

3-DAY SCHOOL FOR FRUIT AND BERRY GROWERS SLATED

Small fruit and berry growers of Jackson county will have opportunity this month to learn about the latest developments in this important Oregon industry and to exchange ideas with the fellow growers at a short course in small fruit culture inaugurated by the horticultural department at Oregon State college. County Agent L. P. Wilcox has been notified of the details of the three-day school to be held at Corvallis, October 26 to 28, inclusive.

Some years have elapsed since a similar short course has been offered at the college and in the meantime much new information has been gathered by the scientists and field men connected with the experiment station and extension service, says County Agent Wilcox. A prominent place on the program will be given to George W. Walden, a specialist in plant breeding investigations, who succeeded George M. Darrow in active charge of the Pacific northwest investigations at Corvallis.

Those who attend the short course will hear about the progress in finding a better strawberry for the north-west to meet the needs of the preserving trade, as well as varieties resistant to crinkle and other strawberry diseases. Prospects in red raspberry breeding, and the possibilities and limitations of the Youngberry, are also to be discussed, along with latest information on the blackberries, huckleberries, gooseberries, and grapes and the like.

The United States department of agriculture recognizes the Pacific northwest as probably the premier berry growing country in the world and has concentrated much of the investigational work in the United States at Corvallis, where the state experiment station affords facilities and co-operative research. This arrangement is of exceptional advantage to Oregon berry growers, says County Agent Wilcox, and it is to help them profit by this federal and state work that the short course is arranged.

The dates set are coming week and at Oregon State college and the program is arranged to end Saturday noon before the Washington State-O. S. C. game.

NURSERY IMPORTS BRINGS PROTEST

The board of directors of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting last Friday, went on record as being very definitely opposed to the importation of nursery stock, bulbs and other such horticultural products in this country. It was announced yesterday.

The federal bureau of plant quarantine has called a hearing in Washington, D. C. for October 25, at which time a revision of federal quarantine order No. 37 will be considered, which order relates to the importation of foreign nursery products.

The Chamber of Commerce has written Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Senator Charles L. McNary protesting any change in federal quarantine No. 37 that may let down the bars to foreign nursery stock and foreign pests and diseases. The chamber directors believe that our nurserymen who have spent years in building up an industry which is worth millions of dollars, will be wiped out by an influx of products produced by cheap labor and the protest to Senator McNary and Secretary Wallace was the outcome.

50 NEW MEMBERS INDUCTED FRIDAY INTO EAGLE NEST

With State President D. D. Hall in attendance, over 50 new candidates were initiated into the Fraternal Order of Eagles Friday night, it was announced by Virgil Gillette, secretary of the localerie. The initiatory service was one of the most colorful which has ever been conducted by the Eagles since its inception eight years ago, and both the candidates and members were very much impressed by the way in which State President Hall conducted the work.

Visiting Eagles were present from Roseburg, Klamath Falls, Yreka, Ashland, and Grants Pass, and the localerie had the largest attendance which has ever turned out for a meeting in its history.

The Eagles in Medford have been conducting a membership campaign for the past three weeks, and it is reported by officials of the organization that the membership has doubled. It is expected to carry on with the campaign for a few weeks more and officers of the organization confidently believe that 500 new members, at least, will be enrolled. A resolution was unanimously adopted pledging the support of the Eagles to the Chamber of Commerce and city officials, and plans are now under way for members of the organization to repaint all the parking stripes on the sidewalks of the city.

It is also announced from now on the Eagles will carry out a program of civic activities in addition to working on those objectives which have always been the program of the national organization.

It was announced that in the near future a food and clothing drive will be given in Medford where no one will be allowed to purchase tickets with money, but the price of admission will consist of food and clothing which will be distributed to the needy in Medford and the surrounding territory.

The program was extended by Bert Stockwell, mayor of Grants Pass, inviting all visiting members and the Medforderie to a meeting which is to be held in Grants Pass next Wednesday evening. An invitation was also extended from a delegation of Ashland Eagles inviting all members and friends to a meeting to be held in Ashland next Thursday evening.

Plans were made to arrange for athletic entertainment such as boxing and wrestling which will be held not less than once a month in the future. It is the intention to have the first boxing match a week from Monday night, on October 30.

It was also announced that there is to be a huge dance and entertainment on Halloween night at which time the Lumberjacks will furnish the music.

After the meeting all members and their friends were entertained at a banquet which was held in the basement of the Armory at which time many of our public officials addressed the members.

SMALL BOY HURT IN WHEEL CRASH

Peter Andrew Prinz, age 6, suffered a break in the small bone of his right leg Friday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock when he was struck by the automobile which V. O. Gillette of 579 Franquette was driving.

