

TELEVISION NOT PRACTICAL YET AVERS MARCONI

Noted Inventor Comes to Attend Fair — Confident Business Slump Will Lift — Radio Phone Aim Now

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Senator Guglielmo Marconi of Italy, wizard of the wireless, came to American shores today with the declaration that, although television is merging from the research stage, it is not yet quite ready.

At the same time he expressed confidence that the business slump would lift. Accompanied by the charming Mrs. Marconi, the senator is in this country for a stay of three weeks or more, during which he will attend the Chicago world's fair, and as he put it, "learn something about radio in the United States."

Pure Transmission Sought

Explaining that one of his objectives in the recent microwave tests, during which he has demonstrated that these waves are not necessarily limited to the range of vision, was to find a means of pure transmission. He made some rather definite comments in respect to television.

He did not expect, he said, that television would become as important as the transmission of speech. He believed that it would find one of its greatest uses in the sending of facsimile, such as whole pages of newspapers, etc.

Radio Phone Is Aim

Admitting that he was conducting some chemical experiments, which he declined to disclose, he said that there was no doubt that the much greater adjunct in communication than at present. He did not think that it would replace the wire telephone, rather it would be an asset. Even today, he pointed out, the wireless phone makes possible such means of transmission as the oceanic, from ship to shore and to inaccessible places on the globe. In this connection he mentioned the air phone that links Australia to the rest of the world.

Commenting on present world conditions, he said that there was great interest in Italy in President Roosevelt's recovery program, and that he himself had every confidence in the United States.

"I am sure the slump will lift," he added.

BOYS GAIN WEIGHT IN CCC MESS HALL

MISSOULA, Mont. (UP)—The 7,000 Civilian Conservation Corps workers in the Montana district have gained an average of 10 pounds per man since entering their forest jobs, officials estimate.

Each worker has a ration allowance averaging about 33 cents in cost per day. The total grocery bill for the C. C. C. in the district was estimated to be $75,000 a month.

During July and August alone the workers ate 132,000 pounds of beef, 89,000 dozen eggs, 2,000 tons of potatoes, 200,000 loaves of bread, 60,000 pounds of sugar, 20,000 pounds of coffee, 44,000 pounds of rice, 22,000 pounds of beans, and 66,000 pounds of butter.

In the first six months the workers were in camp 126 miles of frankfurters, 19,800 hams, and 6,000 large socks of sugar were consumed.

A total of approximately $1,200,000 also was paid out in salaries to the workers and their leaders.

LACK OF SCHOOL FUNDS PROBLEM BOTHERING STATE

25,000 Children May Be Deprived of Months of Education—State Should Pay Part Is Howard's View

SALEM, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Lack of school funds will deprive 25,000 children of from two to five months schooling during the current year. C. A. Howard, superintendent of public instruction, stated today and declared the state should permanently assume a portion of school costs.

"So acute is the emergency that Governor Meier has stated that the problem of school relief will be among those he will place before the legislature, in case a special session is called," Howard said.

Cash Cut in Half

"Because of tax delinquencies the actual cash available for current school expenses last year was less than half that of the previous year. In spite of heavy budget reductions the amount of outstanding warrants increased 37 per cent over the previous year in 37 counties that have reported."

County Superintendents Report

"County superintendents report that warrants issued in at least 95 districts this fall will be uncollectible. Any district that is a year or more behind in the payment of its warrants is in imminent danger of having to close its school."

May Cut Terms

"Unless state funds can be found to meet this emergency, the school terms of approximately 350 districts will be greatly shortened, many of them closing before January."

"A million dollars from state sources for emergency school relief would prevent a complete collapse of those districts that are in extreme difficulty. It would take four or five times that amount to assure a full school term in every district."

Other States Aid

"Beginning with January 1, 1934, the state of Indiana will assume $600 of the cost of each classroom unit. For the current school year the state of Maryland provided a million and a half dollars in addition to its state school fund. Missouri has raised $3,000,000."

In New York $1,000,000 of school costs for the current year will come from state sources. In North Carolina a minimum term of eight months throughout the state will be paid for from state funds and local school districts may continue the term beyond that period.

The legislature of the state of Washington provided a state fund of $10,000,000 annually for the schools of the state. A number of other states have taken steps similar to these."

OREGON FARMER UNION LOOKS WITH SUSPICION ON VARIOUS NRA CODES

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—The Oregon Farmers Union, second largest agricultural organization of the state, looks askance at various NRA codes and also at proposed special legislative session.

"We protest against the method employed and writing the various codes pertaining to agricultural products," reads a resolution recently passed by the executive committee.

"We further oppose the assembling of the state legislature at this time unless a constructive program is presented in the interests of our people."

CCC WINTER CAMP LUMBER REQUIRED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The forest conservation corps is going to buy 250,000,000 feet of lumber to build 466 winter camps for 250,000 corps workers.

In making the announcement today, Robert Fechner, conservation director, said:

"This is one of the largest single orders ever placed for lumber in the history of the country, and will give active stimulus to the lumber industry in which 1,000,000 men are normally employed."

Fechner said bids are being called for by commanding officers in the nine corps areas and that the specifications calling for number 3 common lumber were drawn in collaboration with the National Lumber Manufacturers' association. In the south, 50,000 men will continue to live in tents.
