FARM STRIKE SEEKS LABOR'S AID

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—These current stock market hearings have not been very sensational because the Wall streeters have found out the secret of how to act before senate committees.

The Mitchells and the Morgans came down here last spring and tried to talk their way through alone. It did not work very well.

The new troop of witnesses is working an inside system which they very effectively ease the spanking they are getting.

The private banker, Clarence Dillon, worked it so well that the committee patted him on the back when he left and told him what a good fellow he was.

Flowers
The secret of Dillon's success was his disarming approval of what the committee was doing. Prosecutor Pecca could pick no fights with him.

Mr. Dillon believed that all corporations should be made to publish truthful statistics concerning their financial condition instead of the crudely evasive statements they publish now. That happens to be one of the outstanding things the committee is working for.

It brought smiles or words of approval from all the committee members. That one was Senator Cowles who growled about "flowers being distributed around here," and left.

Murder
The technique of Albert H. Wiggin was even more cooperative.

As one was remarked to Pecca, his questions were generally something like this: "Now, Mr. Wiggin, before you committed this murder, if you did commit murder, you probably dismembered the victim."

And Mr. Wiggin would generally nod his head and answer meekly: "Yes, I probably did."

"That's fine," Mr. Pecca would say, starting the question all over again. It left no room for quarreling or fighting, but only for quarreling about whether you could really call it murder or manslaughter.

Just where the Wall streeters found out about this way of doing it is hard to say. Matthew Brush was the only witness to see the little by-play and he escaped unscathed. It is probable that his experience furnished the background for the new deal in Wall street witness.

But what is probably more important is the fact that the new witness had the shrewdness to employ skilled publicity men to advise them. In that they were following a tendency of the new deal itself, where no department is without good publicity advice.

Arrangement
Fals of Ferdinand Pecca say he will get Mr. Roosevelt's appointment as federal district attorney in New York if he loses out in the city election.

FIERY CHIEFTAIN FLAYS NEW DEAL IN FIRST APPEAL

Extent Of Support Unknown As Restrictions Planned — Hope To Enlist All Classes.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Milo Reno, president of the National Farmers' Holiday association, tonight carried his plea for support of a national farm strike, which started at noon today, to the doors of industrial labor.

Announcing his departure to Chicago for a conference on Monday with A. F. Whitney of Cleveland, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Reno said that "every effort would be made to enlist the moral support of all other groups of society."

To the cause of the non-buying, non-selling strike, the fiery holiday leader summoned the nation's 30,000,000 farm population from New York to California and Gulf to Canada.

F. D. R. Urges Co-operation
President Roosevelt called for the "spirit of co-operation" of colonial days in accepting an honorary degree from Washington college at Chestertown, Md. Cognizant of the strike movement, the president indicated he might have an important statement in an address tomorrow night.

In what numbers farmers would join in the holiday movement or stick by the federal government's relief program, was not known tonight.

Letter Campaign
Appealing for support from members and non-members of the holiday association alike, Reno asserted the strike was a battle to determine "whether the farmer shall become a peasant, the mental slave of the users of the industrialists," or retain the independence "inherited from his fathers."

In a letter to the state association presidents, Reno advised that the "schools, churches, civic institutions, labor groups can be informed, not only as to the basic demands of the holiday members, and can be attained only by the co-operation in strike of every farmer, its sponsors assert. That return includes interest, expenses and other charges."

Revolt Center Quiet
In Sioux City, 13 months ago the center of farm strike troubles in which one trucker was killed, all was quiet today. County holiday association leaders said they had not been officially notified of the strike, and would not act until they had heard from Reno.

Nebraska's holiday president, H. C. Parmenter, conferred with associates at Omaha to plan a curtailment of that city's milk supply. Picketing would be used, he said, "unless we have the proper co-operation."

Although Governor William Langer's wheat embargo in North Dakota remained nominally in effect, railroads continued to transport wheat from the state. Sheriffs, ordered to enforce the ban on grain shipping, await formal instructions.

From Nebraska came Gov. Charles Bryan's prediction that the strike might obtain higher produce prices in shorter time than the federal government's program. He sought assurance, however, from holiday leaders that the movement would not tolerate violence.

