GIANTS TAKE SERIES OPENER 4-2

Comment on the Day's News

RELIEF needs in Oregon this winter are expected to total eight million dollars, of which the government will provide three millions while the state must provide the other five.

THERE is an old saying to the effect that "you can't get blood out of a turnip"—which is quite all right, because nobody WANTS to get blood out of a turnip.

THE governor's special committee to find ways and means of doing the squeezing meets in all-day session, and decides that liquor will have to provide about HALF of the amount needed.

SOLONS HELPLESS BEFORE HUBBELL'S PORTSIDE SLANTS

National League Mound Ace Fans Ten — Allows But Five Safeties—Mell Ott Aids With Circuit Clout

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Carl Hubbell, brilliant National League southpaw, fanned ten and allowed but five hits today as the Giants knocked Wally Stewart from the box and whipped the Senators, 4 to 2, before a crowd estimated at 48,000 in the opening game of the world series.

With Mel Ott's home run into the right field stands with Joe Moore on base, first of four hits the young Louisiana right fielder made in leading the assault on three Washington pitchers, sending him away to a flying start. Hubbell pitched the same masterly ball that brought him 10 shutouts and 24 victories in the past season.

Stewart Blasted Loose. The Giants, after scoring twice in the first, landed again on Stewart, the surprise southpaw pitching selection of Manager Joe Cronin, and blasted him out of the game in the third. Successive singles to right by Hubbell, Critz, Bill Terry and Ott, accounted for one run and the departure of the left-hander. Jack Russell relieved him with none out, and allowed another run on an infield out.

The Giants failed to score thereafter, though they threatened Russell in the fifth, when Ott got his third straight hit, a single to center and George Davis followed with a smash to right. Hubbell pitched the same masterly ball that brought him 10 shutouts and 24 victories in the past season.

Joe Cronin accounted that he would start Alvin Crowder, his right hander, in an effort to even the series tomorrow, while Terry will try for two straight with Hal Schumacher, his young right-handed slinker ball expert.

His Homer Helped

MEL OTT

Davis up: Davis singled sharply past Cronin. Jackson up: Jackson lifted a high fly to Schulte.

Two runs, two hits, one error, one left on base. Second Inning. Senators—Cronin up: Cronin singled between Jackson and Ryan on a slow dribbler.

Schulte up: Schulte bunted to Hubbell and Cronin was forced at second, Hubbell to Ryan. Schulte beat the relay by a step at first.

Kuhel up: Kuhel fanned, and Schulte was doubled at second, Mancuso to Ryan. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left on base.

GIANTS—Mancuso up: Mancuso lifted a high fly to Schulte. Ryan up: Ryan hit sharply to Myer and raced to second when the second baseman, after a great stop, threw wildly past Kuhel. It was a hit for Ryan and an error for Myer.

Hubbell up: Hubbell popped to Myer. Moore up: Moore grounded out, Bluege to Kuhel. No runs, one hit, one error, one left on base.

Third Inning. Senators—Bluege up: Bluege struck out, swinging at a change of pace. Sewell up: Sewell grounded out, Jackson to Terry, on a slow hopper.

Stewart up: Stewart fanned, swinging at a change of pace. Ott up: Ott hit a home run, off Russell, right-handed pitcher, in the bull pen. Cronin called him in to replace Stewart after consulting Sewell.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base. GIANTS—Critz up: Critz singled on a line drive against the right field wall. Terry up: Terry slashed a single past Myer and Critz ran to third. It was the hit and run play.

Ott up: Ott singled to left, scoring Critz and sending Terry to third. Jack Russell, right-handed pitcher, was warming up for Washington in the bull pen. Cronin called him in to replace Stewart after consulting Sewell.

Davis up: Davis fanned, swinging at a high hard one. Jackson up: Jackson grounded to first, Terry scoring. Jackson was retired as Myer made a fast pickup and throw to Russell.

Mancuso up: Mancuso flied to Schulte. Two runs, three hits, no errors, one left on base. Fourth Inning. Senators—Myer singled past Ryan. Goslin up: Goslin rolled out to Terry, who tagged the goos on the base line as Myer ran to second.

Baseball Fans Hear Series On Double Hookup

Medford and Southern Oregon baseball fans were served their first "dish" of the world series play-by-play today through co-operation of the Mail Tribune and Radio Station KMED. By use of one master microphone, the radio broadcast and the Tribune's public address system in front of the newspaper office on Fry street, gave the plays simultaneously as announcer Dave Rees of the KMED staff read the telegraph report flowing in on the Mail Tribune's Associated Press leased wire. The service will be repeated each day of the series. Wednesday's game will start at the same time, 10:30 a. m. (P. S. T.)

