

TIGER INJURIES CAUSING WORRY ON EVE OF GAME

Backfield Good, Except for Hospital List — Second, Third String Ambitious — Beat Roseburg, Is Slogan

(By Harold Grove)

With the injury list mounting, the high school grid squad is practicing hard for Saturday with one thought — "beat Roseburg."

Backfield Coach Ed Kirtley will have had a few more gray hairs added to his head when he sums up his injury list and his "well" list. He will find that the injuries will have it. Max Gillinsky has a sprained ankle which will probably be all right for Saturday's game with Roseburg. Tommy White is not injured, but out of practice to nurse a bad cold. Stanley Kunzman, since the beginning of practice, has had a bad case of "charley horse" in his right leg, as a result of a hard tackle in the game Saturday by one of those playful Weed players. Bill Bates was carried off the field Tuesday night with a wrenched back. He forgot to remember what happens when you fall on a fumbled ball "cockeyed" with a number of other players on top for extra measure.

Backfield Going Good
Aside from injuries, the backfield is progressing nicely with "Leaping Leo" Ghehardt, "Speedy" Severson doing a lot of ball carrying, Russ Brown calling signals and "Toughy" Lewis handling the other back position.

While Kirtley is worrying over his backfield injuries, Coach Darwin Burgher has a few worries himself. "Tarzan" Estes is out of the lineup indefinitely with a wrenched knee. He was caught between night and day (that Weed negrotackle and Weed guard), Burdette Kindred, another young giant who didn't see action against Weed because of a "charley horse," will be in the lineup again soon. The injury list isn't quite as long as that of the backfield.

First String Competition
The old fighting third and fourth strings are making the first and second string hump to keep their places on the respective teams. They come out of the dressing room yelling at the top of their voices that the first string can't play football, but at the close of practice they are pretty well quieted down. When the team reaches the dressing room some of them still persist the first team doesn't know how to play football, so the members of the first team merely put them under a cold shower for a very inconvenient length of time, football suit and all. The third and fourth string boys haven't much in the way of football equipment but they certainly make use of what they have.

The spectators are urged to come and watch the boys practice. They show a lot of enthusiasm. Maybe it will help to revive that old spirit of the time of Prince G. Callison's "Black Tornado" team. Everything else is reviving its spirit under the N. R. A., so let's have a recovery program of our own.

GRAPPLER SOCKED BY PORTLAND FAN

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Winning two falls out of three, Pat Kelly of Boston defeated George Wilson of Seattle in the main event of last night's wrestling card here. The Bostonian took the first fall in 17 minutes with a body press. After Wilson took the second in 10 minutes with a flying tackle, Kelly used another body press to win the deciding tumble in three minutes.

When Wilson attempted to shake hands with the victor, Kelly suddenly launched an uppercut to the Washingtonian's chin. A spectator struck at Kelly, Wilson "finished the job" and the bout ended with Kelly stretched out on the mat.

Bob Meyers, 161, Tillamook, defeated Sailor Franz, 166, San Diego, in the semi-windup, taking one fall. Bunny Martin, 160, Tulsa, won from Bill Jack, 155, San Francisco with one fall.

Harry Kent, 225, ex-Oregon football player, won the preliminary from Joe Reynolds, 210, Portland, with one fall.

BEAVERS POLISH PASSING, KICKING

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Passing, kicking and signal drills were on the training menu of the Oregon State Beavers today as Coach Lon Stiner prepared to wind up the practice period for the football game with Gonzaga at Portland Saturday. The scrimmage practice ended last night.

It was apparent today that Hal Joslin, hard-hitting fullback, would not be in the lineup. He pulled a muscle in the Montana game here last Saturday and has not been in suit this week.

