

DIAMOND JUBILEE WINS EDITORIAL AID OF JOURNAL

Under the caption, "An Invitation" the Portland Journal today comments as follows on the Diamond Jubilee: Oregon will be 75 years old next February 14, and to celebrate its diamond anniversary in Medford and its historic environs at what promises to be the greatest "birthday party" in the career of the commonwealth.

E. C. Jerome, chairman of the general committee on arrangements, and A. H. Banwell, manager of the Medford chamber of commerce, have come to invite Portland to attend and to participate largely in plans for the occasion. To take advantage of the milder weather, the celebration will be held the week of June 3. That is a long time ahead, but not too far, Mr. Jerome insists, to start getting ready. Mayor Carson and the chamber of commerce have assured him that Portland will do its part.

There will be pageantry and music, a land products show, an air carnival, and pioneer sports and festivities in the pioneer setting and atmosphere where the spirit of the argonauts still lives. A party of Oregonians en route to the newly opened gold fields in California had discovered gold in the Rogue river near Table Rock 10 years before Oregon's statehood. Two years later, in December, 1851, gold was found at Jacksonville, around which community an important part of the birthday celebration will center. Portland had been incorporated as a city in January of the same year. Oregon territory east of the Cascades was still an uninhabited wilderness, so far as the white men were concerned, except for Hudson's Bay posts and the scattered prospectors washing for gold along pioneer trails. As late as 1856, General Wood, commander of the department of the Pacific, United States army, had enjoined settlers from locating in the interior, in the hope of placating the Indians. The Cascades, he said, seemed to form a "valuable wall of separation between the two races."

And when statehood was granted, in February of '59, it was not known in Portland until a month later. The news had still to travel overland by stage coach to California, thence north by ocean steamship. With this old Oregon as a background, Medford plans a celebration of statehood's three quarters of a century of progress. It should be a splendid party.

Mrs. Richardson Guest Of Local D. A. R.

Mrs. John Y. Richardson, state regent of the Oregon Society Daughters of the American Revolution, who is making her official visit to southern Oregon chapters, arrived in Medford Saturday morning to be the guest of Crater Lake chapter. She was accompanied by Mrs. I. L. Patterson, who was formerly state regent and is now chairman of the board of governors of the Pioneer Memorial cabin at Champoux, and Mrs. Edwards, state chairman of the student loan committee.

A 1 o'clock luncheon, honoring the guests, was served at the Hotel Medford, and was followed by the chapter's regular meeting at Mrs. J. A. Perry's home. Mrs. Richardson was the principal speaker for the afternoon, and in a most inspiring address, told about the patriotic projects and the general work of the state and national societies. An encouraging report of the approved schools and of the chapter extension in Oregon was given; the great need for adequate national defense or "peace insurance," was stressed and the danger of the spread of radicalism was pointed out. Continued interest and cooperation in the society's many worthwhile activities was asked. Mrs. Richardson was unanimously endorsed by the chapter as a candidate for the office of vice-president-general.

Mrs. Patterson, in a few words, told of the things needed at the pioneer cabin. She said that about 2600 persons have visited the memorial during the past year and an enjoyable and many beautiful and historic souvenirs were given.

Mrs. Edwards spoke in the interest of the student loan fund, which has helped and is now helping many young people to complete their education. A group of lovely songs, "I Pitch My Lonely Caravan" by Burl, "I Heard 'Twas at Evening" by Cadman, and "Come Back Along With Me," were presented by Miss Grace Burnett, accompanied by Miss Burgess.

Besides the honor guest were Mrs. G. A. Johnson, organizing regent at Grants Pass, and Miss Cramer from the same city; Miss Barnes, a member of the Sierra chapter at Berkeley, Cal.; Mrs. Gillings and Mrs. Fyfe, Mrs. Lewis Ulrich and Miss Jane Smedley had charge of luncheon arrangements and assisted Mrs. Perry, who, with Mrs. Wilson Walt, poured at the tea following the meeting.