Goslin up. Goslin fouled to Mancuso. Manush up: Manush lifted a short fly to Ryan. The big hitters of the Washington team looked bad against Hubbell's sharpshooting.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base. GIANTS—Mancuso up: Mancuso flied out to Manush. Ryan up: Ryan hoisted a high one to Kuhel.

Hubbell up: Hubbell hit sharply through Bluege for a single on the first ball pitched. Moore up: Moore forced Hubbell at second, Bluege to Myer. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left on base.

Seventh Inning. Senators—Cronin lifted a high one to Moore, who barely grabbed the ball with outstretched hands after a long run. Schulte up: Schulte fanned, swinging at a fast curve.

Kuhel up: Kuhel grounded out, Critz to Terry. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base. GIANTS—Critz up: Critz was out on a sharp grounder, Cronin to Kuhel. It was a close play.

Terry up: Terry drove a long fly to Schulte in left center. Ott up: Ott hit a home run, off Russell, right-handed pitcher, in the bull pen. Cronin called him in to replace Stewart after consulting Sewell.

Davis up: Davis fanned, swinging at a high hard one. Jackson up: Jackson grounded to first, Terry scoring. Jackson was retired as Myer made a fast pickup and throw to Russell.

Mancuso up: Mancuso flied to Schulte. Two runs, three hits, no errors, one left on base. Fourth Inning. Senators—Myer singled past Ryan. Goslin up: Goslin rolled out to Terry, who tagged the goos on the base line as Myer ran to second.

Manush up: Manush grounded to Critz, who fumbled for an error. Manush was safe and Myer reached third. Cronin up: Cronin grounded to Jackson, whose throw to Critz forced Manush at second. Myer scored on the play.

Schulte up: Schulte hit a hard liner that Hubbell knocked down, but could not field in time to catch the runner at first. It was a single and Cronin reached second.

Kuhel up: Kuhel flied out to Terry. One run, two hits, one error, two left on base. GIANTS—Ryan up: Ryan fanned. Hubbell up: Hubbell bounced to Russell, who made a nice leaping stop and throwout at first.

Moore up: Moore grounded out sharply, Cronin to Kuhel. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base. Fifth Inning. Senators—Bluege up: Bluege bunted out, Ryan to Terry on a close play. Sewell up: Sewell was out on a slow hopper. Jackson to Terry.

Russell up: Russell fanned, swinging at a change of pace. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base. GIANTS—Critz up: Critz grounded out, Myer to Kuhel.

VETERANS DIFFER WITH ROOSEVELT IN POLICY DRAFT

Four-Point Rehabilitation Program Near Adoption by Legion Would Hospitalize Vets, Regardless

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A four-point rehabilitation program for World War veterans, differing sharply in one respect from President Roosevelt's outlined policy, apparently was a step nearer adoption today by the annual convention of the American Legion.

Despite the president's statement to the Legion yesterday that veterans suffering from ailments incurred since the war may receive federal hospitalization only if their local and state communities are unable to take care of them, the Legion's rehabilitation committee approved a plan for hospital treatment, for all ex-soldiers of the World War, regardless of when they were incapacitated.

Would Hospitalize All. The committee's report, made last night, said that "hospitalization under federal government auspices should be afforded all veterans not dishonorably discharged who require pay for their own treatment."

The other points in the program, which has been approved by 43 of the state departments, are: "That no war veteran disabled in the line of duty shall suffer any reduction of those benefits granted such veterans as in the World War veterans' act in effect prior to March 20, 1928."

"That perpetuation of service for all veterans properly granted such connections under laws in existence prior to March 20, 1928, be recommended."

Would Resume Benefits. "That benefits provided for dependents of veterans as established in the World War veterans' act be resumed and maintained as the government's policy and that in no event shall widows and dependent children of deceased war veterans be without government protection."

At the same time the committee tabled resolutions asking an investigation of Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs at Washington, but despite this action members of the Pennsylvania delegation, who presented one of the anti-Hines resolutions.

Complete plans for the Chamber of Commerce luncheon were perfected last night at a meeting of the committee, it was announced today by John Mann, chairman.

It was further announced that the advance sale of tickets has been extremely good and those who desire to attend the luncheon are urged to make reservations immediately so that the high school can be advised of the number to be expected.

Those attending are requested to be at the high school punctually at 12 o'clock and to drive their cars to the space in back of the auditorium. The luncheon will be held in the gymnasium.

Following lunch Mr. Mann will make a short talk on the relationship of the business men to the high school football team and the meeting will then be turned over to a number of old time college football players who will put on a stunt. The high school students themselves will have a few yells and sing a couple of songs and the high school band will also play one or two selections.

