

DISTRUSTING DEER DEFIES RESCUE

This wild deer, a seven point buck, which fell from a cliff to a hazardous ledge, 200 feet above a dashing torrent at Watkins Glen, N. Y., spurned attempts of human beings to rescue him. Officials of the state park where he was trapped were puzzled over the best means of saving his life. (Associated Press Photo)

MARINES EMBARK ON 'PRACTICE CRUISE'

United States marines from the seventh regiment went aboard the battleship Wyoming at Quantico, Va., for what was described as a "practice cruise." It was considered possible that they might be sent to Cuba unless conditions change for the better in the troubled island republic. (Associated Press Photo)

STIFF DRILL STARTS GRID PRACTICE AT NOTRE DAME

FIRE THREATENS MOUNTAINS OF WHEAT

A quarter million bushels of wheat were poured on the ground at Grangeville, Ida., when fire struck three large grain elevators. Workers can be seen toiling in the smoke with shovels to heap the grain in piles out of reach of the flames. Eight freight cars were included in the loss. (Associated Press Photo)

TONGUE CLAMPED IN PUNISHMENT

Little 4-year-old Erwin Anderson demonstrates to W. M. Darwin, superintendent of the Sacramento, Cal., juvenile bureau how his foster mother assertedly clamped two clothespins to his tongue as punishment. The boy's tongue was swollen to twice its normal size and the foster mother, Mrs. Eva Anderson, was arrested on charges of mistreating the youngster. (Associated Press Photo)

THIRTEEN LIVE IN "BLUE EAGLE"

Four of the 13 inhabitants of Blue Eagle are shown in front of the blacksmith shop of the settlement. Years before the NRA, a government surveyor working near the Grant range in eastern Nevada discovered an eagle carved by nature on the mountainside draped in a blue haze. It was an important stage station, the first overnight stop out of Ely, 70 miles away, and was known as Blue Eagle. Left to right: Howard Sharp, Tony Bustos, Roy Sharp and Ned Allred.
