALK ON X-RAY USE

The lecture on X-ray by Dr. E. W. Shockley, x-ray specialist of Medford, proved very interesting to patrons of Jacksonville Grange Friday evening. He gave a brief sketch of its history and rapid progress in the last few years. Adding enjoyment to the lecture were the illustrations of actual x-ray photographs showing the increasing value of this science to the medical profession.

Other enjoyable numbers on the program were two piano solos by Irma Niedermeyer and yodeling by Wilbur Yake.

A brief business meeting was necessitated to make nominations for state officers of master, overseer, lecturer, secretary and executive committee.

Appointment to the Jackson County Recreational club were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Conger, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Brockway, I. A. Dew, master, and Doris Conger, lecturer.

Announcement was made of the "Booster Get-Together" on Saturday, Sept. 30. The evening will begin with a covered dish supper at 6:30. Following this a recreational program will be held by Mrs. Emma Conger. It is hoped that a radio will be set up so that the Grange Radio Booster program from station KOIN can be included in the evening program. This is a great rally event for all grangers throughout the United States, and let the number of the Jacksonville Grange rally 100 per cent to boost the Grange along.

H. E. club met with Mrs. Mabel Sims Wednesday to continue work on the quilt. Plans are under way for the home economics program to be presented at the last Grange meeting in October. The program has asked each member to bring a program hint or suggestion to the next meeting, which will be held with Mrs. Mary Ann Langley in Jacksonville, October 11. Mrs. Elsie Hoover assisted with refreshments at the close of the meeting.

McLeod

McLEOD, Sept. 27.—(Spl.)—Mrs. E. D. Hoag met with an accident Sunday, losing her balance and falling on a window pane which had been placed near the wall. The muscles of her left arm were cut and she also suffered several minor cuts. She was rushed to a Medford hospital.

Mrs. Harry Harding returned last week from Crater Lake, where she was employed during the summer.

Jim Peyton and Ernie Ernst are victorious hunters who returned from their annual trip to eastern Oregon with a multi-lb. buck apiece. Peyton's report that he shot his buck four minutes after the opening hour. Leo Hoag entered Oregon State college as a freshman September 18.

EXCLUSIVE CHICAGO COUPLE NABBED AS GANGSTER SUSPECTS

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(UP)—5-er, and Mrs. M. J. Michaels, were among the most exclusive residents of one of Chicago's exclusive apartment houses until today.

They mingled very little with other residents at the apartment building. But they tipped lavishly and had four servants in their $325 a month apartment. The management regarded them as "model tenants."

But this morning the police grabbed Mrs. Michaels' most unscrupulous neighbor, who ran to see her when she screamed.

The exclusive Michaels were taken to a police station, in which law select circles they were known as Gus Winkler, north side gang chief, and his wife, Georgette.

Federal and Chicago authorities wanted to question Gus about the Chicago Federal Reserve bank guard robbery and policeman killing, the Kansas City Union station massacre and the South St. Paul $50,000 payroll robbery. They trailed him to his north side apartment through his negro chauffeur.

CATTLE INDUSTRY ALSO NEEDS HELP

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 27.—(AP)—A plea to the government to use some of the $75,000,000 set aside to take surplus agricultural commodities off the market to help the livestock industry was telegraphed to Washington today by F. E. Mollin of Denver, secretary of the American National Livestock Association.

Mollin urged that the government buy immediately 75,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine, made entirely from domestic oils, at a cost of around $750,000 and take the oils off the market. He also proposed the purchase of "large quantities of livestock products and large numbers of old cows to take them off the market and 'out of competition with the higher grades of beef'."

Suzzallo Buried At Private Rite

SEATTLE, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Private services were held here yesterday for Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, who died early Monday of heart trouble, in compliance with his wishes there were no public services.

Coast Guard on Rocks.
 MONTEREY, Calif., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The coast guard cutter CG258 went on the rocks of Spanish Beach near Astoria early today in a fog. Captain M. E. Nichol and the crew of six landed in a small boat and were uninjured except for minor bruises.

EXCLUSIVE CHICAGO COUPLE NABBED AS GANGSTER SUSPECTS

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(UP)—5-er, and Mrs. M. J. Michaels, were among the most exclusive residents of one of Chicago's exclusive apartment houses until today.

They mingled very little with other residents at the apartment building. But they tipped lavishly and had four servants in their $325 a month apartment. The management regarded them as "model tenants."

But this morning the police grabbed Mrs. Michaels' most unscrupulous neighbor, who ran to see her when she screamed.

The exclusive Michaels were taken to a police station, in which law select circles they were known as Gus Winkler, north side gang chief, and his wife, Georgette.

Federal and Chicago authorities wanted to question Gus about the Chicago Federal Reserve bank guard robbery and policeman killing, the Kansas City Union station massacre and the South St. Paul $50,000 payroll robbery. They trailed him to his north side apartment through his negro chauffeur.

CATTLE INDUSTRY ALSO NEEDS HELP

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 27.—(AP)—A plea to the government to use some of the $75,000,000 set aside to take surplus agricultural commodities off the market to help the livestock industry was telegraphed to Washington today by F. E. Mollin of Denver, secretary of the American National Livestock Association.

Mollin urged that the government buy immediately 75,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine, made entirely from domestic oils, at a cost of around $750,000 and take the oils off the market. He also proposed the purchase of "large quantities of livestock products and large numbers of old cows to take them off the market and 'out of competition with the higher grades of beef'."

Suzzallo Buried At Private Rite

SEATTLE, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Private services were held here yesterday for Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, who died early Monday of heart trouble, in compliance with his wishes there were no public services.

Coast Guard on Rocks.
 MONTEREY, Calif., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The coast guard cutter CG258 went on the rocks of Spanish Beach near Astoria early today in a fog. Captain M. E. Nichol and the crew of six landed in a small boat and were uninjured except for minor bruises.