The squad with Coach Burgher will have lunch with the chamber of commerce group and will be introduced to those present.

KLAMATH INDIAN'S MURDER TRIAL ON FEDERAL COURT

Selection of a jury in the trial of Benjamin Tupper, Klamath Indian, charged with second degree murder, for the slaying of Eben Murdock, June 3, was begun this afternoon.

Jurors were questioned relative to their qualifications by the court. The government in the exercise of its first challenge excused William Publ. Gold Hill farmer.

Benjamin Tupper, Klamath reservation Indian, went on trial this afternoon in federal court, Judge J. Alger Fee presiding, charged with second degree murder for the alleged slaying of Eben Murdock last summer. A liquor party and a family feud of long standing, in which romance played a sordid role, are stated by attorney as basic causes of the crime.

Murdock was stabbed to death, the complaint alleges, as he sat in a chair, following a night of revelry on the reservation, in which several Indians, including the former wife and daughter of Tupper participated. Ownership of the knife and the bitterness allegedly existing between the two men for a number of years, are expected to be revealed in the testimony.

Tupper is said to bear a good reputation. He is represented by Attorney W. P. Myers of Klamath Falls, former district attorney of Klamath county. The trial is expected to last two or three days. Selection of a jury started this afternoon at the opening of federal court. The term of federal court was formally opened this morning at 10 o'clock.

The personnel of federal officials attending is as follows: Federal Judge James Alger Fee, presiding; Miss Mary Bell, private secretary to Judge Fee; District Attorney Carl C. Donahue, whose recent appointment to the post caused a furor in Oregon Democratic circles; Mason Dillard, assistant district attorney; Miss Frances Schelcher, secretary to District Attorney Donahue; United States Marshal John L. Day; Deputy United States Marshal Loren Cochran; Chief Clerk Hal S. Kenyon; Deputy Clerk Glenn O. Taylor; Bailiffs Fred Norman of Portland and Harry Moore of Medford.

Mrs. James Alger Fee, Mrs. John L. Day and Mrs. Hal Kenyon accompanied their husbands.

After the formal opening of court this morning, arguments on a desistment in the case of the Southern Oregon Sales company of this city against Clyde G. Huntley, former internal revenue collector for Oregon, were made, with Attorney A. E. Reames of this city appearing for the local fruit company. The suit concerns federal taxes paid in 1928.

This afternoon, before the opening of the Tupper trial, naturalization hearings were held. Eleven criminal cases and five civil suits are scheduled for federal court term. It is expected to last two weeks.

LOCAL BANKERS ATTEND MEETING

One of the largest meetings of state bankers ever held in Oregon was called to order by Superintendent A. Schramm in the capitol at Salem yesterday. Mr. Schramm presided, flanked by Mr. Colt, president of the Oregon Bankers' association; Ted Cramer, secretary of the association; Mr. West of the Federal Reserve board; Mr. Cooke, national examiner of state banks and Mr. Schultz of the Federal Reconstruction corporation.

The scene was a novel and unusual one, and suggested a court of high degree; as indeed it was in the banking world of Oregon. The officials and bankers present were all enthusiastic over the provisions of the new government banking law of 1933.

Medford was represented in the meeting by Delroy Getchell, C. E. Gates and F. E. Wahl, president, vice-president and cashier, respectively, of the Farmers and Fruitgrowers bank which will come under the law providing for insurance of bank deposits on January 1, 1934.

Announcement of the gathering was received here this morning by George S. Barton, who requested that all local officers who possibly can journey north Thursday.

CUBAN PRESIDENT SAVED BY ARMOR WHEN FIRED UPON

HAVANA, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Government spokesmen announced today that more than thirty shots were fired last night at President Grau San Martin and expressed belief that his life was saved only because he was riding in an armored car.

HAVANA, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Warfare in which at least 100 were killed and 80 wounded left Havana today on trigger edge.

A day long battle between several hundred officers barricaded in the National hotel and the "enlisted men's" army yesterday did not end with the surrender of the officers.

Through the night, bullets whizzed in the streets and Havana, which has seen recent governments rise and fall with much bloodshed, discovered today that a truce had not yet been called.

What the A B C Revolutionary society would do stood out as today's major enigma. That militant organization failed to take the officer's side actively in the storming of the hotel yesterday, preferring to maintain an "expectant" attitude.

The events were believed not to have lessened the A B C opposition to President Ramon Grau San Martin and many professed to foresee a nearly continuous Guerrilla warfare such as that against former President Machado, who fled before a revolution in August.