Ohio holiday officials indicated their intention to meet within two weeks to determine a course of action. New York dairy farmers planned to meet Sunday to consider a strike, asserting that, if called, it would be in co-operation with the holiday association.

Governor Proclaims Jubilee

Governor Julius L. Meier signing the proclamation designating Medford and Jacksonville as host cities for the Oregon Diamond Jubilee Celebration to be held next June, with E. C. (Jerry) Jerome, general chairman of the celebration, looking on.

The official proclamation of Governor Julius L. Meier, designating Medford and Jacksonville as location for the state-wide celebration of Oregon's seventy-fifth birthday in 1934, was received by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. The celebration will be held in June. The governor's proclamation reads:

STATE OF OREGON
Executive Department
Whereas, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the admission of Oregon to the Union occurs on the 14th day of February, 1934, and

Whereas, an appropriate observance of this anniversary will be conducive to a true appreciation of the history of our great state and the outstanding contribution of its founders, and

Whereas, the cities of Medford and Jacksonville have, by action of the state legislative assembly, been named as sponsors for the celebration of this event,

Now Therefore, in conformity to the provisions of House Joint Resolution No. 10 of the thirty-seventh state legislative assembly, I hereby designate the cities of Medford and Jacksonville, Oregon, as official host cities for Oregon's Diamond Jubilee Celebration, and urge the members of the Oregon Historical society, the pioneers of the state and their families, and the residents of Oregon generally to attend and participate in this celebration.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Oregon to be here to affixed on this, the 18th day of October A. D. 1933.

JULIUS L. MEIER.

LAND SHARKS AT BONNEVILLE SITE SCORED BY ICKES
Speculation And Profiteering Moves Attacked — First Scheme Thwarted — Muscle Shoals Lesson Recalled

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A new threat of land speculation in the vicinity of large projects to be financed with federal funds tonight brought a sharp attack on "land sharks" from Secretary Ickes of the interior department.

The public works administration, which is headed by Ickes, recently allotted $22,250,000 with which the dam will be started.

Just before this allotment was made Ickes called a halt on several allocations for private housing corporations where it had been found that land speculators in anticipation of development had obtained options on property in the vicinity. He then warned that the federal government would not allow funds in any territory where land speculation was discovered.

Speculation And Profiteering Moves Attacked — First Scheme Thwarted — Muscle Shoals Lesson Recalled

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A new threat of land speculation in the vicinity of large projects to be financed with federal funds tonight brought a sharp attack on "land sharks" from Secretary Ickes of the interior department.

The public works administration, which is headed by Ickes, recently allotted $22,250,000 with which the dam will be started.

Just before this allotment was made Ickes called a halt on several allocations for private housing corporations where it had been found that land speculators in anticipation of development had obtained options on property in the vicinity. He then warned that the federal government would not allow funds in any territory where land speculation was discovered.

The secretary said tonight he had been asked by senators and congressmen to issue a proclamation that no electricity would be furnished at profiteering prices. His legal department had informed him, however, that such a proclamation would be beyond his authority and would have no beneficial effect.

"I would do anything in my power to spike the guns of these predatory land brigands," he said. "I sincerely regret that it is not possible for me summarily to halt the program of these land sharks."

Recalling a similar boom in the vicinity of Muscle Shoals, Ickes said: "Muscle Shoals should furnish a lesson to the unwary. Thousands were induced to purchase land there on the representation that it would vastly increase in value. It has not and will not, and neither will the land in the vicinity of the Bonneville project."

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Senator Huey P. Long, came to Shreveport today in the private railroad car of the Couch brothers, railroad and utilities magnates, and at a bridge dedication urged the redistribution of wealth.

Long came here on a continuation of his stump tour of the state in behalf of seven new taxes with the proceeds of which he has promised additional support for state public schools and property tax relief for small home owners. His reference to the Roosevelt program and the NRA were less harsh than on previous occasions earlier in the week when sarcastic descriptions of the blue eagle campaign drew boos and heckling from his audiences.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Senator Huey P. Long today was challenged by a war veteran and a stock exchange president on statements he made at Franklinton two days ago in sponsoring new taxes for Louisiana.