According to city police who investigated the collision, Peter, with another child, was running across the street at Sunrise court on South Riverside when they were struck by the car traveling south on the highway.

The children were going across the street to pick up some walnuts, they said.

AGED MAN HURT BY FALL ON AX

W. W. Willis, 75, of Perist was brought to Medford last night in a serious condition from loss of blood, resulting from an axe wound just above the right ear, received when he stumbled on a mountain trail and fell on the implement.

He was in an unconscious condition when brought to the office of a local physician and was transferred in an ambulance to the Sacred Heart hospital, where his condition was slightly improved late last night.

Mr. Willis was carrying the axe on his shoulder when he stumbled. The blade cut a small slash in his head, which was not thought serious until relatives found all efforts to stop the blood flow futile. They then started to Medford with the injured man, who suffered several severe hemorrhages on the trip. His clothing was saturated with blood when he reached this city. Diagnosis showed a severed artery. Blood transfusion was thought necessary, but the elderly man began to rally at a late hour and his recovery was expected by the attending physician.

The accident had occurred about 12:30 yesterday afternoon. It was 5 o'clock when Mr. Willis arrived in Medford.

AGED ROCK OWNED BY PHOENIX WOMAN

Claiming honors as the oldest thing in Medford yesterday, some fossilized rock, brought in by Mrs. Donna Grafia of the Phoenix district, was on display at the Chamber of Commerce. Its age, Mrs. Grafia stated, has been estimated by geologists at between 180 and 200 million years.

The rock was found in Douglas county on the E. R. Lutman property and was brought to Phoenix by Norman Anderson.

40 Et 8 Election to Be Held Next Tuesday

Mrs. Halley Suffers Slight Foot Injury

WORKER IN ERROR SIPS POISON FOR WATER, END NEARS

Walter Hart, laborer of the Table Rock district, who is approximately 40 years of age, was in a critical condition at the Sacred Heart hospital last night from poisoning, caused by the accidental drinking of a bicarbonate of mercury preparation, which he mistook for water.

Wednesday, according to the report made here, Hart, while working at the Table Rock orchard, took a drink of the preparation used to cure blight. Discovering his mistake, he forced the fluid from his throat by vomiting and thought his system cleaned of the poison. Friday he became violently ill and was brought to the local hospital. Little hope for his recovery was reported by the attending physician last night. There had been no change in his condition since arrival at the hospital.

WATER AWARDS TO JACKSON PLACERS

SALM, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Placer mining projects in Jackson and Josephine counties resulted in large applications for water appropriations filed with the state engineer the past week.

C. M. Williams and others of Rogue River asked for 10 second-feet of water from Ditch creek, tributary of Pleasant creek; Hugh C. Ingle of Gold Hill requested two second feet of water from a branch of Red Gulch and nearby creeks; and Frank Marvel and Fred Bunch of Rogue River asked for five second feet of water from Dixie gulch, all for placer mining in Jackson county.

Grover & Hale of Grave creek, asked for four second feet of water from the south and west forks of Taylor creek for mining purposes in Josephine county.

GLEEMEN EXTEND BARGAIN PRICES ON ALL CONCERTS

In order to carry out its program of activities and civic work, the Medford Gleemen will offer for sale during Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week, season tickets which will entitle the holder to attend two future concerts with two of their friends, it was announced by R. W. Frame, Gleemen president.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, W. F. Isaacs was selected to appoint a general committee to conduct the sale of tickets, and this committee, composed of Mrs. Oliver Overmeyer, general chairman, Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Mrs. C. E. Kunz, R. W. Frame, George Henselman, James Stevens, and W. F. Isaacs, met yesterday in order to perfect plans for conduct of the ticket sale.

"There can be no doubt as to the value of the Gleemen to Medford and southern Oregon," stated Mr. Isaacs at the meeting, "and the work which this singing organization did in conducting the granges last fall cannot be over-emphasized. It has made the inter-city visitation and agricultural committees' work much easier and Medford is justly proud of the Gleemen," he continued.

It is the plan of the committee to sell the season tickets at $2.00 each, which entitles the holder and two friends to attend both concerts which will be conducted this fall. In addition to recognizing the sterling qualities of the Medford Gleemen, it is believed that the committee will meet with a ready response in the sale of tickets, due to the fact that the Civic Music Association is discontinued this year, and as far as is known, no concerts other than the one planned for the Gleemen are so far scheduled.

