

HUMANE SOCIETY SALE WILL OFFER WIDE ASSORTMENT

Running the gamut from kitchen utensils to party frocks, merchandise is being arranged today for the opening at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning of the Jackson County Humane society candlelight sale in the shop on West Main street obtained for the annual event.

Clothes for men, women and children, constituting year-around wardrobes, have been coming in daily and the array will be ready to greet the public eye tomorrow. The attractive window, displaying just a few things to be offered, was drawing many onlookers this morning.

Behind the doors, garden tools, kitchen utensils, household goods, ranging from wicker chairs to a radio, are to be found, and a large assortment of linens, children's school clothes in cottons and wools and many men's shirts, suits and golf clothes.

Woolen suits, very fine for remodeling if they don't happen to fit; many underthings, which are brand new; shoes, hats and accessories compose some of the leading attractions for women. And a group of handmade dresses from the Philippines are not to be overlooked.

Books, cookery, rags for rugs, two oak tables, just in need of varnish a rain coat, a baseball mit and a phonograph are among some of the other bargains.

All will be offered at very low prices, corresponding with the policy of the Humane Society in other years, Friday and Saturday. The first to arrive will be the first served, after the doors open at 9 o'clock tomorrow.

The hat department will be in charge of Mrs. Lottie Howard. The men's department will be in charge of George Howard, and others assisting at the sale as clerks will be: Mrs. Sydney Richardson, Mrs. H. D. McCahey, Mrs. Shelby Tuttle, Mrs. H. Van Hovenberg, Mrs. L. A. Salade Jr., Mrs. C. M. Kidd, Mrs. H. H. Pringle and Mrs. R. J. Henry.

E. RENSHAW, FORMER PROMINENT MEDFORD CITIZEN, SUCCUMBS

News has been received here of the untimely death in Van Nuys, Cal., of one of Medford's former prominent citizens and a large property owner in the Rogue River valley, E. Renshaw. A letter telling of his passing was received yesterday by Mrs. Alice Trowbridge.

Mr. Renshaw left the Rogue River valley about eight years ago to make his home in the southern state because of his health, which was already failing at that time. He owned three large orchards, located in the Talent and Eagle Point districts, and much property in Medford, including an attractive home in the Siskiyou Heights.

He is survived by his widow and a son, Guy Renshaw, formerly fruit inspector here, and a daughter, Marian, now teaching school in the south, where she was graduated from the University of California.

The Renshaw family had many friends in the Rogue River valley, a number of whom have kept in touch with them during their eight years in California.

Parent-Teachers Ask More Thought of the Child.

The local Parent-Teacher association, which is starting forth on a new year with plans for making it the most helpful year in P.-T. A. history, is endeavoring to bring before the entire public the need for protecting future citizenship through the right training of children.

Let us get the child in our midst as our greatest wealth and our most challenging responsibility. Let us exalt him above industry, above business, above politics, above all the petty and selfish things that weaken and destroy a people. Let us know that the race moves forward through its children and, by the grace of Almighty God, setting our faces toward the morning, dedicate ourselves anew to the welfare of childhood.

All mothers and fathers of Junior high school students are cordially invited to the program prepared for tomorrow evening by the Parent-Teacher association, to be presented at the school, beginning at 8 o'clock.

County School Superintendent O. R. Bowman will be the main speaker of the evening and James Stevens, well known local baritone, will entertain with a group of solos.

Washington Parent-Teacher association is also meeting tomorrow for an afternoon session, beginning at 2:15 o'clock. Mrs. P. E. Gerber will report on the national convention.

Dog Catcher Rounds Up Ducks. HAYWARD, Cal.—(UP)—City Dog Catcher Robert Lee Pace is versatile. Business was slack the other day. A phone jangled. Said the voice, "There's a flock of stray ducks hanging around my island." Pace deserted his dog, manned a canoe and successfully waded a marine roundup on Lake Chabot. Now the ducks are in the city pound awaiting arrival of their owner.

'BAD MAN' KELLY ADMITS KIDNAPING CHARLES URSCHEL

In Rorer's announcement was the holdup of Federal Reserve bank messengers and the slaying of a policeman September 21. The "Kansas City union station job" was the massacre of four officers and their prisoner, Frank Nash, another notorious outlaw, in an attempt to liberate Nash.

Won't Fight Extradition. Before Kelly's confession was announced he underwent a change of heart and withdrew from his previously announced determination to fight extradition to Oklahoma to stand trial for the kidnaping.

Kelly's statement that he would not fight extradition came before Federal Judge Harry B. Anderson at Jackson, Tenn., signed a removal order for Kelly and his wife, Kathryn, arrested with him here yesterday.

John M. Keith, federal agent from Chicago, strongly hinted that Kelly had been connected with the Chicago holdup.

"The Kellys were in a bad jam before they were caught," Keith said. "They needed that money ($71,250 of the $200,000 Urschel ransom money dug up on a farm near Coleman, Tex., yesterday) but they could not go to it."

Kelly Desperate. We know that he was in Chicago the night of September 21 when two messengers of the Federal Reserve bank were held up and a policeman was killed. All the thieves got were two pouches of cancelled checks. He (Kelly) left Chicago, we believe, immediately for Memphis and set up his contact with Ramsey in attempt to get money."

Langford Ramsey, referred to by Keith, is Kelly's brother-in-law who was reported to have confessed to federal officers that he attempted to obtain the money buried in Texas.

The money, officers said, was Kelly's share of the $200,000 collected for the release of Urschel.

SCHOOL BELL RINGS BUT NONE ANSWER

SILVERTON, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The school bell rings daily, but those bright, shiny faces never appear at the Little Bridge Creek school house 13 miles east of here.

Miss Mollie Butler reports daily and rings the school bell, but two families moved out of the district, taking the six children who had planned to go to school there.

Miss Butler intends to appear at the school house every day—or at least until the board makes settlement on her $75 a month contract.

This means that every veteran in Jackson county is assured a job on any county or state work.