INFLATION TOPIC OF STEWARD AT ROTARIANS' MEET

"Inflation is dynamite; it can be made to do just exactly what the work intended and do it well, if properly handled, or will blow up the entire country if improperly handled," U. T. Steward said today in his interesting address on "Inflation" before the members of the Medford Rotary Club. A large turnout of Rotarians assembled in the basement banquet hall of the Medford hotel for their weekly luncheon and enthusiastically received Mr. Steward's enlightening talk.

Effect of inflationary activities in past history were briefly mentioned by the speaker before delving into his much-discussed topic.

"In all past depression accidents have happened to bring the country and the world back to normal," Mr. Steward said, in outlining inventions and discoveries which vitally affected economic conditions during past "slumps." "This depression has not been so accidentally fortunate. Man must now create his own accident, his own solution. This necessitates experimenting and the greatest minds and thinkers are attacking this perplexing problem."

Roosevelt's greatest single problem and the one he has been most reluctant and hesitant to work upon is inflation. Mr. Steward told the Rotarians. The speaker then quoted Marc Rose, editor of the Business Week, in his recent article discussing this important problem. He also explained why money can become suddenly scarce due to the melting away of bank credits and pointed out the serious effects of such parallel events in past history.

A touch of humor was given to Mr. Steward's inflation talk when he called the Rotarians attention to the fact that the total mortgage debt of Germany before the war and after inflation in that country, this entire debt could have been paid with one American copper cent. Before the war, Germany has one and one-half billion dollars in circulation and, at the climax of inflation, a box of matches would cost that much. A sheet of paper was worth $30.00, the savings of a lifetime dwindled to the price of one cigarette. These facts were mentioned to show the extremes of inflation if allowed to get out of control.

Mr. Steward then spoke of the present conditions, which have made the question of inflation a paramount issue. Next week's meeting of the club will be devoted to another talk by Mr. Steward on inflation and a general forum in which members will discuss the various phases of this highly complex question.

N. W. Blanchard of southern California was a visitor at today's meeting. SALEM, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Facing a backslaw is a method of passing the buck when it comes to feeding transient. It was found at the Salem "flop house" last month. Chief of Police Frank Mintz ordered that "guests" qualify by converting a piece of four-foot cordwood into stovewood. The number of men applying for meals has diminished 80 to 90 per cent, he said.

Birdseye Creek Rancher Quiet, Peaceful, Industrious Man Say Witnesses — Self Defense Projected

A circuit court jury, Frank W. Houston, foreman, Phoenix, this afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of the state against Fred Wolf, charged with manslaughter, the jury retired at noon, and returned its verdict shortly after two o'clock.

The age-old story of two men and a woman, with a background of country gossip, was told from a circuit court witness stand yesterday afternoon and this morning in the trial of Fred Wolf, Birdseye creek district rancher, charged with manslaughter, for the slaying May 4, last, of Bill Sheldon, 38, of the same section. The killing, culmination of an alleged illicit romance between Mrs. Wolf and Sheldon, occurred as the pair were walking through a cow-pasture, in the twilight of a spring day. Final arguments to the jury were underway this morning.

Wolf took the stand briefly in his own behalf. He denied any threats against the life of Sheldon and declared that the gun was discharged during a scuffle. Wolf claimed that he was hit on the left temple by a milk pail in the hands of Sheldon. Following the blow he was unable, he testified, to tell just what happened. As Sheldon lay on the ground, Wolf testified he opened his shirt, saw the wound and realized the seriousness of the situation.

The defense contended Sheldon was the aggressor. The state introduced some testimony to show it was Wolf, who testified, "I never had a fight before."

Ira Childers, a resident of the Rogue River district, testified to a conversation he had with Wolf the morning of the tragedy in which he told Wolf of the gossip linking Mrs. Wolf and the slain man.

PIANIST BITTEN IN FACE BY DOG

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—(AP)—It was learned early today that Leopold Godowsky, noted Russian-Jewish pianist, is suffering from savage wounds inflicted by a dog from a passing automobile in Michigan avenue.

The attack occurred yesterday at Michigan avenue and Adams street as Godowsky was waiting for traffic to pass. An automobile turning south from Adams street close to him and as it did the dog thrust its head out of a rear window and bit the pianist in the face.

DOLLFUSS IS WOUNDED BY WOULD-BE ASSASSIN

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was slightly wounded by a would-be assassin today, but an hour after receiving treatment at a hospital he was able to go to his home and continue his official duties from there.

TRUCK OWNERS MEET THURSDAY

A meeting of all truck owners who can possibly attend, has been called for Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce in Salem, in order that action might be taken concerning the truck and bus bill which is now before the supreme court that the constitutionality might be established.