Mrs. Richardson and her party spent the week-end in Medford, and on Saturday evening Mrs. M. M. Morris, regent of Crater Lake chapter, graciously entertained for their pleasure at dinner at the Hotel Medford, with the chapter's ex-regents as guests. On Sunday a trip to Oregon Caves was enjoyed with Mrs. B. G. Harding.

P. A. T. GOLF PLAY IN SEMI FINALS FOR 1933 TROPHY

The P. A. T. golf tournament at the Medford Golf club has been reduced to the semi-finals, with the following fighting it out for the 1933 trophy: Don Clark (8) vs. Jack Kirk (18); T. Slater Johnston (16) vs. F. West (20).

The numbers in parentheses are the handicaps, this being a handicap tournament. Don Clark will have to give Kirk nine strokes on the 18 holes, and Johnston will have to give West three strokes.

There is more interest than usual in this year's tournament, for all the matches have been close, and the semi-finals also promise to be close—there is no outstanding performer with anything like a clinch, thanks to the excellent work of the handicap committee.

Yesterday Lyle Wilcox gave Don Clark a tough battle in the quarter-finals, squaring the match on the 18th, after being two down; but he smoothed his lie shot in the deep rough on the play-off, and Clark, straight down the course, won easily. Clark had to give Wilcox two strokes.

On Saturday George Roberts gave Kirk another close battle, the two being all square on the 18th. On the next hole, however, when Roberts grabbed a perfect par, Kirk with his drive in the rough, put his mashie shot within 15 inches of the pin and dropped a birdie. This ended the match, Kirk ending the 18th two up.

Leonard Pierce was matched to play West in the quarter-finals, but was obliged to leave town, and therefore defaulted to the Standard Oil mashie wielder.

The semi-finals will have to be finished before Sunday night, and the finals of 36 holes will be played the next week-end.

LADIES' TOURNAMENT OPENS THIS WEEK

The annual ladies' tournament will start Wednesday of this week at the Medford Golf club, with a qualifying round. This will be a scratch tournament to determine the best woman player in the organization. Mrs. Jack Thompson is the present holder. Mrs. Dave Wood, former ladies' champion, is hoped to give her a run for the money this year, and there are others who may spring a surprise. Women members intending to enter should get in touch with Jack Hueston at the club as soon as possible.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO PLAY CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF!

DENSMORE SHUTE—Britons gasped and gaped when he won the 1933 British Open over St. Andrews' deceptive fairways and angry bunkers. Golf prophets say Shute will line up with Golf Immortals. Answering a question, Shute recently said: "I have tried all the brands, and long ago found that Camels are milder, and what is even more important to any golfer, they do not jangle the nerves."

TOMMY ARMOUR—Often called "Wizard of the Irons," Armour has won a flock of championships, including the U. S. Open in 1927, the P. G. A. in 1930, the British Open in 1931. Tommy knows his golf and his cigarettes. "What do I think of Camels? They are my brand and have been for years. I smoke a lot but I must be sure that my nerves are healthy and my head is clear—that's why I prefer Camels."

GENE SARAZEN—This great golfer began his winning ways in 1922 when he became U. S. Open Champion. He has been a consistent tournament winner ever since. This year he won his third P. G. A. Championship. On the subject of cigarettes Sarazen says: "I agree with Shute and Armour—I smoke Camels, too. They always taste good—and they never interfere with my nerve control."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels. Men and women whose work and play demand healthy nerves and level heads prefer Camels. Active people agree that they can smoke these fine-flavored, milder cigarettes without fear of jangling their nerves. Another thing about active people—they are pretty generally steady smokers... And, as anyone who smokes Camels will tell you, you can smoke as many of these cigarettes as you want—and never have a "cigarette" aftertaste. The last cigarette at night tastes as good as the first in the morning, if you smoke Camels. Try a package of Camels today... Enjoy the superior flavor of their costlier tobaccos. If you are a steady smoker you will appreciate the fact that Camels never get on your nerves, never tire your taste. IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. You will find Camels rich in flavor and delightfully mild. NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES... NEVER TIRE YOUR TASTE