Will P. Candier, thrice commander of the Lafayette, La., post of the American Legion said he resented Long's purported statement that "most" of the men serving in the United States army were "dragged in by the hair of the head," and asked the senator if he would repeat the statement before a called meeting of the Lafayette post.

Candier also addressed an appeal to State Commander Larry Fox of the Legion in which he described the purported Long statement as "an insult to every patriotic man who served his country." He asked the Legion to make a formal answer.

Speaking to a reporter before a department of justice agent, Geraldine said "Kelly was always playing games with me," while she was touring the country with the desperado and his wife, making contacts and acting as a "front" for the pair.

"He was a jolly good fellow. He and Mrs. Kelly bought me pretty clothes. They bought this dress, see?" she said, turning to display her neatly-filled sweater suit.

JAPAN WAR POMP TO TEST WEAPONS, GIRD FOR SOVIET

TOKYO, Oct. 21. (Sunday)—(AP)—Emperor Hirohito departed by special train this morning to assume personal direction of the army's annual maneuvers, conducted this year on the shores of the Sea of Japan, the section of the homeland closest to Russia in Asia.

The army has not announced the strategic problems expected to be solved by the maneuvers, but marked interest has been displayed in the site chosen. Fukuji Prefecture is nearest on Japanese shores to Vladivostok, and where a Soviet army might be expected to attempt a landing in case of a Russo-Japanese war.

It is known that the army plans to test many of the new weapons it is forging in its ambitious arms development plan, airplanes, tanks, anti-aircraft defenses and motorized artillery.

Underlying the maneuvers campaign is the desire of army leaders to obtain approval of the cabinet and parliament for the largest military estimates in Japan's history in the 1934-35 budget.

These estimates, according to authoritative sources, amount to at least $20,000,000 yen, nearly 50 per cent larger than the appropriations for the present fiscal year. They include the costs of a huge program to provide new weapons and a bountiful supply of munitions.

AL SMITH DAY AT FAIR RAINED OUT

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Although "Al Smith day" at the world's fair was rained out, the guest of honor took an indoor bow at the exposition and declared Monday would do as well.

Smith accepted the streaming day, which prevented the public appearance he was scheduled to make, with good humor. The outdoor festivities were postponed until Monday, when he will speak to the exposition crowds and when a brown derby, the Smith symbol, will get any weaver through the gates free.

LENIENCY GIVEN A TRIPLE SLAYER

MOUNT VERNON, Wash., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Henry Cassidy, 49, was convicted tonight of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of his wife, his brother Michael, and his friend Edward Bennett, but the jury returned a recommendation against the death penalty.

STATE'S DEFENSE WALL ENDS TROY VICTORY STRING

Warburton Fails To Shine As Franklin Stars In Mighty Contest — Coach Jones Aililless.

MULTNOMAH CIVIC STADIUM, Portland, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A battling, bruising brood of Beavers from Oregon State college gnawed and whittled at the mighty Trojan horse of Troy here today, and out-tumbled the Trojans of Southern California to submit to a nothing to nothing tie. It was the first time in 24 starts the Trojans had not left the field victorious.

A shouting and breathless crowd of 20,000 saw the Beavers turn back the best of the Trojans could offer in the Pacific coast conference game, and saw them achieve it, phenominally, without making a single substitution. The eleven Orangemen to start were the eleven Orangemen to finish, each with sixty full minutes of play to his credit.

There was no alibi forthcoming from Troy. Coach Howard Jones, "head man" of Southern California, had only praise for the eleven men who alone held his crunching, heavy line and who destroyed all the aerial and line plays his fast backs could offer.

No Troy Alibi
"Oregon State fully deserved the tie score," he said. "While we're disappointed that the Trojans winning streak of 25 consecutive games was halted, we at least had the satisfaction of not losing."

He enthusiastically praised Coach Lon Stiner for having developed such a wonderful team in his first season as head mentor at Oregon State, and the red-headed Franklin for his all-around ability at left half and especially for his alert passing defense to which Jones attributed largely his team's failure to score.