STRIBLING BURIED WITH ARMY HONOR

MACON, Ga., Oct. 5.—(AP)—The home town that cheered W. L. (Young) Stribling's departure for scores of excursions into the prize ring, said farewell today to the heavy weight boxer who died Tuesday, the

SONS STRIVE FOR BERTH ON SQUAD IN PACIFIC GAME

New Faces May Be Seen in Lineup When Hobson's Men Face Collegians at Ashland Coming Saturday

ASHLAND, Oct. 5.—(Sp.)—On Saturday, October 7, when the S. O. N. S. play their opening tilt with Pacific, there may be a few new faces in the starting lineup. Practice scrimmages have proved there were players on the bench that could hold their own with the regulars. So far, Mahoney has been getting the call at center, but it appears that he will have to settle down to work if he wishes to keep Fritz out of the lineup. The two regular guards, Patterson and Anderson, are being pressed hard by McLean, Northam and Marshall. All three of these players are young and inexperienced, but are coming forward so rapidly that it appears as if any of them might break in as a regular.

Tackles Have Opposition.
It is quite possible that Coach Howard Hobson will have more strength at the tackles. Carter and Oakes, both veterans, have had no real competition, but it now is quite apparent that they will be pressed for their starting position. Ward Howell, it is remembered, played tackle at Ashland high school and could easily be shifted to a tackle berth. That is his natural position and he may be placed there any time in the near future. With the abundance of good guards, Swede Anderson may be moved to tackle, also. That will make four good tackles that should be able to stop the plays directed at them. At the beginning of the season there was a scarcity of ends. This has almost become a thing of the past for many good ends have reported for service since then. Howell and Hobson have been playing the positions, but Jack Cook, Rasmussen and Ayres are on even terms with them. Ayres is developing rapidly and should hit his stride this week. He is an excellent tackler and is fair at catching passes. Cook and Rasmussen are younger men but have good high school records and look good in practice.

Fugitt Calls Signals.
Fugitt now has the signal calling berth. Louie McAninch from Klamath Falls is the reserve quarterback and is a good blocker and fair ball carrier.

Halfbacks are plentiful. Elmer Brown and Al Bradford were holding down the posts. Bill Courtney, Jim Crockett, McPadden, Braddock, McKenzie and Chipley all have shown enough ability to keep the regulars busy. Wiley and Bracey are now hitting their stride and may be playing soon.

At fullback Powell Lancaster is back and is better than ever. After a week of conditioning he should be able to go through a full game. He will probably kick and leave the passing duties to Brown. In case of injury, Brown could handle the fullback as Bob Beach of Longview, Wash. He has plenty of offensive drive and can back up a line.

Masnie, a sub center from Grants Pass, has been slowed up with an injury, but ought to make the others work hard before the season is over. Grants Pass has furnished the squad with Masnie, Chipley, Wiley, Jack Cook and Ira Town.

Grant High Trims Jefferson 7 to 6

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Staging a great comeback in the last three minutes of play, Grant high yesterday defeated the champion Jefferson team, 7 to 6. A blocked Jefferson punt was turned into a winning touchdown, ending Jefferson's record of 16 consecutive victories in the Portland interscholastic league.

GRAPPLING CARD PROMISED FANS NEXT WEDNESDAY

A wrestling card with promise of plenty of fireworks will mark renewal of the grip and grapple game here next Wednesday night at the armory. Promoter Mack Lillard, after combing the available mat talent for a pair of matches which would please the fans, announced today he has succeeded in signing George Wilson, former Washington university football star, to meet Pete Bellastro, dynamic Sacramento Italian, in the main event, and Jack Kogut, Toronto, Ontario, terror, to face Al Karastick, the roaring Russian lion of Portland.

Wilson, who depends mainly on Sonnenberg huts to produce his victories, will find himself opposing a man who also launches flying tackles with terrific speed and power. Both wrestlers are fast and aggressive and mat followers who have seen them in action declare most anything may happen when the two meet—and probably will. They are to go for one hour or two out of three falls.

While Kogut is more or less an unknown quantity here, he bears an enviable reputation in western Canadian rings and is rated as a scientific and dangerous muscle mangle. Karastick, who has shown here often, is known for his aggressiveness and a penchant for using unorthodox maneuvers to harry an opponent. The grappling show will star at 8:15 p. m. next Wednesday, according to Lillard.