The committee will ask the cooperation of all organizations in the city, in order to make the sale a thorough success, and county-wide in its scope. Members of the board of directors of the Medford chamber of commerce have pledged themselves to support the activities of the Gleemen as have many other citizens.

Through the courtesy of George Hunt, the Gleemen will render a few numbers next Thursday evening at the Craterian theatre, the time of which will be announced later.

FLUHRER BAKERY VISITED BY 8000 ON OPENING DAY

Over eight thousand persons visited the Fluhrer Bakery, Inc., at the formal opening Saturday, in the new building located on Holly street between Sixth and Main streets. Coffee and wafers were served each guest who inspected the most modern bakery in southern Oregon.

Congratulatory bouquets were received by the bakery from business establishments in southern Oregon in honor of the opening of the new building, which has doubly expanded the capacity of production.

In order that the many people who called at the bakery might know what each machine was used for, cardboard labels were placed on each, with a brief explanation.

The children had a grand time at the penny scrambles. Henry W. Fluhrer, manager, reported, O. A. "Wicky" Wicklein acted as master of ceremonies for the feature, which blocked traffic on Holly street for a time.

John A. Fluhrer, president of the company, and founder of the firm in 1922, was able to visit the bakery for the opening.

Mr. Fluhrer expressed his appreciation and gratefulness to the many Medford firms who took part in the opening, and showed their interest in the affair. He also invited the public to return at some time when the machines were in operation.

Five girls were employed in the bake shop, and three served coffee and wafers. Over a hundred gallons of coffee had been served at five o'clock.

Completion of the building expected just as soon as the tile for the front, and lettering and floodlights for the side are received.

Among the new products to be featured at the new bakery in the near future, Mr. Fluhrer said, is pretzels, for which machines will arrive in a short time.

CANNING CONCERN CLOSES SEASON

Approximately $20,000 was paid out during the past two months to employees of the Rogue River Canning company to be spent in local trade channels, according to the annual report of the company, released yesterday by Hugh Mouton, H. M. Cox and Mrs. Ralph Boutelle, manager.

Between 800 and 1000 tons of pears will have been canned by the end of this week, the report stated, an amount equivalent to 70,000 No. 25 cans. Twelve cars were exported to England, Scotland and Ireland, the number being slightly decreased this year by a greater domestic demand for the fruit.

Chicago is now the largest distributor of the product, although two car loads were shipped as far east as Boston. Two cars are also going to San Francisco.

Mrs. Armstrong, who has worked for the company since the day it started 20 years ago, is still working with the organization. Mrs. Mabel Grigby is also still with the company after 17 years' service.

TRUCKMEN BLANKS HERE FOR SIGNERS

George B. Barton of Medford attended the session, and yesterday received from Commissioner Thomas a number of applications to be filled out by truck owners. These blanks will be at the Gates Auto company on North Riverside avenue, in charge of George Gates.

Under the arrangements made at the meeting, the truck owners will sign up as contract carriers, make a deposit of $10 and pay one mill tax for each ton mile, payable each thirty days.

Mr. Barton stated Saturday that of the 977 trucks listed for Jackson county, approximately 75 per cent are without licenses from the public utilities commission.

Relief for truck owners is expected from the next legislature, a special session having been called for November by Governor Julius L. Meier. At the present arrangement for truck operations, the owners are requested to fill out the blanks, and send them in to Salem immediately.

JURY GIVES SMITH HORSES IN SUIT

Verdict, favoring the plaintiff in the replevin suit, filed by Corbett Smith against Ernest Goble for recovery of two horses, a bay and an iron-grey, was returned by the jury Friday, about five minutes after the jurors started deliberating.

The verdict grants Smith permanent custody of the animals and a judgment was issued by Judge W. R. Coleman in whose court the case was tried.

It orders that the plaintiff be returned the horses and recover from the defendant $25 damages and plaintiff's costs and disbursements. Goble, who bought the two horses, one bearing two KI brands, and the other Bar 6, received a bill of sale for the same from Bob Rose and his partner, Rick. His only course to come out even on the deal now is to sue the two from whom he purchased the horses.

Rose was, earlier in the year, arrested on a theft charge, involving the same horses, but the suit was dismissed in justice court. He also spent 28 days in jail on a charge of setting fires, but was not convicted.

Sound banking no more mysterious than sound business

THE FUNDAMENTALS of banking are sound—just as they are in any business. It is when there is a deviation from those principles that trouble arises. The one never failing guide to good banking is that the depositor's interests come FIRST. That is, the bank is custodian of a depositor's money and the SAFETY of that money is his major responsibility. Remember that the next time you hear a fellow grumbling that the banks keep all the money tied up and won't lend it as freely as he thinks they should.