Although the Trojans were on the offensive most of the time after the first period, the Beaver forward wall was waiting and ready. Its back field was alert and punishing whenever the visitors knocked desperately at the goal line door.

"White Lightning" Grounded
Time after time the highly touted and respected Warburton, slippery quarterback for the southerners was stopped for no gain or thrown for a loss.

Early in the third quarter Probst, Trojan fullback, smashed through center and dodged his way 27 yards to the Oregon State 23 for the longest run of the game. That drive was halted however, when Franklin, Oregon State's sensational left half, intercepted Clark's pass on the goal line and ran it out to his own thirteen.

Aside from a smashing, quick forward wall that got the jump consistently on the heavier Trojan line, it was the red-headed half, Norman Franklin who time after time put

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 20.—Vice President Garner, Postmaster General Farley, all the Democrats in Washington that amount to anything, Governor Ferguson and everybody in Fort Worth are today at the opening of racing and to attend the Amon Carter dinner.

Twenty or thirty thousand people at a beautiful race track in a state where the horse was responsible for making it what it is, is a lovely sight. Texas is full of Democrats, full of resources and full of confidence.

LIQUOR REVENUE PLANS SHAPE AS REPEAL IMPENDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—With an eye toward repeal that officials believe imminent, the administration is drafting its tax program in the expectation of receiving a minimum of $500,000,000 in taxes from distilled liquors during the first year of legal sale.

This gross income, however, would be offset by an automatic reduction of $227,000,000 now collected through special taxes that would end with prohibition.

The raise the amount the program calls for would require a tax on domestic liquor ranging between $2.50 and $5.00 a gallon. The domestic tax now stands at $1.10 a gallon. Representative Hill of Washington, chairman of the house ways and means sub-committee which begins a study Monday of revenue legislation, said today that a tax of $2.90 a gallon appeared to be about as high as the committee could go with safety to prevent bootlegging and run runners from underlining.

The import tax, now fixed at $5 a gallon, plus the domestic tax of $1.10, is to be the subject of considerable further study and will be finally fixed on the basis of evidence to be presented in the full ways and means committee's sessions after December 1. In official quarters, however, it was believed that the import tax probably would be reduced rather than raised.

POLLY MORAN FILM FUNNY LADY, WED

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Polly Moran, of the screen, otherwise Pauline Teresa Moran, and Martin T. Malone, Los Angeles attorney, were married here last afternoon by Justice of the Peace Frank M. Ryan.

They were attended by Patrick J. Conroy, the actress' attorney, and William Ruyman, university classmate of Malone. Both Miss Moran and Malone gave their ages as "more than 21."

WORLD ECONOMIC PEACE SIGHTED IN SOVIET OVERTURE

(By The Associated Press)
News of impending Russo-American negotiations looking to reestablishment of formal relations and Germany's formal resignation from the League dominated the European scene Saturday.

In Russia, as in other countries, President Roosevelt's overture to Moscow was hailed as a significant peace move and as the forerunner of a changed setup.

The League secretariat received the Reich's notice of withdrawal and informed Berlin that the resignation was dependent upon the fulfillment of Germany's international obligations.

Other major developments were: GENEVA—International circles considered probable course in disarmament now that Germany has left, but came to no definite conclusion.

VIENNA—Chancellor Dollfus, leader of the fight against the Hitlerites, caused the detention of a Nazi prince and princess on charges of fomenting a Hitlerite conspiracy against Austria.

One of Dollfus' major aides Prince Strahemburg, was attacked by a former Austrian cabinet member for his "fumbling fascism."

PARIS—Premier Edouard Daladier, whose downfall has been predicted on a budget-balancing and anti-deflation program, will give a "last-stand" appeal before the chamber of deputies Sunday.

IOWA EXECUTIVE KIDNAP TARGET

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Reports that he may have been the subject of a kidnap plot have reached Governor Clyde L. Herring, the executive revealed today. Governor Herring added he viewed the matter lightly.

The governor said the purported plot was reported to him about a week ago and that he had been under guard of a state agent for several days.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Soviet Russia has sent five military airplanes as a gift to Turkey on the occasion of the republic's tenth anniversary.
